

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Tuesday Morning, Jan. 13.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES. By Carrier... For Mail...

OFFICE: 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

Fine job printing at Pryor's Bee job office.

Revival services are in progress in the Broadway Methodist church.

Job printing in the latest style of the art, at Pryor's Bee job office.

The carpenters' and joiners' union give a dance in Devins' hall this evening.

The Kanawha social club give a dance in the K. of P. hall Thursday night.

"Only a Farmer's Daughter" is to appear at the opera house to-morrow evening.

Charles Denny, engineer of the Broadway steam laundry, now has a dislocated arm.

Leave your orders for job printing a day or two ahead at Pryor's Bee job office.

J. W. Smith, of Lime Kiln Hollow claims that some thief has stolen his cow.

Chief Walters, of the fire department, has been presented with a handsome badge.

The Dancho society gives a grand masquerade on the 31st inst., at Bloom & Nixon's hall.

Conrad Geise has housed 600 tons of ice for his brewery, and Louis & Metzger 400 tons for their restaurant.

The people of Council Bluffs appreciate good job printing, and liberally patronize Pryor's Bee job office.

Prisoners arrested by the police are still searched at police headquarters and then taken to the jail building.

Permit to wed was yesterday granted Fritz Steinberg, of Norwalk township, and Bettie Benson, of Hazel Dell.

Mrs. William Loveburg, whose husband is one of the employees of Mat. Scanlan, died yesterday morning after a brief illness.

Rev. T. J. Mackay yesterday united in marriage William E. Conley, of Wyandott county, Kansas, and Miss Sarah A. Fife, of this county.

Sheriff Guitler has returned from Fort Madison, where he took four prisoners. To-day he starts back with four others, Johnson, Doyle, Coburn and Hansen.

The windows of the city jail are so located that any outsiders can see up to them and receive or pass in anything they choose. A good chance for improvement.

Complaint is again made that the heating apparatus in the Bloomer school building is not working well enough to permit of school being in session all the time.

Ald. Geise is figuring for the purchase of a team at Webster for the new patrol wagon. The patrol wagon will prove an expensive luxury if a team has to be purchased, a driver hired, etc.

Mr. T. Harte, the dairyman, who dislocated his knee by a fall on the ice in his yard Saturday, is reported also as being injured internally, and some fears are entertained as to the result.

It is to be hoped that the police investigation is not to result in a mere farce. Let it go on. The half has not been inquired into yet. Let it be a thorough job. Then the public will be satisfied.

Johnson, the confidence man, has been spending his spare moments in jail in writing a very spicy, sarcastic bit of rhyme on Prof. John Phillips, who was sent to the penitentiary for six years for raping one of his school children.

The "lodger" is getting to be a great one at the city jail. There were twenty-three thus allowed to sleep there night before last. The number is on the increase greatly. The assets of the whole crowd amounted to five knives and one razor.

The Women's Christian association has arranged to occupy the chapel of the Baptist church. A large mission Sunday school has also been organized, meeting every Sunday afternoon at the Baptist church. Mr. A. B. Walker, who is one of the best workers in that line, is helping along the enterprise by taking the superintendency of the school for a time.

Those who have lately secured an order of court averring their property from the city now want the county board to let them withdraw from the township. The county board considered the matter yesterday, but did not reach a definite conclusion. It is understood that they will not be allowed to retire, unless they assume their share of the township debt, as well as their share of the city debt.

Work on the new government post office and court house, corner of Sixth street and Broadway, has been suspended. Contractor J. M. Rice has nearly completed his part of the building and is only awaiting the arrival of the iron beams and their being placed in position when he will fill in between them with brick and that will complete his contract and the basement of the building. The building now stands five feet eight inches above the ground.

The board of directors of the Council Bluffs savings and building association held a meeting last night to make arrangements for starting a new series, this giving new members a chance to enter the association under the next favorable circumstances. This association was organized in February 1877, and by its pecular plan not only have members been helped in saving money, but many have been helped to build and own homes who would have scarcely been able to secure them in any other way.

WANDERING STARS.

They Are Hunting About to See Who is "Boss."

One of the bones of contention between the city marshal's force and the police force is as to which has the right to search prisoners and keep the effects. Just what profit there is in going through the pockets of drunken men does not appear, but there seems a strange eagerness on the part of both to perform the duty.

The city marshal, for some reason which does not appear, claims control over the effects. The fact is that the city council in 1884, three months before the mayor went into office, and long before the police rule was written, passed an ordinance providing that the city marshal, nor the police should take charge of such effects, but that the city jailer shall be the custodian.

The ordinance provides that the jailer shall be appointed by the marshal with the advice and approval of the council, and says: "It shall be the duty of the city jailer to keep a book provided by the city council, in which he shall register the name of the officer making an arrest, the charge preferred, the name, age, occupation, nativity, and residence of every person committed to his care, together with a correct inventory of all monies, dangerous weapons, or valuables of any kind whatever, which may be the property of any such person, or firm in his possession. The city jailer shall place all such monies, dangerous weapons or valuables in the safe in the jail until disposed of by the proper authorities and shall deliver up the same only on the written order of the city clerk, said order to be endorsed by the person authorized therein to receive any such property mentioned in this section."

The ordinance thus making the jailer who is now Ed Bates, the custodian of all such valuables, does not provide that he should give any bonds at all, a rather strange sort of procedure.

It remains to be seen whether the mayor's order or the city ordinance will prevail. Either the mayor or the city council must back the track. Both orders cannot be carried out very well.

THE "HOME'S" INSURANCE.

How in Caring For Orphan Children An Insurance Company was Carried On.

The statement in yesterday's Bee that there was an insurance company being worked under the garb of the Home of the Friendless was news to many. All sorts of inducements have been held out to get people to "donate" to the Home, but this special feature has been kept rather quiet here. The Bee is in possession of one of the certificates, however, and the clause which offers the insurance inducement is so worded that it is well worth reading, as indicating also the indefinite sort of business ideas held by the manager. It reads:

The Home of the Friendless association agrees, in the case of the sickness of any member, where the disease is not chronic, or in accordance with the course of nature, whereby said member is thrown out of his salary for the time of said sickness, or if a business man is in such a condition that he needs assistance, to give to said member the sum of $5 a week, if he is a member by the payment of 25 cents a month; $10 a week, if he is a member by the payment of 50 cents a month, and $20 a week, if he is a member by the payment of $1 a month, for not more than six weeks in any one year, provided said amount can be raised by assessment upon the members of the association.

The home of the friendless association agrees further, in the case of the death of any member to pay his or her heirs or to whomsoever he or she shall direct the sum of $250. On monthly payments of 25 cents, $500; on monthly payments of 50 cents, and $1,000 on monthly payments of $1.00, provided it can be raised by assessments upon the members of the association.

It is understood and agreed that any member failing or refusing for fifteen days after being notified of a loss, to pay his assessment, forfeits all claim upon the honor of the association for aid in case of sickness or death.

A FAROE.

The Judicial Contest Said to Have Dropped to Pieces.

The judicial contest in which Judge Aylesworth claims to be entitled to the district bench in place of Judge Loofbourrow seems to have dropped to pieces in a comical way. It is said that the notice of the contest was sent from Des Moines to Atlantic, Judge Loofbourrow's home, but he was not there. A messenger was accordingly dispatched to this city, where he was holding court. The messenger arriving at night, sought rest in sleep, and did not serve the notice until the next day. It was then discovered that it was too late, the day of service having just passed. Had the notice been served the night the messenger arrived it would have been in time, but as it was it came just too late. It is claimed that this tardiness has knocked the bottom out of the whole case.

Churched Enough.

A telegram has been received stating that the Home Mission society of New York has accepted the Baptist church property here on the conditions already made public. This settles the troubles temporarily at least, and the Baptist church has disbanded, so that now there is simply a mission chapel here. After the old sors are healed up a new church organization will be perfected without doubt. Rev. Mr. Proper in explaining the situation to the church, remarked that there would be no attempt to organize at present, though services would be kept up. He illustrated his view of the case by saying that when he was a boy he had to churn sometimes, and just before the butter came, his mother would tell him to let the cream stand still a few moments, and the particles gather. He thought rightly too, that the Baptist church here had been churned enough, and should be allowed to stand while the elements were allowed to get together of their own accord.
