How to Wax Rich.

Bridgeport Post, My son, there's nothing on earth so mysteriously funny as a newspaper advertisement. The prime, first, last and all the time, object of an advertisement is to draw custom. It is not, was not and never will be designed for any other human purpose. So the merchant waits till the busy season comes and his store is so full of custom he can't get his hat no trade, and he wants to sell goods so bad he can't pay his rent, he takes out his advertisement. That is, some of them do, but occasionally a level headed merchant puts in a bigger one and scoops all the business, while his neighbors are making mortgages to pay the gas bill. There are times when you couldn't stop people from buying everything in the store if you planted a cannon behind the door, and that's the time the advertisement is sent out on its holy mission. It makes light work for the advertisement, for a chalk sign on the sidewalk could do all that was needed and have a half holiday six days in the week, but who wants to favor an advertisement? They are built to do hard work, and should be not inconsistent with this act sha I apply to sent out in the dull days when a customer and govern said houses of correction including his to be knocked down with hard facts. and kicked insensible with bankrupt reductions and dragged in with irresistible slaughter of prices before he will spend a

That's the aim and end of an advertisement, my son, and if you ever open a store don't try to get them to come when they are already stocking out of the windows, but give them your advertisement right between the eyes in the dull season and you will wax rich and own a fast horse and perhaps be able to smoke a good, eigar once or twice a year. Arkansaw Traveler.

"I'se mighty sorry ter see dis young lady fotch up heah," said Ink Johnson, a justice of the peace, referring to a young colored girl. "I hab allus been a galiunt man, myse'f; an' it pains me ter see dat one o' de fa'r sex hab been gripped by de nippers o' de law. Whut's de charge ergin dis lady?"

"Wall, jedge," replied the father of girl, "ahe tried ter run away an' marry of the street department, who was engaged in stitute and Surgeon of the Northwestern Burgical Institute. It should be charge ergin dis lady?"

"Wall, jedge," replied the father of girl, "ahe tried ter run away an' marry of the street department, who was engaged in digging up the highway. Both the late and every letter are perfectly distinct, though the coin is somewhat cormoded.

"Dat er fack?" Mighty se'lous charge, roded.

The remarkable growth of Omaho during the last few years is a matter of great astonishment to those who pay an occasional visit to this growing city. The development of the Stock Yards—the necessity of the Belt Line Road—the finely paved streets—the hundreds of new residences and costly business blocks, with the population of our city more than doubled in the last five years. All this is a great surprise to visitors and is the admiration of our citizens. This rapid growth, the business activity, and the many substantial improvements made a lively demand for Omaha real estate, and every investor has made a handsome

Since the Wall Street panie with the subsequent cry of hard times, there has been less demand from speculators, but a fair demand from investors seeking homes. This latter class are taking advantage of low prices in building material and are securing their homes at much less cost than will be possible . year hence. Speculators, too, can buy real esta's cheaper now and ought to take advant e of present prices for future pro ts. The next few years promises greater divelopments in Omaha than the past ive years, which have been as good ar-we could reasonably desire. New manufacturing establishments and large jobbing houses are added almost weekly, and all add to the prosperity of Omaha.

There are many in Omaha and throughbut the State, who have their money in the banks drawing a nominal rate of terest, which, if judiciously invested i Omaha real estate, would bring them much greater returns.
