

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS. Monday Morning, Jan. 19. SUBSCRIPTION RATES. By Carrier 25 cents per week. By Mail 1.00 per month. OFFICE: 7 Pearl Street, Near Broadway.

MINOR MENTION.

Fine job printing at Pryor's Bar job office. The Catholic ladies cleared $900 by their fair. County Treasurer Bennett says taxes come in slowly. One price only at T. N. Bray's shoe house, 102 Main street.

Job printing in the latest style of the art, at Pryor's Bar job office. Mrs. J. J. Brown suffered some severe injuries by falling in a Seventh street sidewalk.

Leave your orders for job printing a day or two ahead at Pryor's Bar job office. Pottawattamie Grove U. A. O. D. give their first annual ball in Ben's hall February 18.

The Nonconformist at Tabor has not suspended, notwithstanding all the reports to that effect. At the Revue home Saturday afternoon Justice Hendricks married John Low to Edith O. Peterson.

The mother of George Madison, the mail carrier, slipped and fell on Madison street Friday, breaking her arm. George Wells, flagman on the Q. and K. C. roads, has a new arrival of eleven ounces in his family. It's a boy.

At Bray's great shoe sale all goods are marked in plain figures and sold to all at the same low prices. 102 Main street. L. Kinnahan, who had a foot crushed at the transfer, is getting along quite comfortably now. His foot has been amputated.

T. Hart, who was lately injured by a fall on the ice in his yard, is reported as sinking rapidly, with little or no prospect of recovery. Some of the Macedonians think that Coburn ought to have received more than two years sentence for setting fire to Dye's store.

Smith & Loeck, proprietors of the Union Bakery, give as many ounces to a loaf of bread and sell it as cheap as any other establishment in the city. The police did not make the usual Saturday night haul, there being only one drunk and one vagrant. There were as usual, however, about two dozen few lodgers.

A hawk drove into the alley in the rear of one of the Broadway saloons yesterday, and landed up with three kegs of beer and as many boxes of pop. A good Sunday showing for a prohibition state. Four of the clerks at J. Mueller's store have agreed to quit shaving until February 1st or forfeit $1 to each of the others. The four moustaches will shortly be accompanied by grizzly beards.

There were no services in the Congregational church yesterday. It is expected that there will be long a regular pastor in the pulpit, Rev. Mr. Croft, of Sandwich, Ill., having been called to the position, and having accepted the call. It is claimed that tramps are making a free lodging place of the house owned by Mr. Doty in Streetville, and vacated by him when the man Loveless came down with the small-pox. The house had not been thoroughly disinfected when the tramps began to sleep there, and if some of them do not catch the disease they are all extremely fortunate.

There was a big gas leak discovered on Broadway east of Main street. Men were set at work taking up the pavement and digging through the frozen earth to the main. The gas leaked in such quantities that the pick striking a stone and causing a spark set the gas on fire it blazing up to quite a height. This occurred several times. The job of stopping the leak proved a hard one, and rather expensive.

The Shenandoah Post says the mad dog is abroad in the land again. A. M. Noble's dog went mad near Riverton on Wednesday and struck out for town. All the dogs in Riverton have been killed. Four cows are tied up. Class Jackson, son of the hotel keeper, was bitten, but succeeded in killing the dog. Jackson went to try the virtue of a "mad snake" on Friday but the stone failed to "stick." It is thought that his clothing prevented the virus taking hold.

Thomas Bowman has returned from Cedar Rapids, where he has attended the meeting of the Iowa circuit. It was decided to have the usual June meetings, commencing at Cedar Rapids June 9th, and ending at Council Bluffs, the meetings here commencing June 30. Burlington will probably follow Cedar Rapids, and then Ottumwa or Creston will take the next week. The prices will be $500 each, with the following classes for trotters: 3:00, 2:45, 2:30, 2:15, 2:29, 2:25, also free-for-all. For pacers: 2:27 and 2:19 class. Lowrie & Swinger, of Mendota, Ill., will serve as pool sellers. Entries for the entire circuit will close June 1.

Justice Loomfroot and Judge Aylesworth seem to keep pretty cool over their contest, and seem personally friendly. They were noticed the other day walking down the street together chatting pleasantly, and they have agreed to leave the question of the service of the notices to the court, to be decided before the taking of evidence begins. It is generally understood that Judge Aylesworth in making a contest yields rather to the commands of the democratic committee and other democratic supporters, rather than to his own feelings. He has some respects a better position for him, in some respects at least, than that of judge of the district court.

Sin and Unbelief. At the Opera house yesterday Rev. A. K. Bates preached as follows: You will find my text in the 3rd chapter of John, and 16th verse. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him, should not perish, but have everlasting life."

There is no object dearer to a parent's heart than a son. This is particularly the case if it happens to be an only son, or an only child, and whatever occurs to that son—especially if it be trouble, danger, or death—affects the heart of the parent. So when we read that God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son for its salvation, it means that His love was immense and profound. I want to call your attention first of all to the fullness of the verse chosen for my text. As it will be found, perhaps, more Christian theology than will be found in any other verse or passage of scripture. It embraces the doctrine of the trinity, the doctrine of God's benevolence, the doctrine of God's grace, the doctrine of God's mercy, the doctrine of God's proposed way of salvation, the doctrine of future punishment, and the doctrine of immortality. This is a verse upon which more sermons have been preached than any other verse in the scripture, and it is as difficult to comprehend, as far as intelligent exposition is concerned.

Let me call your attention to the matter of our condemnation as here taught. In the first place the statement is present and not future. According to scripture, he that believeth not is condemned already. That which shall occur after a man simply the final termination of the sentence—based upon a judgment already past. So it became clear to the eye as every intelligent thinking man, that he that believeth not is condemned. Condemnation is based upon unbelief and not simply on sin. If it were only upon sin, we might all of us have been equally involved. A man who is a sinner, and at the same time a believer in the Lord Jesus Christ as the son of God, is endeavoring to put away the iniquities of his life, and the result is that God makes a vast difference between him and the man who sins because of his unbelief. All over this city, perhaps in this very congregation, there are men and women, who are condemned, not only because they are sinners, but because they will not believe in Christ.

You may find a man who is to all appearances respectable, moral, upright, full of integrity, and worthy of admiration. However, if he is an unbeliever in the Son of God, the man in condemned equally with the man that lies in the gutter, equally with the man who opposes God in every act of his mind, body and soul. A man may say, "I do believe in the Lord Jesus Christ," and yet refuse to accept Him, when the light is clear before him, this is an evidence that he is under condemnation. God holds every man accountable for his sins. According to God's own word, "The soul that sinneth, it shall die," no matter what it has been before.

People may cry that they have been surrounded with sin, and adversity, born in iniquity; and that it was impossible under the circumstances and surroundings to refrain from committing a few trivial wrongs, and that it is unfair that they should be visited with such an immense punishment for such a slight offense. The fact is that God does not give punishment by sins alone, but by sins accompanied with unbelief, which is one of the greatest—I might say the greatest sin, and cause of sin. God's mercy is no broader than his justice. As he is infinitely merciful, so he is infinitely just.

Unbelief means simply this: That Christ, the Son of God, is offered to me, but I shall not accept Him. The man who says this makes Christ an impostor and God a liar, because he declares that Christ is His son, when He denies that He is. God so loved the world that He sent His only begotten Son for our salvation. He expects us to take into consideration that fact and decide whether to accept or reject Him, and become children of God.

PERSONAL.

Sheriff Dan Farrell was in the city yesterday. Miss Carrie Spooner has been visiting friends and relatives in Avoca. C. L. Browning, of Brownville, Neb., were among those at the Ogden yesterday.

Mrs. R. T. Manz, Miss Florence Manz, and Miss Myrtle Estes, of Omaha, are visiting friends here. T. E. Cavin has been wrestling with the rheumatism for a week past, but is getting the better of it.

H. L. McWilliams, who is now in the banking business at Ogalla, Neb., was at the Pacific yesterday. S. S. Stevens, the general agent of the Rock Island, writes from Los Angeles, Cal., that he is resigning his health rapidly.

Charles Baurhin has left for the world's fair at New Orleans, and will visit other points in the sunny south before returning home. Lieut.-Gov. Manning has returned from Kansas, where he attended the inauguration and visited friends. He expects soon to take a trip to the south.

Verge Bergen left Saturday for Ft. Wayne, Ind., to take charge of the electric bell factory recently started there by Messrs. Judd & Smith of this city. G. H. Ferguson has returned home near Earlton. He says the big fire was a terrible blow to Earlton, but that probably the stores will be rebuilt, as it a good point for trade.

Mr. John Schmidt, of Paces & Schmidt, returned evening with Mrs. Schmidt, and Miss Mary Stehler, an estimable lady of Ann Arbor, Michigan. The marriage occurred last Wednesday. Dr. T. S. McKenna, of Earlton, was at the Pacific house yesterday. The doctor was a sufferer by the Earling fire, having lost his office, instruments, books, etc. He did not lose his nerve, however.

A Slight Burn.

The alarm of fire about 11 o'clock yesterday morning was caused by a small blaze at Henry Schmidt's photograph gallery on Main street. The fire started in the roof, through which run a stove-pipe. A few buckets of water put it out, the damage being light.

SEEING SPIRITS.

A Council Bluffs Medium Has a Chemical Science.

The Departed Spirits Prove to be Living Ones.

The little town of Tabor has lately been a good deal stirred up of late by a series of spiritualistic investigations and seances. The editor of the Nonconformist, H. Vincent, has been interested in these and he has made public some relations which have proved interesting, at least to the readers of the BEE. Now comes an interesting statement from M. Groves with J. M. Ewell and Edward Harris as witnesses, which is equally sensational, but not so favorable to spiritualism as the others. They claim that they attended a seance at the residence of Mr. Vincent and there met Mrs. Eggleston, of Council Bluffs. An Indian chief took possession of her and caused several departed spirits to appear to her vision. She described them but none present could recognize any of them as being departed friends. Mr. Groves finally suggested that he would like to converse with his mother. The medium claimed that the spirit of his mother was present and was standing behind him with her hand on his head, and there could be no mistake about it. Mr. Groves asked several questions, among others whether she was happy in the other world, and if she would like to come back to this life to live again. She said she was happy, and did not desire to return to this life, but that she would like to see and talk with her friends. Mr. Ewell's brother David also appeared. Mr. Ewell asked his brother to make some statement as to something that had happened between them while he was yet in this life, and he told him of driving a cow hitched to a sled, and various other things common among boys. The father of Mr. Harris also called back from the spirit land, and Mr. Harris asked him if he was satisfied as to how he had settled up the business. He replied that everything was all right so far as he had done, but that the business was not all settled up yet, and that he had a tract of land yet that his father did not want him to sell if they could get along without selling it. His father advised him about moving, and other things of a business character. Mr. Groves says that at the time this seance was held his mother was in good health and alive instead of being a spirit, and that Mr. David Ewell, and Mr. Harris were still in the flesh, so that they could not have been called back from the spirit land, and that Mr. Harris had no estate at all to settle, neither he or his father owing any man.

The description of this seance makes a suitable to hang alongside and in contrast with the one given not long ago by Mr. Vincent. In which the same medium gave such a wonderful account of the world beyond.

For sale—My book and stationery business 341 Broadway. H. E. Seaman.

What Heavens Has Heard. OMAHA, January 18, 1885.

MY DEAREST EDITH—Oh! How I wish I could see you for ten minutes to-day, for I am going away to-morrow and won't be back till Saturday. I have so much to tell you that a ten minutes' interview would relieve my pent up feelings more than I can express.

You can't imagine how much I enjoy your letters, but you often surmise my curiosity by alluding to some matters in a "I-wish-I-could-tell-you-all" sort of manner.

I hear so much about you people on the other side that it is almost useless for me to attempt to put it all on paper, but prominent among the rumors is one connected with your "maah" (I hear it whispered that he is taking boxing lessons, and has "declared" himself (I must be catching Bob's slang), that in the near future he will be able to hold his own with any of the lads.

And it is true that Mr. "Emerald" has become so infatuated with progressive eunuchs that he sent to New York for rules? "Blondy" says that he staid at home one night till 11 o'clock to read up, and surprised the party by his sudden appearance, and with the announcement, "Edith, and you are not playing it right."

Of course we hear so much about Council Bluffs that we don't know just what to believe. I wonder if Omaha had such a time with its exclusive society when it was a small burg!

It was too bad to call Mr. R. a "dude," but I really think Mr. F. is slightly inclined that way. But in Omaha, as bad as you think we are, there is no record of a dude leaving his lady, at the exact hour of 12, three blocks from home. Of course you grasp. Probably the relief experienced by his sudden departure overcame her surprise and fear. Please give me the particulars of this dear Edith, for you are not playing it right.

Your literary young lady is probably writing a companion story for "The Banker's Daughter," and is taking, as her hero, the banker's son.

I am surprised to hear Miss Trimmer alluded to as "the charming but hateful" Miss T. for I thought she was considered quite a favorite.

One of our cities has become so taken with C. B. that she will probably be Mrs. H. "in one year."

"Blondy" says that your society circles have been quite agitated by the second appearance of one of its old favorites. I can't exactly understand what is at the Root of all this, but suppose it is as it should be.

Does the affectionate business still continue near the park? The sleighing is just splendid over here, and the boys estimate its cost at three dollars a mile, just as if we cared.

I cannot be at home for the early hour party Tuesday night. I hear that several Council Bluffs young people are invited, and will attend.

"Blondy" says that several of your young men have taken quite an interest in religious matters (since Jan'y's feast). Don't you miss him Sunday night? Oh! There is the bell and I'm sure it's Mr. S. I haven't time to tell you any more to-night. Write to me as soon as you can. Yours 10 dery, "Bessie."

Having purchased at a great discount the stock of cigars, pipes and smokers' articles recently owned by Lutz & Lange, I am prepared to give purchasers the benefit of this great reduction no matter in what quantity they buy, either large or small orders. The stock must be closed out and that as quickly as possible, as it cannot have my personal attention. Jno. Schoenigen, 30 Main and 30 Pearl streets, Council Bluffs.
