BEDFORD & SOUER,

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

The U. S. Supreme Court Passes Upon the Case of the Brownville, Ft. Kearney & Pacific R. R.

And Orders the Sale of the Road, if Necessary, to Pay the Mortgaged Bonds.

WASHINGTON, December 11.—Among the supreme court decisions announced yesterday was the case of Joseph T. Thomas, trustee, appellant, vs. the Brownville, Ft. Kearney & Pacific railroad company, et al., on an appeal from the United States circuit court, district of Nebraska. This was a suit of a foreclosure of a mortgage upon railroad property belonging at the time the mortgage was executed to the Brownville, Ft. Kearney & Pacific railroad company, but afterwards transferred by consolidation to the Nebraska railroad company. The mortgage was given to secure certain bonds issued to the construction company under a contract for building the railroad. The appellant is the trustee named in the mortgage and sues in behalf of the holders of the bonds secured by it. The defence set up is that the mortgage grew out of a fraudulent contract with the construction company, and the contract is illustrated by the Credit Mobilier case. In the court below complainants' bill was dismissed. The supreme court reverses the decree and remands the case with directions to enter a decree in favor of complaintants for $205,947 with interest. If the sale of the road should be necessary this sum must be paid out pro rata on the bonds secured by the mortgage on their being produced and cancelled or recommended for cancellation, provided this roads sells for so much.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH.

Another Bill to Worry the Western Union.

WASHINGTON, December 11.—A bill has been introduced by Representative Sumner, of California, for the establishlishment of a government postal telegraph system. It directs the postmaster-general to proceed at once for the construction of lines, provides for the issue of bonds not exceeding $25,000,000, in denominations of $50, redeemable in 20 years and payable in 30 years, bearing interest at the rate of 3 per cent, the proceeds of the sale of which bonds shall be applied to the construction and maintenance of telegraph lines. It provides also that the actual work of building the lines be begun as early as practicable and nearly as possible simultaneously to the following places, viz: Portland, Me., Seattle, Boston, Portland, Oregon, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, D. C., Richmond, Va., Newbern, N. C., Charleston, S. C., Savannah, Jacksonville, Mobile, New Orleans, Galveston, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Minneapolis, Omaha, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake City, Yreka, Eureka, Sacramento, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego, and shall continue along the routes selected by the postmaster general until all postoffices of the country south of the northernmost boundary of Washington territory, having a population of 400 or more, have been connected. It establishes the rate to be paid for transmission of ordinary messages at 10 cents each ten words or less, exclusive of address and signature, and 5 cents each additional ten words or less. The rate for press matter is 20 cents per hundred words. It directs the postmaster general to enter into arrangements with the proprietors of foreign telegraph wires and cables for transmission of foreign messages, and provides also for the adjustment of money order system to the new system of postal telegraphy and for the survey of a cable route between some point in Washington territory and Sitka, Alaska.

A Lose Bridegroom.

BATESVILLE, Ark., December 11.—There is great excitement because of the sudden disappearance, Saturday night, of Wm. Byers, a prominent citizen and editor of The North Arkansas Pilot. He was to be married next week. It is believed he committed suicide and the bayou is being dragged for his remains.

Praying For O'Donnell.

CHICAGO, December 11.—A mass meeting was held on the west side last night, and resolutions passed to the effect that as Patrick O'Donnell, an ex-soldier and citizen of the United States, is under sentence of death for killing of James Carey, they ask the government of the United States to take such action as it may properly with energy and earnestness to secure from the English government such interposition as will prevent the execution of the sentence which is believed to be unjust, and that senators and representatives in congress be urgently asked to use their best endeavors to secure this action.

For You, Madam,

Whose Complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of Complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

The Bonded Period.

WASHINGTON, December 11.—Representative Willis of Kentucky will shortly lay before the house a number petitions from distillers, bankers and merchants, asking an extension of the bonded period for two years upon all distilled spirits remaining in distillery warehouse, December 1st. The petitions is signed by business men of Kentucky, Cincinnati, New York, Boston, Chicago, Omaha, Denver and members of the western export association representing 78 distilleries of the northwest.

Fraudulent Insurance.

MILWAUKEE, December 11.—The Sentinel will, to-morrow, publish an expose of alleged frauds perpetrated by the Iowa Great Eastern Mutual association, of Anamosa, Iowa, the agents of which have been doing business in Wisconsin without license. The company was formed fifteen months since and in Waukesha, a town of 5,000 inhabitants, have already worked up a business of $200,000. Mr. Unverse, the Chicago agent, applied to the Wisconsin commissioner of insurance for license and was refused. Policies have been issued in the main, to simple-minded people, for little or nothing, and all business done very quietly.

The Horrible Hydrophobia.

BUFFALO, December 11.—Some months since the small son of Charles Peitzel was bitten by a small boy. No attention was given to the matter. The son lately exhibited hydrophobia in a violent form. Yesterday another small brother who had been sleeping with him, although not bitten by the former, was slightly attacked by the malady, while another whom he bit in his ravings is almost as bad. The lives of both are despaired of.

He Got the Mitten.

TORONTO, December 11. — Trevelyn Ridout, a well-known barrister of this city mysteriously disappeared two months ago. To-day his body was found in High park, revolver in hand. It is supposed a rejected suit by a lady unhinged his mind.

The Boston Mayoralty.

BOSTON, December 11.—Returns from all but one precinct give Martin, republican and citizens, for mayor 27,057; O'Brien, democrat, 25,753.

Not So Bad After All.

DENVER, Col., December 11.—The loss to the Colorado Telephone company by the recent storm will not exceed $3,000. The company is rapidly getting in shape again.

CLEAR CREEK, Neb., December 11.—At 3 p. m. yesterday Horatio Tiffiny shot himself dead, two miles east of Clear Creek station, on the banks of the Platte river in Saunders county. Cause unknown.

THE STORY OF THE BOOK AGENT

He Sells Three Books to a Man Who Doesn't Want Any.

New York Journal.

The Philadelphia News says that a book agent importuned James Watson, a rich and close New York man living out at Elizabeth until he bought a book—the "Early Christian Martyrs." Mr. Watson didn't want the book, but he bought it to get rid of the agent; then taking it under his arm, he started for the train which takes him to his New York office.

Mr. Watson hadn't been gone long before Mrs. Watson came home from a neighbor's. The book agent saw her and went in and persuaded the wife to buy another copy of the same book. She was ignorant of the fact that her husband had bought the same book in the morning. When Mr. Watson came back from New York at night Mrs. Watson showed him the book.

"I don't want to see it," said Watson, frowning terribly.

"Why, husband," asked his wife.

"Because that rascally book agent sold me the same book this morning. Now we've got two copies of the same book—two copies of the 'Early Christian Martyrs,' and—"

"But, husband, we can—"

"No, we can't, either," interrupted Mr. Watson. "The man is off on the train before this. Confound it! I could kill the fellow. I—"

"Why, there he goes to the depot now," said Mrs. Watson, pointing out of the window at the retreating form of the book agent making for the train.

"But it's too late to catch him, and I'm not dressed. I've taken off my boots, and—"

Just then Mr. Stevens, a neighbor of Mr. Watson, drove by, when Watson pounded on the window-pane in a frantic manner, almost frightening the horse.

"Here, Stevens," he shouted, "you're hitched up; won't you run your horse down to the train and hold that book agent till I come? Run! Catch 'im now."

"All right," said Mr. Stevens, whipping up his hoves and tearing down the road.

"Mr. Stevens reached the train just as the conductor shouted "all aboard."

"Book agent!" he yelled, as the book agent stepped onto the train. "Book agent! hold on! Mr. Watson wants to see you."

"Watson? Watson wants to see me?" repeated the seemingly puzzled book agent. "Oh, I know what he wants! he wants to buy one of my books; but I can't miss the train to sell it to him."

"If that is all he wants I can pay for it, and take it back to him. How much is it?"

"Two dollars for the 'Early Christian Matyrs,'" said the book agent, as he reached for the money, and passed the book out through the car window.

Just then Mr. Watson arrived, puffing and blowing, in his shirt sleeves. As he saw the train pull out he was too full for utterance.

"Well, I got it for you," said Stevens; "just got it, and that's all."

"Got what?" yelled Watson.

"Why, I got the book—'Early Christian Martyrs,' and——"

"By—the—great—guns!" moaned Watson, as he placed his hand to his brow, and swooned right in the middle of the street.

Specimens of Railroad Robbery.

North Platte Telegraph.

The following letter from a Nebraskan appears in the Chicago Tribune:

I have just had a case of railroad extortion, showing the necessity of some government control of the Union Pacific. I shipped a lot of wool from Lodge Pole, Neb., about 300 miles west of Omaha, to Boston this season to a commission house. In my returns a day or two since I found the freight charged to me at over three cents a pound. Supposing it a mistake, I wrote them, asking a correction. To my surprise they sent me a railroad receipt showing it to be correct, and that freight from Nebraska to Boston was greater than from San Francisco, and freight from San Francisco to Boston was greater than from Australia to Boston via the same route, on wool, thus making wool shipped from Australia to Boston have considerably less freight charges upon it than mine from Nebraska, giving the Australia wool-grower an advantage over our Nebraska wool-growers in our Bostan market. It is impossible for words to do this subject justice. S.

The above communication demonstrates very forcibly the necessity of having the railroads controlled by law. From Lodge Pole to Boston is only a little over half the distance that it is from San Francisco to Boston, yet the railroads exact more for transportation over the shorter than they do for the longer distance. And yet the rates on through business must be very profitable when the companies who now control it can afford to subsidize the Northern Pacific railroad and the Pacific Mail Steamship companies to to the extent of $1,000,000 a year for refraining to compete for this business.

It is conceded that rates on through business is profitable. Is it not downright robbery to extort a still greater rate for half the distance, and that half the part that is most cheaply operated?

It is represented to prospective land buyers and settlers on the U. P. lands that it is to their advantage to settle on the railroad lands in Nebraska, because the facilities for getting their produce to the world's markets are so superior, but when the poor settler, after reading the glowing prospects held out to him settles on these lands, he finds, as did the writer of the above communication, that he is not permitted to enjoy any of the benefits of his nearness to markets, that the great railroad companies, by exorbitant rates, have robbed him of these benefits, and that practically the wool-grower in Western Nebraska is farther away from the Boston market than his brother wool-grower in Australia.

Nebraska has in its criminal code a law making it a felony punishable with imprisonment in the penitentiary to rob or steal to the extent of $35. Shall it be said that these greater robbers are beyond and above law.

Why the Ice Gave Out.

The Judge.

"Now," said drummer number one, as the train pulled out of Pittsburg. "I have a bottle of whiskey. Let's sit down and have a real good time. I only wish we had some sugar and ice; we could have some toddy." "I've some sugar," said drummer number two, unstrapping his valise. "And my brother has some ice," said drummer number three; "he's in the baggage car. I'll just step in and get some," and he did. The toddy was brewed and rebrewed. The whisky bottle was a large one, the sugar seemed inexhaustible, and drummer number three made as many visits to the baggage car as the occasion demanded. However, just as they were all feeling good, and were about to compound a farewell drink, number three returned empty-handed. "Very sorry boys," he remarked, "but the baggage man says if I take any more ice off my brother he won't keep."

BEAUTY SOAP!

TO keep the pores open, the oil glands and tubes active, and thus furnish an outlet for impurities in the perspiration and blood which cause humiliating blotches, blackheads, and minor skin blemishes, especially of infants; to cleanse, whiten and beautify the skin, remove tan, freckles, sunburn, and oily matter; to keep the hands soft, white and free from chaps and roughness, prevent contagious skin and scalp diseases, and to provide an exquisite skin beautifier and toilet, bath and nursery sanative, redolent with delicious flower odors and Cuticura healing Balsams, use the Cuticura Soap. Indorsed by physicians and chemists as absolutely pure and highly medicinal. Sales 1881 and 1882 1,000,000 cakes.

The Heritage of Woe.

MISERY, shame and agony, often bequeathed as a sole legacy to children by parents is neglected Scrotula. To cleanse the blood of this hereditary poison, and thus remove the most prolific cause of human suffering, to clear the skin of disfiguring Humors, Itching Tortures, Humiliating Eruptions and Loathsome Sores caused by it, to purify and beautify the skin, and restores the hair so that no trace of disease remain, Cuticura Resolvent, the new blood Purifier, diuretic and aperient, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap, the great Skin Cures and Beautifiers, are infallible.

I Had Salt Rheum

In the most aggravated form for eight years. No kind of treatment, medicine or doctors did me any permanent good. My friends in Malden know how I suffered. When I began the use of Cuticura Remedies my limbs were so raw and tender that I could not bear my weight on them without the skin cracking and bleeding, and was obliged to go about on crutches. Used the Cuticura Remedies five months, and was completely and permanently cured.

Copper Colored.

I have been afflicted with troublesome skin disease, covering almost completely the upper part of my body, causing my skin to assume a copper-colored hue. It could be rubbed off like dandruff, and at times causing intolerable itching and the most intense suffering. I have used blood purifiers, pills and other advertised remedies, but experienced no relief until I procured the Cuticura Remedies, which, although carelessly and irregularly, cured me, allaying that terrible itching, and restoring my skin to its natural color. I am willing to make an affidavit to the truth of this statement.

Sold by all druggists. Price: Cuticura, 50cts; Resolvent, $1; Soap, 25 cts. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM COR. Co., Boston Mass.

THE MORAL OF IT.

We may moralize as much as we please about pain; but the fact is, that we don't like it while it lasts, and that we want to get rid of it as soon as we can. Whether caused by rheumatism, gout, disordered liver, weak nerves, irregular kidneys, bad blood, or anything else that is just the reverse of what it should be, the sooner it is out of the system the happier we are. Whether pain is the result of imprudence or of accident, or is sent as a punishment for our sins, may be a nice question for the philosophers to argue; but people who are suffering want first to be rid of the pain, after which those who are fond of argument may argue the matter to their hearts' content.

Above all theory, argument, and philosophy, comes the delightful fact that BROWN'S IRON BITTERS drives pain away. Sufferers run no risk in trying this medicine, the only compound containing iron which carries no mischief with it. Those who have used it will tell you so; and you can try for yourself by buying a bottle of the nearest druggist.

THE NECESSITY

FOR THE SPECIALIST,

DR. H. WAGNER,

Has long been acknowledged and more so at this day than any other. The vast field of medical science is ever increasing, and its numerous branches are brought nearer and nearer to perfection, and no one man can any longer grasp them all. Hence the necessity for dividing the labor. And it is true beyond all doubt that disease, affecting the genito-urinary organs need special study more than anything else, if we would understand and know how best them properly.

DR. H. WAGNER is fully aware that there are many physicians, and some sensible people, who will condemn him for making this class of diseases a specialty, but he is happy to know that with most persons of refinement and intelligence a more enlightened view is taken of the subject, and that the physician who devotes himself to relieving the afflicted and saving them from worse than death, is no less a philanthropist and benefactor to his race than the surgeon or physician who by close application excels in any other branch of his profession. And fortunately for humanity, the day is dawning when the false philanthrophy that condemned the victims of folly or crime, like the lepers under the Jewish law, to die uncared for has passed away.

A Few Reasons

Why you should try the celebrated Dr. H. Wagner's methods of cure:

1. "Dr. H. Wagner is a natural physician."
O. S. FOWLER,
The Greatest Living Phrenologist.
"Few can excel you as a doctor."
DR. J. SIMMS,
The World's Greatest Physiognomist.
"You are wonderfully proficient in your knowledge of disease and medicines."
DR. J. MATTHEWS.

4. "The afflicted find ready relief in your presence." DR. J. SIMMS.

5. "Dr. H. Wagner is a regular graduate from Bellevue Hospital, New York city; has had very extensive hospital practice, and is thoroughly posted on all branches of his beloved science, especially on chronic diseases."
DRS. BROWNELL & EWING.

6. "Dr. H. Wagner has immortalized himself by his wonderful discovery of specific remedies for private and sexual diseases."—Virginia City Chronicle.

7. "Thousands of invalids flock to see him."—San Francisco Chronicle.

8. "The Doctor's long experience as a specialist should render him very successful."—Rocky Mountain News.

Plain Facts Plainly Spoken.

At one time a discussion of the secret vice was entirely avoided by the profession, and medical works of but a few years ago would hardly mention it.

To-day the physician is of a different opinion; he is aware that it is his duty—disagreeable though it may be—to handle this matter without gloves and speak plainly about it; and intelligent parents and guardians will thank him for doing so.

The results attending this destructive vice were formerly not understood, or not properly estimated; and no importance being attached to a subject which by its nature does not invite close investigation, it was willingly ignored.

The habit is generally contracted by the young while attending school; older companions through their example, may be responsible for it, or it may be acquired through accident. The excitement once experienced, the practice will be repeated again and again, until at last the habit becomes firm and completely enslaves the victim. Mental and nervous afflictions are usually the primary results of self-abuse. Among the injurious effects may be mentioned lassitude, dejection or irrasceibility of temper and general debility. The boy seeks seclusion, and rarely joins in the sports of his companions. If he be a young man he will be little found in company with the other sex, and is troubled with exceeding and annoying bashfulness in their presence. Lascivious dreams, emissions and eruptions on the face, etc., are also prominent symptoms.

If the practice is violently persisted in, more serious disturbances take place. Great palpitation of the heart, or epileptic convulsions, are experienced, and the sufferer may fall into a complete state of idiocy before, finally, death relieves him.

To all those engaged in this dangerous, practice, I would say, first of all, stop it at once; make every possible effort to do so; but if you fail, if your nervous system is already too much shattered, and consequently, your will-power broken, take some nerve tonic to aid you in your effort. Having freed yourself from the habit, I would further counsel you to go through a regular course of treatment, for it is a great mistake to suppose that any one may, for some time, be t every so little, give himself up to this fascinating but dangerous excitement without suffering from its evil consequences at some future time. The number of young men who are incapacitated to fill the duties enjoined by wedlock is alarmingly large, and in most of such cases this unfortunate condition of things can be traced to the practice of self-abuse, which had been abandoned years ago. Indeed, a few months' practice of this habit is sufficient to induce spermatorrhœa later years, and I have many of such cases under treatment at the present day.

Young Men

Who may be suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretions will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. WAGNER will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of seminal weakness or private disease of any kind and character which he undertakes to and fails to cure.

Middle Aged Men.

There are many at the age of 35 to 60 who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal-weakness. Dr. W. will guarantee a perfect cure in all cases and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

Relief to the Afflicted.

In medicines, as in science, the specialists are the ones who always comes to the front and accomplish great results. This remark is especially applicable to to Dr. H. Wagner, of this city. He stands at the top of his profession, and the cures he performs for the unfortunate would seem wonderful if not properly viewed in the light of scientific acquirements. He is endorsed by the most eminent of the medical faculty. His office at 343 Laramir street, where he will speedily effect a cure for the suffering of either sex, no matter how complicated their complaint.—Pomeroy's Democrat.

Chronic Complaints Require Time for a Cure.

Persons at a distance who wish to be treated by Dr. Wagner need not feel backward because of inability to visit him. If they will w to the doctor he will send a list of questions w nables him to send medicines, counsel and to thousands he has never seen. He has p in every city, town and station in Colorado well as all over the United States. See his ad this advertisement.—Denver Tribune.

Shall We Reform?

Specific remedies for all diseases is the theory practice at present of educated and experienced physicians, and in all large communities they have their specialties, to excel in which they direct their studies and practice. Dr. Wagner is a successful illustration of this modern school of specialties, and his unprecedented success in the treatment of private diseases is as wonderful as it is flattering.—Prof. J. Simms.

Those persons who need medical relief for the most delicate of diseases will find an accomplished and successful physician in the person of Dr. Wagner, No. 343 Larimer street, who is highly recommended by the medical profession at home and aboard.—Pomeroy's Democrat. Bigotry and ignorance must give way to wisdom, and the wise physician believes in letting his light shine for the glory of his fellow men. Printer's ink s the torch he can best use to guide the weary and sick one to the fountain of health. If this article should be instrumental as a "TORCHLIGH" set upon a hill to guide suffering humanity to 343 Larimer street, Denver, Colorado, it will answer the purpose for which it was written.
