

THE DAILY BEE

Tuesday Morning, April 7,

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Robert Miller and Frances Higgins were married in this city on April 4th by Rev. Charles W. Savidge.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Geo. P. Browne and Carrie L. Robbins, John Hansmann and Katerina Rix.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Christian association will be held at their room on Tuesday, April 7th at 2 p. m.

There will be a rehearsal for the ladies preparatory to the May festival, at Max Meyer's music hall at 2:30 this evening.

Yesterday Dr. Galbraith reduced a painful dislocation of the shoulder, suffered by a stranger, who fell down a flight of stairs.

The chorus for ladies and gentlemen will rehearse Thursday, at 8 p. m., at Max Meyer's music hall, preparatory to the May festival.

Mr. Daly, who is employed at the U. P. shops, yesterday had his thumb fractured by the falling of an iron pin. He was at once attended to by the company's physician.

The eve before the battle was passed in busy plottings and counter plottings on the part of the opposing forces and the stillness that precedes the action pervaded the city.

The Musical Union orchestra has been engaged to play regularly at Wood's museum, which of itself will be a feature of this institution. Prof. H. T. Irvine will lead the company.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will hold a prayer meeting in their parlors over the lunch room, corner Fifteenth and Capitol avenues, Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., April 7. All are invited to attend. By order of the secretary.

A large dog assaulted a six-year-old girl on Seventeenth and Cumby yesterday morning. Serious injuries would undoubtedly have resulted had not Officer Fuller, attracted to the spot by the cries of the little girl and a companion, come to the rescue. The savage animal was driven off with a pistol.

A man who was zealously working for one of the candidates for mayor yesterday received a three inch scalp cut at the hands of a barber who knows how to wield a poker as well as a razor. The voter was angry and said he could "cut out the heart of his partner about politics." The rash near the place that brains are supposed to be may enable him to cool off by the opening of the polls.

The city clerk's office now contains the ballot boxes, twenty in number, which will be used to-morrow. Several new ones have been bought in provision for the extra polling places on account of the division of the Fourth and Sixth wards. A duplicate set has also been provided for the funding proposition. The boxes with usual stationery will be distributed to-night or early to-morrow morning.

Judge Bartlett rendered decision last week in the case of Mollie Scott against John E. Edwards. The suit was one brought by the plaintiff for damages by reason of failure of Edwards to rent her a home, as agreed. Judgment was given Mrs. Scott for $30 and costs. Edwards claims that the first month's rent, paid in advance by the woman, was garnished by her debtors, and hence he could not refund it to her.

A man by the name of Jacob Hartman called at this office this morning and claimed that he had been assaulted in Pat Ford's Tenth street saloon, about twelve o'clock Saturday night. He said that there was no provocation except differences of political opinion. He dared to uphold his opinions as a republican, while the Ford gang tried to choke his enthusiasm out and replace it with democratic fervor.

Bishop Worthington, the new diocesan Episcopal functionary, was tendered a reception last night at the parlors of the Millard. The reception began at 6 o'clock and closed at 10. During the time a large number of Trinity people, as well as members of other Episcopal congregations paid their respect to the worthy bishop. The occasion was a most pleasant one and will no doubt serve to strengthen the fast forming ties between the bishop and his people.

The following awful manifesto has been received at these headquarters: That old scoundrel, with gray hair and a long beard who rode out to Hancock's park on the rear part of the last car Saturday night, and who grossly insulted an unaccompanied young lady who was obliged to stand crowded against the door, wants to take this to heart, that the next time he commits such an assault something will take hold of him that will act quicker than law; for were it not for the disgraceful character of the affair, he would long ago have been answered for his chicanery at a bar of justice.

To EXCHANGE—440 acres well improved and 2 mite from Essex, Ia., for a stock of general merchandise. Address, John Linderholm, Essex, Ia.

The food father smiles a proud, paternal smile as he receives congratulations.

Dr. Peck has removed his office from 14th street to rooms 3 and 4, No. 1511 Dodge street next west of postoffice.

THE DECISIVE DAY.

The City Election of To-day the Absorbing Topic.

The Tickets in the Field and Where to Vote.

Tuesday's sun dawned upon the all-eventful day when the people of Omaha will be called upon to deposit their ballots in the biennial municipal election, which will place in office a mayor, treasurer, auditor, police judge, six councilmen and three members of the board of education.

It is hardly necessary to say that the contest will be a hard and bitter one. There may not be quite so lively a time as when four years ago the fight against Hascallity and rascality was made; but the political acer of this journal feels safe in predicting that the local temperature will be sufficiently warm to send the mercury in the thermometer of politics whizzing up past the nineties.

The betting on the present contest is not so lively as it was at the last presidential election, partly because the issues are not so interesting and partly because last year betting results brought many sad surprises, and half of the community is afraid to venture great sums. Boyd's henchmen who were wildly offering $1,000-to-a-cent bets at the opening of the campaign have drawn in their horns and are accepting wagers even.

Of course there are a few of the foolishly prodigal, ever ready and willing to dissipate the fruitage of hard ancestral toil, who are offering bets two to one on Boyd, but on the whole the followers of the democratic chieftain are very willing to compromise on an even basis.

As the day draws near, the Murphy men grow more hopeful and claim that the future will produce for them a decisive victory.

There are five tickets in the field. It is not probable that very many straight ballots will be cast. Scratching to suit individual tastes will be the order. The following are the various tickets:

EASTER SUNDAY.

A Review of the Services at the Churches Sunday.

Easter Sunday was a beautiful day, perfectly typical, in the repose of the elements, of peace and calm. The usual religious celebration of the day was observed in all the churches throughout city, and in the Catholic and Episcopal houses of worship, the rites were of the usual solemn and impressive character.

At St. Philomena cathedral the services were attended by a vast audience, which completely filled the church. The floral decorations were beautiful, the altars being covered with a profusion of flowers.

Solemn high mass was celebrated by Father McCarthy, assisted by Fathers O'Connor and Kelley. A short and eloquent Easter sermon was preached by Father O'Connor. The music was an especial feature of the service. Mozart's Twelfth Mass was sung by the choir, under the direction of Miss Fannie Arnold, and the rendition was probably never excelled by this organization. Lambello's "Regina Coeli" was also sung by the choir, while the McCreary Brothers' quartette rendered Solges' celebrated "Veni Creator."

At the Holy Family cathedral, which was bedecked with tastefully arranged flowers, the morning services consisted of solemn high mass, the sermon being delivered by the Rev. Father Finney, president of Creighton college. The regular choir, assisted by Mrs. S. B. Reed, sang Weber's celebrated mass in "G." St. Clair's "Ave Maria" was sung by Mrs. Reed as an offertory solo.

Trinity cathedral was thronged yesterday morning and evening. The services, both of ritual and song, were solemn and beautifully complete. The church was filled with flowers, which were arranged so as to produce the most artistic effect. Holy communion was celebrated at 8 a. m., while at 10:30 there were communion and confirmation exercises. In the afternoon at 4 o'clock the children of the Sabbath school participated in a service of carols. The music for the festival service in the morning and the evening songs were pleasingly rendered by the large choir specially drilled for the occasion.

At St. Barnabas Episcopal church there was a low celebration at 6:30 in the morning; matins and high celebration at 11 a. m., with appropriate evening service.

At St. Mary's Episcopal church Easter services were held at 11 o'clock, with special songs, preaching and confirmatory orders by Bishop Worthington.

The First Congregational church services were largely attended, both morning and evening. The exercises consisted of Easter anthems and selections by the choir, with sermon and appropriate scripture readings.

At the St. Mary's avenue Congregational church, special musical services were held in the morning, with music by regular choir. These services were followed by the baptism of infants, the reception of thirteen members and the administration of the Lord's Supper.

At the Lutheran Memorial church the ceremonies were highly impressive. The following was the order of music: Quartette, "Christ Our Passover," Danks Gloria Patri, special musical services, Alto and tenor solos with chorus, "The Savior hath risen," Williams.

All Hail the glorious one, Schneider. Soprano solo—The Resurrection, Holden. Yes, the Redeemer Risen, Mason. Dology, EVENING.

Praise ye the Father, Gonnod. Gloria Patri, special musical services. Bonum est confiteri, Russell. Memorial anthem, Dudley Buck. What sinners value, Yenger. Soprano solo, "Christ is Risen To-day," I have a home, Emerson.

The services of the other evangelical churches were appropriate to Easter, and the congregations were large.

Fraudulent Voters, Beware! There is one thing that ought to be firmly impressed upon the minds of all intending voters, and that is that fraud at the polls to-day will not be tolerated. Repeaters and persons who are not naturalized citizens of the United States, or whose term of residence in the state, county, or precinct is not as long as prescribed by law, or who are not of legal voting age, are warned that fraud at the polls is a penitentiary offense and detection and prosecution will inevitably ensue.

The following foreigners have been naturalized within the past three days, with a view, it is thought, of having them vote to-day: Alexander Becklund, T. Proplach, Joseph Fretz, Henry Bruus, C. Herman Goldapp, Franz Ballgard, John Marritz, August Joneschot, Johann Winter, John Schmitt, William Strupat, Christoph Kinver, Lorenz Klendorty, Mathias Thaller, Jacob Fischer, Ferdinand Satter, Michael Simons, Johannes Galtz, Sem Bekovic, Charles Patourusky, John Engler, Jacob Schults, Frank Fliser, Herman Borkiser, Ferdinand Neumann, John McNulty, Dan McNulty, S. W. Campbell, R. B. Freeman, J. J. Sweeney, O. J. Lemmon, John McGrade, John T. Steen.

There are many cheap cosmetics offered for sale, which claim to contain nothing injurious to the skin. This is all both. All, or very nearly all, are compounded from the most deleterious and poisonous drugs in the materia medica. They destroy the vitality of the skin, making the consumer prematurely withered and old. J. A. Pozzoni guarantees his medicated complexion powder entirely free from all injurious matter. Use none other and you will never regret it. Put one cent and $1 per box. Sold by all druggists and perfumers.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure. This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kind, and it makes the best quality of cake, pies, etc. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 108 WALL ST. N. Y.

COURT NOTES.

District Court News—A Brace of Damage Suits.

In the district court yesterday the case of R. Kimball & Co. against Hugh McGavock & Co., was called for trial. The suit is one brought by the ice firm to recover $3,650 for damages to property, which, it is alleged, were caused by the careless action of McGavock & Co. in grading Tenth street in 1883. It is alleged that the instructions of the city engineer were not heeded, and that, as a consequence, the ice houses on Davenport street were undermined and impaired in the sum named.

Mrs. Mary G. Scholler filed a suit against Samuel G. Stevenson, claiming $5,000 damages. Mrs. S. claims that by the action of Stevenson in ill-treating her, his tenant, and by reason of his slandering and maligning her, her feelings and good name have been injured in the amount indicated.

A suit was commenced by Harry O. Gill against the Burlington and Missouri River railroad company. The plaintiff in his petition sets forth that in June, 1884, he was employed by the corporation defendant as a labor hand on the "Kenesaw Cut-off," that he was riding on the 30th day of June on the front car of a freight train which was propelled by an engine in the rear; that a "wild" freight car came rushing down an opposite grade and struck the car on which he was sitting, knocking him off and injuring him severely; and damages are asked for in the sum of $10,000.

UNITED STATES COURT. Deputy Marshal Allen has just returned from Madison where he finished selling the dry goods stock of Gross brothers to satisfy the claims of the Fremd Bros. clothing company of Chicago.

Spotting the "unfortunate." "See those two men watching that drunken fellow?" said a policeman to a reporter Saturday night, about the hour graveyards do yawn, etc. He was watching a brace of suspicious looking fellows who were strolling down Capitol avenue, apparently without any particular purpose.

"Yes," replied the reporter, wonderingly, "why?" "They are professional spotters and make regular business of following up intoxicated men. When they fall by the wayside these plunderers go through their pockets and take whatever they can find in the way of money and valuables. Yes, there are many of these fellows in Omaha," and the "cop" started on a run to overtake the carion fiends.

SOUTH OMAHA. The Advantage of Settling in the New Town.

The title "South Omaha" does not mean the southern part of the city of Omaha, but is the name of the thriving town commencing at the Union Stock yards on the south, and extending for a mile and a half north, nearly connecting with thirty miles of Omaha.

The company have again concluded to put on sale 1,000 lots, and let the purchasers of the same realize the profit which the enhanced value of these lots is sure to make. It now being an assured fact that South Omaha is destined in the near future to be the largest live stock market west of Chicago, there can be no doubt that the property in a few years will be worth five or even ten times the amount that it can be bought for to-day.

Some may ask: If this is so, why do not the company keep it and realize this profit themselves? The answer is, that in order to make lots valuable, there must be improvements on or surrounding them, and as is the case in all new towns, special inducements must be offered at first to get the people to take hold and build.

There are probably more such inducements offered by South Omaha than were ever put forth by any new town. The large business done by the stock yards company and the immense slaughter and packing houses together with their auxiliaries are no small features in the aggregate of events that are destined to make South Omaha a large place. Again, the town is not an addition to Omaha, and is not liable for city taxes, although it enjoys all the benefits from the growth of Omaha that it would if it were just outside the city limits, but being just outside, only county taxes are collected, which are merely nominal. The town owns and operates its own water works, which furnish an abundant supply of pure spring water. Daily trains will run on the B. & M. and U. P. railways every hour, stopping at the north and of the town site as well as at the stock yards. The Thirtieth street horse cars will run to Heacock's park this spring, and to the stock yards at no distant day. The high altitude makes the location a healthy one.

Of course there are those who do not believe that South Omaha will amount to much. This kind of people didn't believe Chicago would ever be anything better than a cranberry bog, that Omaha would ever overtake her village clothes, that there never could be any fruit raised in Nebraska, etc., etc. Who made it win? The sceptics, or those that had an abiding faith in the energy, intelligence and resources of this great country?

For information, maps, prices and terms apply at the company's office, 216 S. Thirtieth street, Merchant's National Bank Building, first floor.
