

THE DAILY BEE.

Saturday Morning, Jan. 10.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Yesterday Tony Pastor's specialty company passed through Omaha eastward bound. A marriage license was issued yesterday to Miss Mary E. Frantz and Byron Millet. Counterfeit five-dollar bills on the Traders bank of Chicago, are again circulating in the city. The German edition of the illustrated supplement of the Bee can now be had at this office. The Bee made a mistake in stating that Miss Lizzy Deikes' oil painting was on exhibition at Seaman's. It was exhibited at Canfield's. The St. Mary's avenue sewer tax payers will have a special meeting Saturday night of importance in the board of trade rooms. By order of their committee. The county commissioners held a special session yesterday afternoon and took a joint trip to the poor farm for the purpose of inspection. A number of changes in the farm are contemplated. Rivalry for the affections of a wine-room fairy at the Buckingham precipitated a fight between two habitués of that place last night. The rivals were separated before a bloody climax was reached. In the county court yesterday the case of Charles Hanks, of the Post and Telegraph, vs. G. M. Hitchcock, was on trial. Mr. Hanks sues Mr. Hitchcock for an alleged unpaid sum of $400 or $500 balance on an advertising card. The Western Union telegraph operators say that if the 15 per cent. reduction contemplated by the company, is really made, they will leave their instruments and walk out of the office. The strike, it is said, will be general throughout the country. Mr. James Foster, of Chicago, is refitting Roe's old establishment near the lard refinery, and will open a new packing house for killing hogs and cattle. The establishment will open in a few days and attend, for the most part, to the local trade. Friendship lodge K. and L. of H., installed their newly elected officers last night. The members of Equity lodge, of Council Bluffs, were the visitors at the exercises connected with the ceremony. A pleasant social time was enjoyed by all in attendance. The street car company is now breaking more bulky horses on the Green line, and the passengers are again called upon to exercise the patience of Job. It is not so bad weather to wait now, and if the horse starts in twenty minutes it is all right, if a man has plenty of time. Coroner Drexel has received a letter from a law firm in Monroe, Iowa, asking details of the death of John L. Pierce, the section hand who was accidentally killed near Millard station last summer. This is probably a "feeler" for a damage suit against the railroad company. A letter has been received by Marshal Cummings from Okaloosa, Iowa, written by a woman signing herself Mrs. Wilson, asking the Marshal to send home her husband "Barjo Billy" Wilson, who is now in Omaha. Mrs. Wilson says, furthermore, that she understands that her husband has another wife in this city. A small child of Madison's, the Thirtieth street laundryman, was bitten yesterday afternoon by a vicious bulldog, belonging to one of the neighbors. The child was not seriously injured. The dog was relegated to the street by snuffing with a pistol in the hands of Officer Mike Whelan. A telegram has been received by the police authorities of this city, from Sheriff Painter, DeMolines, asking them to watch the trains closely for the arrival of two runaway girls of Des Moines. One is Mary Washington, 21 years of age, and a tall brunette, and Mary Washington, a small blonde, 18 years of age. They are supposed to have been headed for Omaha. One of the residents of south Thirtieth street came up to police headquarters yesterday and said that the Italians in the low rocky on Thirtieth and Leavenworth streets, had been again engaging in a blood-thirsty fight. He said he thought by their suspicious actions that some one had been seriously injured, if not killed. A thorough search of the premises was made, but no evidence pointing to any such tragedy, was discovered. The saloon of David Nordlinger in the old McFadden establishment is closed on a replevin writ issued from the court of Judge Bartlett. It is alleged that Nordlinger's saloon was bought by one J. F. Gabler from Stronberg, Neb. Fifty dollars was given to Nordlinger to bind the bargain, and a subsequent check on, however, and his suit in replevin is brought for the property. Col. Smythe represents J. F. Gabler and Gen. Cowin Mr. Nordlinger. Coroner Drexel has as yet received no further communication from Lincoln on the subject of the James E. Bacon mystery. It now appears that the body which was fished out of the river and which is supposed to be that of Hagen was found several miles below the city on the Iowa side of the river. The unfortunate man had been fishing with a companion, and falling overboard had been speared with a boat hook by his companion, who unsuccessfully attempted to rescue him. At the time of the recovery of the body the boat hook was found still fastened in the mutilated flesh. A Big Cap. The "Lights of London" company arrived in the city yesterday, bringing with them their special car which is used in the transportation of their large amount of scenery. The car is the largest one in this country, and was built expressly for the use of this company. It is so arranged that three large wagons can be run right into it. Upon these wagons is loaded the scenery and when the company make a stand the wagons are rolled out and hauled to the theater, and there remain until after the show, when they are again loaded and hauled back to the car, thus saving the handling of the scenery two times. The car is beautifully painted, upon one side being a good representation of London bridge by moonlight. Royal Estate Transfers. The following transfers were filed in the county clerk's office Monday and reported for Tax by the Ames' real estate agency January 8, 1885. Sarah J. Fayton and husband to William Koehfner, w. d. lot 10 in block 15, in Improvement Association add to city of Omaha, $2,000. Joseph Bell and wife to Robert B. Guild, w. d. lot 13 in block 4 in subdivision of John J. Redick's add to city of Omaha, $1,700. Also insert a clause compelling the Six Murderers Now in Jail Awaiting Trial--A Complete List of the Occupants.

A reporter of the Bee visited the county jail yesterday, and through the kindness of Jailer Miller was permitted to look through the institution and also to obtain a complete list of the prisoners now in the place. At present there are six persons in the jail charged with murder. Two of these, Scribner and Gazolo, have been in jail during several terms of court, and have not been brought to trial. Scribner was incarcerated on the 4th day of March, 1884, and has not yet had a trial. Following is a complete list of all persons in the jail and the offenses with which they are charged and also the date of their imprisonment: FOR MURDER, Henry Scribner, imprisoned on the 4th day of March, 1884. Wm. Gazolo, imprisoned on the 23d day of May, 1884. J. L. Thompson, imprisoned on the 1st day of December, 1884. Lizzie Howard, imprisoned on the 1st day of December, 1884. J. Grabbe, imprisoned on the 31st day of December, 1884. Mary Klusa, imprisoned on the 31st day of December, 1884. The last four named persons have not yet been indicted by the grand jury, and the last two named have not yet had a preliminary hearing. FOR BURGLARY, John McClelland, imprisoned December 10th, 1884. FOR GRAND LARCENY, Wiley P. Clegg, imprisoned the 26th day of November, 1884. Fred Thomas, imprisoned the 9th day of December, 1884. J. A. Gardner, imprisoned the 9th day of December, 1884. F. E. Norris, imprisoned the 20th day of November, 1884. Chas. Arlington, imprisoned the 15th day of December, 1884. Chas. Miller, imprisoned the 18th day of December, 1884. Ed Talbot, imprisoned the 16th day of December, 1884. Chas. Roberts, imprisoned the 3d day of January, 1885. FOR MAKING THREATS, Frank Burns, imprisoned the 26th day of December, 1884. W. A. Linton, imprisoned the 3d day of January, 1885. Ed Ryan, imprisoned the 3d day of December, 1884. FOR PETTY LARCENY, John Arnold, imprisoned the 28th day of November, 1884. J. H. Corbett, imprisoned the 30th day of December, 1884. Wm. Rose, imprisoned the 2d day of January, 1885. FOR EMBEZZLEMENT, Harry Fear, imprisoned the 17th day of December, 1884. George Cole, imprisoned the 27th day of December, 1884. FOR BASTARDY, Chas. Dalrymple, imprisoned from Sarpy county on the 7th day of January, 1885. FOR INSANITY, August Hessel, imprisoned on the 10th day of December, 1884. Adolphus Herman, imprisoned the 2d day of January, 1885. SUSPICIOUS PERSONS, James Kelly, imprisoned the 15th day of December, 1884. "Doc" McGuire, imprisoned the 22d day of December, 1884. George Howard, imprisoned the 22d day of January, 1885. DISTURBERS OF THE PEACE, Chas. Crowder, imprisoned the 7th day of January, 1885. Peace Talmon, imprisoned the 7th day of January, 1885. F. A. Robinson, imprisoned the 5th day of January, 1885. Pat Dolan, imprisoned the 5th day of January, 1885. UNITED STATES CASES, James Davis, imprisoned August 28th, 1884, for impersonating a United States officer. James Hughes, imprisoned December 1st for sending obscene matter through the mails. Fannie Klusa, a little girl, daughter of Mary Klusa, charged with murder, is held as a witness.

At a late meeting of the city council that body passed an ordinance requiring plumbers to give bonds in the sum of $5,000 any pay a license fee of $20 per annum for the privilege of opening the streets and alleys, for the purpose of making connections with the water works mains. A short consideration of the questions involved might be of benefit to councilmen with political aspirations. We are now required to give bonds in the sum of $500 for the privilege of making connections with the city sewer, and a license fee of $20 per annum. In this case we open a ditch from twelve to twenty-five feet deep and have it open from one to three days. In connections with the water main we dig a ditch five feet deep and it is seldom the street is open over night. Now, just where the liability is greater in a ditch five feet deep, nearly always filled up at night, then it is in a ditch that will average fourteen feet deep and open from one to three nights in succession is what troubles us. Understand, we are not objecting to the $5,000 bond, if the city council sees fit to impose that on us; but what catches us is the idea of the council that they are at liberty to make this distinction between plumbers and other parties opening the streets for legitimate business. Is it not a fact that drain laying is a branch or part of plumbing? Was a system of plumbing complete until it has been connected with some sewer? From water to was a saying with us. Again, why not pass an ordinance compelling gas and water works companies and drain layers to give $5,000 bonds and also pay a license fee? Why would it not be just as well to consolidate plumbing and drain laying and require a bond of a reasonable amount and a license fee that would pay the cost of printing licenses and permits? Also insert a clause compelling the

THE CRACK OF DOOM.

It is Heard From One End of the Land To the Other.

Crash After Crash Follows in Rapid Succession with Scarcely Any Intermission.

From one end of the world to the other is heard the distressing wail of "hard times." In all classes of business this is heard and it really seems as if the pall of financial and commercial disaster like a dark and gloomy cloud had settled down upon the country, totally eclipsing the bright sun of prosperity, which, for so many years, has shed its benign rays upon this great and glorious country. All around seemed dark and drear, but look, through a rift in the clouds a star is seen and in the bright and shining train which it leaves behind, are seen letters of gold and they are a balm to every wounded heart. Rapidly the star passes across the darkness of financial night and suddenly stops before a store upon Farnam street and by its all powerful rays the letters upon the store front can be distinguished and they read "Smith's dry goods store." Upon the shining path in the wake of the star the golden letters read in several different languages, "this is the cheapest place in America to buy dry goods of all kinds, carpets, rugs, etc." This star is right and like that one which in olden time guided the wise men from the plain of Judea unto the place where the great giver of all peace and joy to the world lay, so this one guides the wayfarer upon the sea of life, tossed about by its fitful billows into the haven of peace and the harbor of good will to all. There can be no mistake about this thing. For years the citizens of Omaha have been looking for a rift in the clouds of high prices in dry goods, and at last, when they had well nigh given up all hope and were about ready to sink down with grief and despair, a sweet savior greets their eyes and glad news reaches their ears, and like the children of Israel, who looked upon the brazen serpent, lifted up in the wilderness and lived, so they looked upon the banner flung to the breeze by Smith, and have been lifted above the low and groveling things of earth and transplanted into the seventh heaven of prosperity and happiness. Oh! what a benefactor this man Smith is to the people of Omaha and vicinity. Coming as he did, at a time when the jig was about up for want of music, he turned his band of minstrels loose, and to-day the entire community is keeping step to the martial strains, and are, with one accord, marching into his palatial store at 1367 Farnam street, and buying their goods for the same money that they were ever offered in any store in Omaha. Do not allow your heads to be turned or yourselves to be duped by the lying banners upon the outer walls. The big figures which say "25 and 30 per cent taken off of every bill means that this per cent is first added, and you are consequently paying the same money for your goods you did before the "reduction." Do not fool away your money at the sidewalk, but get right along to the big show, and get a dollar's worth of goods for 50 cents. All that is asked is for you to call at Smith's store and see his goods and prices, and you can compare them with those at other places. In carpets and goods of all kinds, a terrible reduction. He is actually selling them at 25 per cent less than they can be bought for at any other store in this city. In dress goods, silks, cashmeres and other goods, are being sold at lower figures than other merchants dare to sell them. His broadcloth velvets have been marked down fully 50 per cent from the usual price. Kid gloves will be offered to-morrow at 30 per cent discount. Linen goods are offered at lower prices than they can be bought for in Chicago. Underwear and hosiery are being sold regardless of cost. Embroideries at jobbers' prices. Holiday goods are being closed out at less than half the original cost price. Smith's loss by the late fire has been satisfactorily adjusted by the insurance companies and now he proposes to give his customers the benefit. To-morrow there will be a great sale in all branches of his large stock, and you cannot afford to stay away. "Now is the accepted time, now is the day of salvation," from high prices, so hurry along and visit Smith's great sale to-morrow.

A Great Concert. On Sunday afternoon, January 11th, at Turner hall, the Musical Union will give another of their grand concerts. This concert will far surpass anything of the kind ever undertaken by this popular organization and those who were fortunate enough to attend the last entertainment will not miss this one for anything. The orchestra will be composed of twenty-five of the best musicians in the Union the selections will be from the most popular authors and rendered in the very best possible manner.

Resolutions of Respect. At a regular meeting of Excelsior council No. 1, order of Chosen Friends, the following resolutions of sympathy and condolence were unanimously adopted: WHEREAS, It has pleased Providence, in the death of L. C. Johnson, to call from our midst a most esteemed and beloved brother, and WHEREAS, By the same Providence, the widow and aged mother of our late brother, has lost a faithful and beloved son; therefore RESOLVED: That we hereby tender our most sincere sympathy and condolence to the bereaved and sorrowing mother, whom comfort it will be to know that her son died distant from her and his native country at the time of his death, in the distant part of the continent, and that she has a son who administers to her and her sickle, and that she has a son who respects at his last pilgrimage to that common and final "Rest in Peace" that is due from those who recognize the common brotherhood and destiny of man. RESOLVED: That a copy of the foregoing resolution be forwarded to the mother of the deceased, and also sent to Omaha by the "Omaha Bee" and the "Danish Pioneer" for publication, and that the same be spread upon the records of our society. Resolutions of Respect. At a regular meeting of Excelsior council No. 1, order of Chosen Friends, the following resolutions of sympathy and condolence were unanimously adopted: WHEREAS, It has pleased Providence, in the death of L. C. Johnson, to call from our midst a most esteemed and beloved brother, and WHEREAS, By the same Providence, the widow and aged mother of our late brother, has lost a faithful and beloved son; therefore RESOLVED: That we hereby tender our most sincere sympathy and condolence to the bereaved and sorrowing mother, whom comfort it will be to know that her son died distant from her and his native country at the time of his death, in the distant part of the continent, and that she has a son who administers to her and her sickle, and that she has a son who respects at his last pilgrimage to that common and final "Rest in Peace" that is due from those who recognize the common brotherhood and destiny of man. RESOLVED: That a copy of the foregoing resolution be forwarded to the mother of the deceased, and also sent to Omaha by the "Omaha Bee" and the "Danish Pioneer" for publication, and that the same be spread upon the records of our society. J. A. MANSON, JOHN A. MANSON, O. R. NELSON, Committee.
