

THE DAILY BEE

Thursday Morning, April 9,

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The colored people met in the dancing academy last night and had a pleasant social time. In the first ward—a democratic stronghold, Justice Stenberg received 337 votes for Police Judge. The case of David S. Kohnkowsky vs. J. F. Para, replevin, will be heard before Justice Stenberg to-day. Mayor-elect Boyd will take the reins of government at an early day now. Then "we shall see what we shall see." The Union Star club dance and sociable will come off in Metropolitan hall, Fourteenth and Dodge, next Friday evening. A guest of a prominent hotel last evening was greatly incensed at the conduct of an employe of the omnibus line of this city. Bernard Soelker, a green German from St. Louis, was confiscated out of $20 by a couple of men who operate at the Council Bluffs transfer yesterday. At the second ward voting place on Tuesday night several well known men of position came to hot words and almost to blows. Why were these things thus? Adolph Pfander, the bright little fellow in the barber shop between Farnam and Douglas streets, has a corn cob that he uses in his boot-black business with which he performs wonders. Its history as told by him is remarkable. At the annual meeting of St. Barnabas the following wardens were chosen: George F. Labangh and Charles W. Mead; vestry men, William R. Bowen, Daniel W. Woodman, Milton H. Goble, Abner W. Nason, Samuel J. Rheem, Horatio L. Seward and Robert Eason. William D. Hamilton, of Galton, Mo., and Miss Minnie Miller, of Omaha, were married in this city on Tuesday evening, April 7, at the residence of Mr. M. M. Davidson, 811 North 17th street, Rev. Charles W. Savidge, officiating. Mr. Hamilton is a prominent lawyer of Galton, Mo. The happy couple took the evening train for their future home in Missouri. Seal of North Carolina Tobacco is the best.

A Life Stain

Within a short time a gentleman came to Omaha from another part of Nebraska, to spend some time in visit and recuperation after a long and continuous confinement at his business. Along with him came another man whom he knew by sight, possibly had a speaking acquaintance with him, but they were not traveling together as particular friends. The former gentleman brought some money with him and put it in the keeping of a friend here in Omaha, telling him if he needed any at any time he would come or send for such sums as he might wish to use. This conversation was overheard by the person above mentioned, who happened to come to Omaha on the same train with the owner of the money. This other person, whose name is withheld now for apparent reasons, followed the gentleman seeking rest wherever he went in Omaha and made himself generally obnoxious thereby. A day or so after arriving here he borrowed a small sum of money saying he had only large bills and could not just then get them changed. Later still the gentleman who had taken the visitor's money to keep for him cashed an order apparently signed by the owner of the deposited money for $45, payable to the "other man" whose name is withheld for the present. This order was a forgery. The BEE reporter was told of it by the owner of the money and the person who paid the bogus order, and has said nothing before because he was requested not to do so. It is likely that the party is or will soon be captured as he is well known throughout the state and cannot escape if he would. The worst part of it is that he has a wife at home and a profession that would enable him to do well, but which will be useless to him now, for this thing is known and the members of that calling who act dishonestly and are found out had, generally speaking, as well enter that gateway, the passage through which is said to "leave all hope behind." The culprit is well known throughout the country, is young and a good man in his profession, but for the paltry sum of less than half a hundred dollars he has brought a stain upon his life and fame that will be away. This is all there is to be made public at present.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

A Close and Exciting Contest--The Mugwumps Score a Victory By Close Majorities.

Complete Returns From All Wards--Fraud.

Had a stranger visited Omaha Tuesday and walked throughout the city he would have been convinced that it is a most active business centre, and that day one of peculiar business engagements. And so it was, for the people of the metropolis were in dead earnest to express their preference for a chief magistrate who should represent principles that had been to some extent clearly defined. There was no mob conduct; no riotous behavior, no open attempts to deprive men of their privileges as citizens, but a deep and silent interest marked the conduct of the people and the large vote polled and the very significant result of the contest evinced the popular feeling and appreciation of the question at issue. The usual peculiar passages between ardent friends of the respective candidates broke the monotony that deep earnestness at times seemed to throw about the polling places, but nothing occurred that called for police interference or to cast a shadow on Omaha's good name. Below is a complete statement of the vote as reported to this office:

FIFTH WARD--FIRST DISTRICT. Mayor--Boyd 286; Murphy 356. Police Judge--Weiss 226; Stenberg, 421. Treasurer--Buck 648. Auditor--Lewis, 395; Long, 335. In this voting precinct there is every reason to believe that there has been fraud. It is known almost to a certainty that over a hundred votes which should have been recorded for Murphy, have been suppressed, in Boyd's favor. So that while Murphy should have had a majority of 170, his lead was figured out as only 70. That too, in a ward which was known to be overwhelmingly for the republican and workingmen's candidate.

SIXTH WARD--FIRST DISTRICT. Mayor--Boyd 200; Murphy 247. Police Judge--Stenberg 340; Weiss 101. Treasurer--Buck 442. Auditor--Long 301; Lewis 142. Councilmen--Goodman 342; Lee 229; Burmeister 254; Hitchcock 292; Redfield 377; Bailey 311; Lowrey 92; Schroeder 391; Meyer 157; Goodrich 197; Dalley 263; O'Malley 153. Auditor--Long, 287; Lewis, 180. Councilmen--Lowrey, 115; Schroeder, 147; Meyer, 122; Goodrich, 216; Dalley, 248; O'Malley, 205; Goodman, 303; Burmeister, 310; Hitchcock, 271; Redfield, 212; Bailey, 293; Lee's 364.

RECAPITULATION. So far as the face of the returns it is to be relied upon, Boyd has been elected mayor over Murphy by a majority of 106. The balance of the ticket is as follows: Treasurer--Truman Buck. Auditor--E. K. Long. Police Judge--E. M. Stenberg. Councilmen--Thomas Dalley, Charles S. Goodrich, Charles Schroeder, demagogue; and Charles F. Goodman, F. E. Bailey and Michael Lee, republicans. Board of Education--Henry Livesey, William Coburn and H. G. Clark. According to the special provision of the statute, the returns will not be officially canvassed until next Monday night. In the First and Third wards, as in others, there is no doubt but that frauds have been perpetrated. Illegal voters were imported to vote in the third ward from the stock yards, for instance; although their names were not on the registration lists. A number of arrests will be made, and the matter will be sifted to the bottom. An example of delicious "gall" is found in the action of Mr. Colpater, who carried off the ballot box of the First ward, notwithstanding the protests of several citizens. His object in desiring to hold several hours' of sweet, solitary communion with the sacred receptacle can be well imagined. As indications now are, it is safe to say that on a fair and square count, the majority belongs to Mr. P. F. Murphy.

Poison at the Front Door. No article entering so generally into the food of every family has been found more villainously adulterated than baking powder. For the purpose of underselling these powders of absolute purity and wholesomeness which alone are safe for use in food, hundreds of dealers are putting up baking powders with cheap and adulterated cream of tartar, which contains lime, earth, etc., adding strength by the free use of alum. These adulterated powders are "shoved" upon the public with the greatest persistency. They are first given away--left in samples at private residences--with circulars containing bogus analyses and certificates, and false representations as to their value, etc. This of itself is sufficient to condemn them. A first class article will sell on its merits. No manufacturer whose goods are of value can afford to give them away, and none but the cheapest make and most inferior or unmarketable goods require to be distributed free in order to get the public to use them, and this method is only adopted by parties who have failed to dispose of their wares through the ordinary and legitimate channels of trade.

Free samples of articles of food left at the house should be regarded with suspicion. There is no guarantee of their wholesomeness, while there is real danger that they contain a fatally poisonous compound. Many instances of poisoning from the use of such samples are recorded. The only safe way is to consign all such samples immediately to the ash barrel, and to turn a deaf ear to the statements made by their vendors. It is not worth while to trifle with life and health to the extent of testing every doubtful baking powder that comes along. Better to rely upon an old and reliable brand, like the Royal, which has by a quarter of a century's constant use proved its perfect wholesomeness and leavening power. Its own merits have been its chief advertisement, and they have secured for it the constant patronage of the American people to an extent beyond the combined sale of all other baking powders. The Royal Baking Powder is certified by all the government chemists as absolutely pure and perfect.

Ball of Company "G," Fourth Infantry. The event of the season at Fort Omaha was the ball given by Major William H. Powell's Company "G," Fourth Infantry, on Monday evening last. Precisely at 9:30 a. m. the grand march was formed, the first sergeant of the company, Charley Mayer, and Mrs. Mayer leading--music being furnished by the full brass band of the regiment. Eighty-four couples took part, and the merry dance was enjoyed by as lively a crowd as could be wished for. Full dress was worn by the men, the mingling of the different uniforms of the service with the bright colors of the ladies was a scene not soon forgotten.

The company quarters were beautifully decorated with the national and regimental colors of the gallant Fourth on the east end of the room, underneath which bright sailing rifles were stacked. On the west end was a shield of crossed sabres, headed by the letter of the company--"G." On the north and south sides the star spangled banner, interspersed with small flags displaying the different corps badges of the war, which brought recollections of days spent on the tented field to many who were present.

Supper was served at 11:30 p. m. and the tables were filled with all the delicacies of the season, which were done ample justice by a happy throng. It would be doing injustice did we not say every member of Company G, 4th Infantry, has the best wishes of their guests for their gentlemanly and soldier-like endeavor to make every one "feel happy." In which they were successful.

There were too many "bells of the ball" for a decision to be given, fearing a "curtain lecture"--your correspondent being married.

The Tyler Matter. It will be remembered that some days ago an article appeared in these columns relative to the actions of Capt. C. J. Tyler, in the alleged treatment of certain children in his neighborhood.

Mr. Tyler denies the tale of the scandal, and declares that the stories of the three children as told to their parents, are false in every particular. It is but fair to allow Mr. Tyler, who has been long and favorably known in this city, to defend himself from the serious charges which have been preferred against him. A letter has been received at the office, written by a friend of the Tyler family and containing an explanation of the affair, which is reprinted as presenting the main points of Mr. Tyler's defense.

"I understand that one of the girls connected with this business was expelled from a Catholic school recently for telling a similar story concerning one of the sisters engaged in teaching; that this was the subject matter of conversation between this girl and several others who were in Mr. Tyler's back yard getting water; that they quarreled among themselves and Mr. Tyler directed them to go home, and that they did go in considerable anger. One of them was reproved by her mother (a woman of considerable temper) for delay in getting the water and was asked 'What did Uncle Tyler say to you?' to which she replied, 'Nothing.' The mother insisted on some other kind of an answer, and finally threatened to cut her tongue out with a butcher-knife, and then the child told a story similar to that she had just listened to about the teacher. Such is the story told me in such a way that I believe it in preference to believing wholly depraved a man seventy years of age, who has lived in Omaha for twenty years and has always borne a good character."

Mrs. Tyler denies that she ever believed in her husband's guilt. She has from the first trusted implicitly in his innocence and has never made any statement which would indicate otherwise.

SOUTH OMAHA. The Advantage of Settling in the New Town. The title "South Omaha" does not mean the southern part of the city of Omaha; it is the name of the thriving town commencing at the Union Stock yards on the south, and extending for a mile and a half north, nearly connecting with the city limits of Omaha. The company have again concluded to put on sale 1,000 lots, and let the purchasers of the same realize the profit which the enhanced value of these lots is sure to make. It now being an assured fact that South Omaha is destined--in the near future--to be the largest live stock market west of Chicago, there can be no doubt that this property in a few years will be worth five or even ten times the amount that it can be bought for to-day. Some may ask: If this is so, why do not the company keep it and realize this profit? The answer is, that in order to make lots valuable, there must be improvements on or surrounding them, and as in the case in all new towns, special inducements must be offered at first to get the people to take hold and build. There are probably more such inducements offered by South Omaha than were ever put forth by any new town. The large business done by the stock yards company and the immense slaughter and packing houses together with their auxiliaries are no small feature in the aggregate of events that are destined to make South Omaha a large place. Again, the town is not an addition to Omaha, and is not liable for city taxes, although it enjoys all the benefits from the growth of Omaha that it would if it were just beyond the city limits, but being just outside, only county taxes are collected, which are merely nominal. The town owns and operates its own water works, which furnish an abundant supply of pure spring water. Dummy trains will run on the B. & M. and U. P. railways every hour, stopping at the north end of the town site as well as at the stock yards. The Thirtieth street horse cars will run to Haecall's park this spring, and to the stock yards at no distant day. The high altitude makes the location a healthy one. Of course there are those who do not believe that South Omaha will amount to much. This kind of people didn't believe Chicago would ever be anything better than a cranberry bog, that Omaha would ever outgrow her village clothes, that there never could be any fruit raised in Nebraska, etc., etc. Who made it win? The sceptics, or those that had an abiding faith in the energy, intelligence and resources of this great country? For information, maps, prices and terms apply at the company's office, 216 S. Thirtieth street, Mercantile National Bank Building, first floor. M. A. UPTON, Asst. Sec'y and Manager.
