MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's new spring goods. Social at the Methodist church parlors this evening.

Dr. Barlow has been injured by his horse falling on him.

Several flags were hung out yesterday in honor of inauguration.

Permit to wed was yesterday granted to John Hames and Nannie Bloom.

Cooke & Morgan have added Messrs. Watts and Riley to their clerical force.

John Dougherty has been put on police duty in place of Jack Conick, resigned.

The artesian well at the Institute for the deaf and dumb near here now has a flow of forty barrels an hour.

In another column will be found an article on "Christian Bankers," which the young men ought to read.

Frank Van Brunt has purchased Prof. Paige's residence property, corner of Fifth avenue and Eighth street, and will improve it and occupy it as a home.

Dr. Jeffers reports that the child of H. R. Jones and the one of Mr. Benton on Third street, who have been very ill with diphtheria are recovering nicely.

Mollie Wallace and another black woman, as well as one white woman, were yesterday fined $9.60 each for the row which they indulged in the night before.

Two drunks were found and fined yesterday. One of them claimed to be a slight-hand performer. The judge gave him two hours to crawl out of jail through the key hole.

Jack Shields, Still Bates and John Connors were before Judge Aylesworth on a charge of assaulting Dan Crum. Shields and Bates were discharged and Connors was fined $10.

The offer of $100 reward for the proof that the mayor has had a drink of whisky, wine, ale or beer, since April 28, 1884, does not include gin. It ought to have put that in so as to cover all.

Chief Skinner now issues an order for all lewd women to go into some lawful business, and the saloons to close Sundays and week day nights at 11 o'clock. Nothing is said about the gambling houses.

David Mottaz, the watchman at the lumber yard, has been making his fire record on his nose. In throwing a fire-garden into the blaze the other morning he got a little too close, and a sudden burst of flame burned him somewhat.

Two boys named Bowfield, aged about 13 and 14, were arrested and brought into court for quarreling. It seemed that their mother had gone off visiting and left them to keep house. During her absence one of the boys collected $4 for some rent due his mother and the boys got to quarreling about this money. The judge gave them a lecture and ordered the money put in the hands of the marshal until the mother's return.

Mr. Joseph Reiter, the well known merchant tailor on upper Broadway, No. 310, has returned from an extended eastern trip, and having searched the markets of Chicago, Cincinnati, and New York, has secured for his customers the very latest styles, in suitings and tailoring goods, from the largest establishments in the country. For fine suits, stylish, well fitting, well made, and at reasonable prices, Reiter cannot be excelled in this part of the country.

Oakland is stirring itself up into an opposition against the new court house and jail. Some of its good, honest folk are being beguiled into the belief that by defeating the proposition the county seat may be changed from Council Bluffs to somewhere else, and where should this somewhere else be but at Oakland? Of course no sensible person can deliberately believe that such a change will ever take place, but if the county seat should be changed, poor Oakland would not stand a ghost of a show. Avoca, with its additional power and its many shrewd men, would gobble it, and poor Oakland would be worse off than ever.

The funeral of little Irene Kinney, the first to die at the Orphans Home, was quite well attended Tuesday. Carriages were furnished free by John Dohny, Dr. Patien, Paul Bequet, and George Weasner, and a large number of cut flowers given by Mr. Caspar. The association has purchased a lot in the cemetery, on the hill, near the G. A. R. lot, and purposes erecting a monument on which will be inscribed the names of each child buried there. There should be little difficulty in securing the needed means for this, and the generosity of the public will doubtless prompt a ready response to the appeal for a monument to the memory of orphan and homeless children.

Real Estate Transfers. The following is a list of real estate transfers filed yesterday in the recorder's office of Pottawatomie county, Iowa, as furnished by A. J. Stephenson, abstractor, real estate and loan agent, Council Bluffs, Iowa, March 4, 1885.

DON'T FALL ASLEEP.

Council Bluffs Needs a Shaking Upon the Court House Question.

There is more indifference in Council Bluffs about the court house question than there should be. Some good citizens feel that if those in the east end of the county do not care whether the county has a court house or not, and do not care whether the private and public records are jeopardized or not, Council Bluffs can stand it as well as they. Some others feel that the court house votes will be all right, anyway, and so are not exerting themselves. There is also a peculiar danger from the fact that the special election comes at the end of three sessions within a week, many voters will get weary in well doing and stay at home. To a workman especially, who lost time in attending the city election, and will be called on to lose time next Monday at the school election, it will be somewhat of a temptation not to go to the polls next Tuesday. It is of the greatest importance to this county that the court house and jail should be built, and it is also of great importance to this city. Those who are opposing it in the country are doing so not because they realize the needs of the county, but because they are so set against Council Bluffs, and so anxious to help out Avoca, or some other part of the county that they will sacrifice the county's interest to satisfy their prejudice. These opposers to the proposition are flooding the county with circulars, are calling meetings, are appointing committees, raising money to hire workers at the polls, and in every way trying to mislead the honest people with misstatements of facts and figures. In view of these facts Council Bluffs should arouse as one man and fight with fire. No one who favors the building of a court house and jail can afford to let next Tuesday pass without casting his vote. Every merchant and business man who comes in contact with men from outside the city should enthusiastically show up the reasons for the faith that is in him. There is no need of using a club or making threats. The plain facts, presented earnestly, and received without prejudice will convince any unbiased mind that the cheapest and best thing is for the county to build. If Council Bluffs expects to help carry the proposition it must be up and doing. The opposition is uniting in its misrepresentation of facts. Let all who favor the proposition see to it that the true is spread as broadcast as the false, and the true will win.

Dr. S. Mesher, of the Sioux City Chronic Disease Institute, will be at the Scott house in this city, Thursday, March 4th. Will attend to patients and all who are afflicted will do well to give him a call. Consultation free.

THE WABASH STRIKE.

The Men in the Round House Object to a Reduction of Wages.

The recent order of the Wabash reducing the wages of wipers and other laborers ten per cent, has caused a strike at various places along the line, and yesterday those employed in the round house joined in and quit work. The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we, the employees of the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific Railway Company, in mass meeting assembled, do protest against the discriminate reduction in our wages, which affect employees who are already bordering on destitution.

Resolved, That we express our grievances to A. A. Talmage, general manager, and we demand that this order be rescinded.

Resolved, That should A. A. Talmage refuse to grant our demands, humanity calls upon us to make a bold stand, even should it require resignation of our situations.

Resolved, That the discrimination between organized and disorganized labor in the present reduction presents a subject for the serious consideration of every workman, and that we congratulate organized labor upon its having escaped our grievances.

Resolved, Further, that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to A. A. Talmage demanding an immediate reply.

In response to inquiries at the office this information was gained that the men who had struck only numbered about ten and that their places had all been filled, and that the company would not be seriously inconvenienced here. None of the men employed in operating trains are concerned in the strike, so that the company's business will go on as usual.

Christian Bankers. Under the title of the head of this article the Christian Home, a weekly family and religious paper, published by the Home of the Friendless association of Council Bluffs in the interest of the Orphans Home maintained by that association, pays the following tribute this week to two well known bankers of this state. It says:

"As we stated some weeks since, it is our object now and then to present brief accounts of ministers and laymen of our state, striving to draw lessons from their lives that will be of service to the young in the coming battle of life. We will speak this week of Col. L. Bently, Baptist, of Malvern, Iowa, and Thomas O'Brien, Presbyterian, of Council Bluffs.

Col. L. Bently, of Malvern, Iowa, is a bright example of the successful Christian business man. He is a devoted member of the Baptist church of Malvern, and is active and foremost in every work for God and suffering humanity. No way has this interfered with his business success. Trying to bless others, God has blessed him. Under his management the First national bank of Malvern has assumed a prominent place that gives it a standing among the solid banking institutions of the country. It can be truly said of him that he is zealous in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord.

It is a pleasure to us to have the friendship, love and co-operation of such men. It is further a pleasant duty to point out to the young such examples. There are so many foolish and worldly men who by their words and actions lead the young to suppose that religion and business can not go together, that it is well for young men to learn from the results of the lives of men of to-day that the truest and best success, even for time, comes to those who faithfully serve God.

Here in our own city we have another just such a case. Mr. Thomas O'Brien, an elder of the Presbyterian church, is the leading banker in this city. He is a man of wealth and his name is a power, not only in this city but everywhere in the state of Iowa. Not only is he thus a leader in financial circles but he is admitted by all to be a leader in all matters for the upbuilding of Christ's kingdom. Never is business so pressing but what he is ready to stop and give largely of his means and help plan for the furtherance of the interests of any cause that gives reasonable promise of redounding to the honor of the Lord.

Young men, look on the life of Christ and the lives of such men as these, who have gained their power from a humble following of Christ, and it will be well with you. What do the railings of infidelity amount to before such living facts? "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you."

Beckman & Co., 525 Main street, will wash and oil your harness cheap now.

PERSONAL.

Joseph Reiter, the tailor, has returned from a three weeks' purchasing trip east. Tom Rollins of Wakefield, a widewake hardware man, was in the city yesterday. Dr. D. Satterlee and wife of Dunlap, left yesterday over the Wabash for New Orleans.

Attorney Wright of Des Moines, was looking after some motions in the court here yesterday.

Rev. J. G. Lemen goes to Clarinda to lecture there to night on "Poe." This is the second of a course being given there, the first being by Dr. Hansen.

Constable Keyburn of Macedonia, was in the city yesterday and tarried at Bechtel's. He will be remembered as the official who created such a sensation by attempting to seize liquor here, soon after the prohibition law went into effect. He was not so badly scared on this last visit to Council Bluffs.

Before you buy a harness call on Beckman & Co., 525 Main street.

The One Thing Lacking.

Somerville Journal.

It was at the rink, and the gentlemanly young man with brass buttons and a check to match was initiating the shy young thing of sixteen into the mysteries of roller skating.

"You strike out boldly like this," said he, illustrating with a graceful sweep, and then, at the bravely tried to imitate, he exclaimed:

"Ah, you're catchin' on!"

She didn't make any audible reply until she had finished the somersault. Then she put down her skirts with both hands and murmured softly:

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Well Pleased.

Dr. A. L. Hall, Fair Haven, N. Y., says, "I have prescribed it with marked benefit in indigestion and urinary troubles."

In Norwich, Conn., a young man began depositing his savings in a local bank. His deposits from 1838 until 1885 amounted to $1,962.25. Between 1838 and 1885 he drew from the bank, $1,270.70, and yet a few days since, on having his book written up and balanced, he was found to have a balance on deposit amounting to $11,273.53.
