The remarkable growth of "Omaha during the last few years is a matter of great astoniahment to those who pay an occasional visit to this growing city. The development of the Stock Yards—the necessity of the Belt Line Road—the finely paved streets—the hundreds of new residences and costly business blocks, with the population of our city more than doubled in the last five years. All this is a great surprise to visitors and is the admiration of our citizens. This rapid growth, the business activity, and the many substantial improvements made a lively demand for Omaha real estate, and every investor has made a handsome

Since the Wall Street panie with the subsequent cry of hard times, there has been less demand from speculs tors, but a fair demand from investors seeking homes. This latter class are taking advantage of low prices in build-ing material and are securing their homes at much less cost than will be possible a year hence. Speculators, too, can buy real esta's cheaper now and ought to take advant .. e of present prices for future pro ts.

The next few years promises greates developments in Omaha than the past we could reasonably desire. New man-nfacturing establishments and large jobbing houses are added almost workly, and all add to the prosperity of Omaha. There are many in Omaha and through-
