BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Bids for Grading Rejected.

This body met at their rooms last night. Present, the president and Messrs. Conover, Gibbon, Lovley, Parker and Sprecht. After reading the journal of the report of City Treasurer Buck was read, showing money due the schools of the city as follows: Cash, $49,344.16; sinking fund, $11,148.07, and bonds on deposit, $72,500.

J. M. Wolfe wrote his readiness to furnish the board with his city directory. Referred to the supply committee. The resignation of Margaret M. McCague, a teacher of the eighth grade, was accepted.

E. J. Brennan's account for work on the high school building's retaining wall for $500 was allowed.

The application to teach of Mrs. (7) E. J. Shirley was read and the superintendent authorized to engage her if a vacancy occur.

A firm sent in an application to put lightning rods on a number of school buildings. Referred.

E. W. Simral, attorney, sent in a communication that two firms in the city sold Welsch beer without license, and if required to pay license would have to close their business, and asked for strict action in the premises. Referred to a committee of three--Messrs. Livesey, Gibbon and Parker--to investigate and report.

Two hundred dollars were allowed as part of contract with attorneys for the board in the wholesale liquor suit.

REPORTS. Committee on claims reported a number of claims and recommended that they be allowed. Allowed and warrants ordered for same.

Committee on building, etc., reported the conclusion of a contract with Stewart & Hamill for grading on Twenty-eighth and Farnam streets. Adopted.

Parker offered the following: Resolved That the board of education cause the immediate removal of a building on the Hartman school site (not the property of the board of education) and the costs of removal be charged to the board. Adopted.

The census report shows an increase in the attendance of pupils as follows: First ward, 156; Second ward, 382; Fourth ward, 181; Fifth ward, 171; Sixth ward, 448; Third ward, a decrease of 50. Total increase, 1122.

Livesey moved that the contract with Shaw and Field for the construction of certain bills be so amended as to enable them to draw their money when their work shall be accepted. This motion strikes out the sixty day clause of the contract. Adopted.

Speech then moved that Shaw and Field file bonds in $15,000 for proper performance of contract, to be approved by the president and secretary of the board. Adopted.

The several bids for work of grading the school property on Eighteenth and Castelar streets were then opened as follows: The secretary informing the board that each bidder had been told that a certified check for $200 must accompany his bid to insure performance of contract if bid was accepted. Pat Welsh offered to grade the ground for 18 cents per cubic yard. S.ewart & Hamill offered to grade it for 17 cents, Peter McGowan for 17 cents (with offer to give bond), Morsen, Morsen & Kent for 17, and E. D. Callahan for 15 cents. Each bid except McGowan's was accompanied by a check.

On motion of Mr. Sprecht all these bids were rejected, and the committee on buildings and property were empowered and directed to contract for the grading on such terms as they thought best and proper. Adjourned.

POLICE COURT.

Monday Morning Business--The Miller Case.

In the police court yesterday morning there was the usual crowd of prisoners and spectators.

C. W. Hopkins was found guilty of intoxication and fined $5 and costs. J. Brannegan, A. Munson, George Fish, J. Duffy and J. Allen were likewise guilty and were accorded the usual sentence.

John Strayher, a periodical contributor to the police court fund, put in appearance yesterday morning in the role of disipated bum. He acknowledged plaintively in answer to the judge's query, that he had been somewhat intoxicated, but would leave town at once if the mercy of the court were so extended to him. He was met at this point by a prompt refusal from Judge Benke and accorded a fine of $1 and costs and ten days in the county jail.

Barton Hill, another man about one-third of whose life is spent in serving police court sentences, was given similar treatment.

William McGee and Pat Gilligan became involved in a row at the Ekhorn house Saturday night and the latter was badly bruised. Both were arrested and jailed. McGee, when arraigned, this morning presented the charmingly ingenious plea that Gilligan had assaulted him first, and that he had merely returned the compliment in striking back. He refused to plead guilty and sustained a continuance of his case.

Cora Miller, alias Harmon, was arraigned on the charge of writing an obscene and threatening letter to Della Ayres. She pleaded not guilty and was put under bonds for a future appearance. The complaint, however, was afterwards withdrawn by the Ayres woman. The dispute was a triling one and arose from the usual female jealousies. Both parties belong to the lower stratum and the prima facie of the ill-feeling is a well known sporting man.

Journalistic Courtesies. What A Rural Paper Thinks of Its Contemporary.

The following refined paragraph from the Grand Island Democrat puts Omaha's metropolitan papers to the blush:

Elder Hedde, of the Independent, is on a strange tack. We did not believe him capable of the greatest impudence; but probably distant stranger, with three helpless little ones, to save them from want and herself, perhaps, from crime and shame. She only asks for work or opportunity to secure it. It is but a poor boon she craves--the chance to earn bread for her children.

PERSONAL. Major Davis, of Wahoo, arrived in Omaha yesterday morning.

Mrs. C. F. Spooner is just recovering from a severe attack of scarlet fever.

Mr. G. H. Gurley, clerk of the county court, has the thanks of the Bee for courtesies.

Mrs. W. H. Allen, of De Kalb, Illinois, is in Omaha visiting with her children, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Spooner, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Allen and C. H. Allen.

Mr. Thomas M. Owens, for a long time resident in Utica, N. Y., is visiting with Geo. C. Hobbs for the probable intention of making Omaha his future home.

At the Millard--W. J. Dennis, Ashland; W. H. Dodd, Hastings; W. L. Browne, Plattsmouth; C. C. Crowell, Blair; Wm. Gale, Winona; C. C. Hamilton, Cincinnati.

Brother Chapman, of the Grand Island Times, was in the city yesterday. He reported the election interests running high in his town, and a splendid rainfall all through central Nebraska.

The Mortimer & Weaver Dramatic company, which opens at Wood's museum this week, arrived in the city Sunday afternoon. The members, thirteen in all, are stopping at the Arcade.

K. L. Knudsen leaves next Thursday evening for New York city, where he has accepted a position on one of the steamship lines as instructor.

Mr. George Higgins, the well known Dodge street liquor man and restaurateur, will shortly sell out his business and take a trip south, in the hope of recuperating his health. He will, upon return to this city, go into other business.

BLUFFS' COUNCIL.

The Question of Closing the Saloons Provis a Puzzle.

Much Miscellaneous Business Done.

There was a jam of citizens to listen to council proceedings last night, it being understood that the petition for closing the saloons would be presented, that some new city officers would be elected, and other important business transacted.

After the preliminary business the celebrated petition for closing the saloons was presented and read in full. Mr. Jacob Sims made a few remarks in behalf of the petitioners. He said they were in earnest, and hoped that the council would not treat the matter lightly. It was estimated that at least a million dollars of taxable property was represented in the petition.

Mr. John Lindt probably representing the opposition, though he did not say so. He said he was surprised to see respectable citizens allowing their names to be associated with so many names of persons who could not get a dollar of credit in the city. The names of respectable men were few and far between on the petition. He said there was a revenue of $24,000 from the saloons for "the perpetration" of the city government. The petitioners proposed to steal this $24,000 out of the pockets of the honest taxpayers by a fanatical theory. He believed that some who signed the petition were forgers and counterfeiters.

Ald. Stenroth moved that the petition be referred to a special committee of three, with instructions to ascertain how large a proportion of property owners were represented on the petition, how much taxes they paid in 1884, and publish all the facts when ascertained, and in the mean time to allow any other property owners to sign the petition, the committee to report at the next meeting.

Ald. Shugart advised moderation, and suggested that a consultation should be had between the men on both sides and reasons given pro and con, so that the wisest and best action should be taken.

Ald. Bennett objected to that portion of the resolution providing for printing the names, etc.

At the suggestion of Ald. Shugart the number of the committee was changed to four, so that the mayor could be one. The resolutions were adopted by a unanimous vote, and Aldermen Sledentop, Shugart and Bennett, with the mayor.

Ald. Sledentop offered a resolution, instructing the committee on fire department, police and gaslight to look over the matters with a view of cutting down all expenses to the lowest point, in view of the possibility of being deprived of the saloon licenses; also that license committee prepare to provide for making lawyers, hotel men, restaurants, druggists, retail dealers, etc., pay license to get them to make up deficit.

Geo. B. Farham and others claimed $1500 damages to property by Indian Creek sewer. Referred.

Petition of Wm. Brix for $385 damage by reason of apraining his ankle by defective sidewalk.

A large number of sidewalk petitions were presented and referred.

Geo. B. Farham and others claimed $1500 damages to property by Indian Creek sewer. Referred.

Petition was presented in favor of extending fire limits on Broadway to Ninth street.

Samuel Wallace petitioned for position of street supervisor. Filed.

The opening of bids for sewerage on Fifth avenue was postponed until next Monday evening.

The council then adjourned until that time.

A MISSING IOWAN.

Finding of the Skeleton of a Man Who Disappeared a Year Ago.

The Last Trace of Him in Council Bluffs.

On the 4th of April, 1884, Henry Dyer, of St. Mary's township in Mills county, came to this city and made some purchases at Morrison's store. He shipped the goods from here and wrote to his wife that he was going from here to Glenwood for a day or two. Since then nothing has been seen or heard of him, and all search for traces of his whereabouts have been in vain. Yesterday morning some section men discovered the skeleton of a man lying in the swamp about one mile and a half below Wright's station. Some one remembering the disappearance of Dyer, started the investigation, and the missing man's wife was sent for to see if she could identify the remains. She recognized it at once, by the clothing and by a pipe and pocket knife. Coroner Cannell went on horse back to inquire, but there was little to be learned as to how he came to his death. The theory was that Dyer got off at Wright's station, either by mistake, or more probably with the intention of taking a short cut for home, and that he became lost in the swamp and perished from exposure or by drowning, there being much water there about a year ago. There was found in his pocket $5.85, but nothing throwing any light upon his mysterious disappearance and death. Dyer had been teaching school in St. Mary township just before his disappearance. He was aged 47 years, and had a family consisting of a wife and two or three children.

Took a Skip. Mrs. Drummond, wife of an Omaha painter, had some trouble with her husband, and soon after the quarrel skipped out with a "doctor" named McKennam, who lately worked Mills county in the interest of some medical institution at Omaha. Mrs. Drummond's parents, named Oeler, and living at Wheeler's Grove, being informed that "the doctor and their daughter had gone to Griswold and there registered at the hotel as man and wife, Mrs. Oeler filed information charging her own daughter with bigamy and sent the sheriff after them. The officer arrived too late, they having gone elsewhere.

A Cruel Joke.

"It disturbed us all greatly, of course, but I am happy to say, it was wholly without foundation. Not a word of truth in it. It was a canard gotten up as a joke in New York by some members of the club and taken up by the papers and telegraph and flashed throughout the land. It was not intended to do any body injury, but it severely troubled all our family who happen to be away at visiting places in the south and elsewhere." These were the words of Harry Oelrichs to a Bee reporter Sunday as he grasped his hand at the Paxton. Their explanation is this: Some time, perhaps ten days ago, a telegram came over the wires that a duel was about to be fought by two New York gentlemen of high social and business standing, which had set society agog, and it was sensational in the extreme. One of the parties named was Herman Oelrichs, Esq., who is one of the most highly respected and beloved men in metropolitan New York City. The telegram was noticed by his friends in Nebraska and elsewhere, but each felt a delicacy in imparting the information to his brother who was on his cattle ranch in Wyoming. He found it out, however, and immediately started east, telegraphing a friend in Omaha of the fact. Upon arriving in Chicago, he met his brother Charley and learned the truth as before stated. Of course Mr. Oelrichs was highly gratified to learn that instead of fighting a duel his brother had gone off with a party of friends on a duck hunting trip.
