

THE DAILY BEE.

OMAHA OFFICE NO. 914 AND 916 FARMAN ST. NEW YORK OFFICE, ROOM 65 TRINITY BUILDING. Published every morning, except Sunday. The only morning paper published in the state.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN NEW YORK

It is claimed that the advocates of the woman suffrage movement in the New York legislature propose, if possible, to confer upon the women of that state the right of suffrage without first submitting the question to the vote of the people.

STATE JOTTINGS

There are nineteen retail and two wholesale saloons in Lincoln. A shingled house is an unknown quantity in the town of Gordon.

THE HOMES OF STATESMEN.

A Real Estate Agent Gives the Value of Their Residences. Senatorial Mansions--Fortunes Invested in Brick, Stone, and Mortar.

THE HOMES OF STATESMEN.

A Real Estate Agent Gives the Value of Their Residences. Senatorial Mansions--Fortunes Invested in Brick, Stone, and Mortar.

THE HOMES OF STATESMEN.

A Real Estate Agent Gives the Value of Their Residences. Senatorial Mansions--Fortunes Invested in Brick, Stone, and Mortar.

THE HOMES OF STATESMEN.

A Real Estate Agent Gives the Value of Their Residences. Senatorial Mansions--Fortunes Invested in Brick, Stone, and Mortar.

THE BEE PUBLISHING CO., Props.

A. H. Fitch, Manager Daily Circulation, P. O. Box, 488 Omaha, Neb.

MAYOR MURPHY will be his own successor.

MR. BUCK is about the only candidate who will have a walkaway.

REGISTRATION begins to-morrow.

Every voter should see that he is properly registered.

In the appointment of Sunset Cox as minister to Turkey, Tammany has been given a small bite of patronage.

GOVERNOR HOADLEY, of Ohio, proposes to return to private life.

Perhaps he has not been offered anything yet by Mr. Cleveland.

THE democratic editors are beginning to be remembered.

Mr. Ham, of Dubuque, has been appointed postmaster of that city.

THE Arab version of the late battles on the suburbs of Snakin would give an interesting variety to campaign literature at the present time.

MR. COX, who has been appointed minister to Turkey, will now have an opportunity to take a little trip to the Holy Land.

WHEN Sunset Cox puts on his Turkish trousers and relieves Low Wallace at the court of the Sultan, he will tell us, "Why We Laugh."

THE appointment of such fellows as Higgins may lead the people to conclude that while some racials are turned out other racials are turned in.

SUNSET COX goes to Turkey. He can now play his jokes on the Sultan, who will no doubt appreciate the wit of the great American humorist.

THE Kansas City Times says: "It pays to be a grand old democrat up in Vermont." But it does not pay to be a grand old democrat in Nebraska.

HIGGINS, of Omaha, wants it distinctly understood that Higgins, of Washington, is no relation of his, although they are interested in the same calling.

ARBOR day will soon be here again, but we presume that Dr. Miller will for once omit his annual send-off for the Sage of Arbor Lodge, who originated the day in Nebraska.

THESAURIZER BUCK is a lucky man. He will have to do no electioneering, and spend but little money in order to be elected by an overwhelming majority over Mr. Blank.

DR. MILLER has served notice upon the democrats that those who bolt Boyd will be watched and branded. Who will brand those republicans who bolt their candidate and vote for Boyd?

CAPT. SAM. HERMAN is after the office of internal revenue collector, which is worth $4,800 a year. It is the best federal position in the state. There's nothing small about the captain, except his stature.

ACCORDING to the Republican the only mistake made by the republican city convention was that it did not adopt a national platform on which the candidates could plant themselves squarely. This is a strictly original idea.

MORE poetry is said to come from Wisconsin than from any other state in the Union. The quantity has somewhat diminished, however, since the removal of Ella Wheeler, but the quality remains about the same.

Now let us see what the Hornborger gang will do. Perhaps Boyd and the Republican will be left without a country.---Republican.

With the Republican and the Herald to back him, Mr. Boyd ought to be safe even if the country should go to smash.

THOSE three thousand names on that Boyd petition were not all genuine. John M. Thurston denies over his own name that he signed it, and we know of a great many other republicans that could do the same thing if they were disposed to go into print.

THE St. Louis Globe-Democrat fills three columns of its valuable space with a portrait gallery of Texas statesmen. Judging from their appearance, as shown in this art gallery, they would be better fitted for the penitentiary than for the legislature.

Of recent nominations by President Cleveland the Rochester Post-Express (Rep.) says: "These appointments surprise politicians. They were not consulted. We hope Mr. Cleveland will continue to disregard them. It will be much better for him if he starves them out and runs the government without their assistance."

KANSAS BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.

We have received the fourth annual report of the state board of agriculture of Kansas. It is an elegantly printed volume of over 700 pages, containing an immense amount of valuable information of a descriptive and statistical character of every county in the state, accompanied by colored sectional maps of each county.

UNLESS prompt action is taken by the county commissioners and city council in providing the necessary means for building the retaining walls around the new court house there will be very great danger to that building.

ALTHOUGH England is at present dancing to the liveliest of music, an Irish piper, a deserter from the British army, has been kidnapped from New York and forced to complete his engagement.

THINK of a city council with such men as Goodman and Hitchcock in it! Let the dawn in the east be watched; the millennial day will be upon us soon.---Republican.

Is this a left-handed compliment, or is it intended as pure sarcasm? The Republicans will please rise and explain.

WESTERN NEWS.

DAKOTA. Yankton's woolen mill is ready for operation. Deadwood courts are unraveling a $100,000 mining swindle. The board of education adopted a resolution to the effect that it would not object to the quarterly payment of liquor licenses, provided the liquor dealers pay $1,000 during the year.

WYOMING.

Cheyenne has a Reil live mayor, a democrat at that. The sisters of mercy propose to build a $30,000 convent in Cheyenne. Cheyenne claims 10,000 out of the 50,000 people of the territory.

IDAHO.

Preliminary surveys have been made for a railroad from Kelton, on the C. P., to Shoshone Falls, Idaho. The directors of the new regular courts in the city, ten hospitals, nine lunatic asylums, and reformatories, seven banks and banking houses, three home insurance companies, seven railroad offices, six express offices, ten daily, weekly and monthly newspapers, twenty-six public and private schools, five academies and colleges, seven libraries of a more or less public character, some thirty churches and parishes, sixteen Masonic organizations, seven Grand Lodges of the Order of the Sons of America, four lodges of Knights of Pythias, four lodges of Knights of Honor, eleven lodges of Odd Fellows, four lodges of the B. O. C. T., one lodge of the Royal Arcanum, five lodges of United Workmen, one Council of Chosen Friends, one lodge of Elks, six of Good Templars, five trades unions and some fifteen benevolent and social organizations.

MONTANA.

Helena now uses 135 telephones. Ananda wells are dry and water wells at 50 cents per barrel. It is expected that there will be a big stampede to the Little Belt this spring. The treasurer of Lewis and Clark county is behind $37,000 in his accounts.

CALIFORNIA.

Napa county rejoices in having nearly cost the sum of $10,000. The new courthouses at Santa Rosa cost just $84,709.84, and is all paid for. The work of constructing the cable road in Los Angeles is being vigorously pushed. No Chinese are employed. San Francisco now estimates her loss by the violent death of her husband at $35,000. J. P. Whitney obtained last season 10,000 worth of raisins--sold for that amount--from his 250 acre vineyard in the foothills, near Rocklin.

THE SUPREME COURT.

The real estate man continued, "Walter owns a house on H street worth $25,000, Miller's house is worth $40,000, Matthews has a home on the corner of I and Eighteenth streets, which is ethetically built and would bring, I should say, $65,000. It is in the heart of the best section of the capital, and its back windows look into the reception room of the British Legation mansion. Judge Field has a brick house modeled out of one of the buildings across from the capitol which used to be a prison, and this is worth about $10,000. There is talk of appropriating the ground of which it stands to the new library building, and if so the judge will probably move to the north-west part of the city."

LAWYERS IN OUR PAST POLITICS.

The brains which have governed this country in the past have been those which have undergone legal training. All of the presidents, except Washington, Harrison, Taylor, and Grant, have been admitted to the bar. Buchanan was making a fortune at the law when he got into politics. Andrew Jackson was a young lawyer when he married his wife. Millard Fillmore was like Cleveland, a lawyer from Buffalo, and the fortune which he left was founded on law fees. Andrew Johnson could read and did read law books when he was still unable to write easily, and Abe Lincoln was called to take charge of a scandalous case before he came to Washington, away from the office of an attorney. John C. Calhoun, though he devoted his life to politics, began as a lawyer. Alexander Hamilton was a lawyer, and a good one. Aaron Burr made a big thing at law after he was disgraced by his duel and his conspiracy, and Reverdy Johnson, Chief Justice Athey, Salmon P. Chase, and John C. Breckinridge, all good names, began as lawyers, made good names, and then went into the sphere of politics, and succeeded there. Webster, it is said, used to consider his services in the senate in a legal light, and charge fees for them. Reverdy Johnson did the same, and so did other statesmen of the good old days when all was pure, and God ruled the land when men were men.

SNEEZE! SNEEZE! SNEEZE! until you feel your nose ready to fly off, until your nose and eyes discharge excessive mucus, until you feel a burning, itching, watery, stinging, or aching in the nose, until you have a sore throat, until you have a headache, until you have a fever, until you have a cough, until you have a cold, until you have a flu, until you have a pneumonia, until you have a bronchitis, until you have a laryngitis, until you have a pharyngitis, until you have a tonsillitis, until you have a sinusitis, until you have a meningitis, until you have an encephalitis, until you have a myelitis, until you have a neuritis, until you have a neuropathy, until you have a neurosis, until you have a psychosis, until you have a somatization disorder, until you have a conversion disorder, until you have a hysterical blindness, until you have a hysterical deafness, until you have a hysterical paralysis, until you have a hysterical contracture, until you have a hysterical anesthesia, until you have a hysterical analgesia, until you have a hysterical mutism, until you have a hysterical muteness, until you have a hysterical dumbness, until you have a hysterical blindness, until you have a hysterical deafness, until you have a hysterical paralysis, until you have a hysterical contracture, until you have a hysterical anesthesia, until you have a hysterical analgesia, until you have a hysterical mutism, until you have a hysterical muteness, until you have a hysterical dumbness.

Advertisement for COLLINS' VOLTAGE, featuring an illustration of a battery and text describing its benefits for various ailments.