

THE DAILY BEE COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Thursday Morning, April 23, 1885. OFFICE: No. 12 Pearl Street. MINOR MENTION.

Sam Lewis, of Ruffenberger & Lewis, was killed on Saturday last, at Adair, by the bursting of an emory wheel.

Ed Bates has been fishing in the creek with a seine, and got one dead calf, one hog, and several smaller animals.

A large number of dead dogs are reported as laying in various localities around the city. Where is the board of health and its officers?

Officer Wheeler yesterday afternoon ran in Jno. McLaughlin and John Smith, they being not very drunk but "the drunker he could find."

W. P. Aylsworth yesterday purchased three lots on the corner of Eighth street and Ninth avenue, on which he will shortly build himself a residence.

The county clerk has provided himself with a Remington type-writer, such as that used in the BEE office. The Sheas are already quite skillful operators.

Mary F. Hyde now asks for a divorce from O. J. Hyde, to whom she was married in Ruskville, Ill., in 1856, and who, she claims, deserted her in 1872.

A. H. Sammons, late of St. Joe, is fitting up No. 738 Broadway for the manufacture of mattresses, etc. It is Mr. Sammons' intention to sell to jobbers only.

The X. Y. Z. is planning for a big strawberry festival, just as soon as the first berries appear. The young ladies propose to take the lead in this line this season.

Alonzo Jry Hart, having severed his connection with John Lindt, has opened a neat, attractive and convenient law office, over Hardin's store, No. 506 Broadway.

Work is progressing well on the large brick addition to Larson's laundry building on Broadway, the addition in the rear being of about the same size as the main building.

On Tuesday night at a late hour the Bavarian band serenaded Jacob Schmitt, the manager of the band, at his residence, 720 Broadway, the occasion being his twenty-seventh birthday.

The expressman Schuster, who was reported to be so badly injured in a runaway Tuesday, is not so seriously injured as to prevent his being out and about. His escape was a remarkable one.

William and John Pouter, two boys aged about 12 or 14, left their homes in this city last Thursday, on a foolish boy's trip, and after getting so far as St. Joe, had enough of it, and returned repentant to their homes.

The Council Bluffs Paint Manufacturing company has been covering the roof of the brick building, corner of Broadway and Pearl, by which an opportunity will be given of showing the superiority of this home paint.

W. H. Marble has commenced suit against the Rock Island Railway company, claiming $500 damages on account of his house, corner of Fifteenth street and Tenth avenue, being shaken up by the dynamite explosion of '81.

Bluff City Lodge No. 71, A. F. & A. M., has elected the following officers: T. B. Lacy, W. M.; James Patoerson, S. W.; W. H. Smith, J. W.; G. L. Jacobs, treasurer; L. B. Crafts, secretary; A. J. Brown, S. D.; and M. Duquette, J. D.

The total tax collected for March in this county amounted to $156,054, as compared with $223,000 the corresponding month of 1884. The difference is caused by the new law which allows the taxes to be paid, one half by April 1st, and the other half by October 1st.

The young man who is trying to learn the newspaper business apologized as gracefully as he could in last evening's Herald for the malicious insinuations in regard to the Keeline family's late estate, and confesses that there was no truth in the story to which he gave publicity.

The police are still busy running in tramps, who have been quarantined about the edges of the city and about the railroad yards. Yesterday seven more were brought in and given work on the streets cleaning up the paving, which is now getting in pretty good condition.

Miss Jennie Conthout, the popular elocutionist, has been engaged to give an entertainment here early in May for the benefit of the building fund of St. Paul's Episcopal church. She has won many admirers here by her former appearances and will doubtless draw a large audience again.

Harry Birkenbine, engineer of the water works, has received from Philadelphia, his old home, two large and beautiful photographic views of the new city hall in Philadelphia. One of them he has presented to the city, to be used as an adornment in the old feed store used here as a city hall.

The Mortimer & Weaver dramatic company, who are giving a series of entertainments at the opera house, are gaining in public favor. The low prices at first gave many the impression that that the show was cheap, but after the opening entertainment this impression was done away with largely. The company is a far better one than many which charge fancy prices, and the leading man, J. W. Burton, is an actor who strong and has great versatility. The company is drawing increasing houses, it being evident that the people are pleased both at the popular prices fixed and the excellence of the entertainments.

J. V. McDowell, who has been cashier for Barnham, Tulley & Co., of this city, has gone to Sioux Falls, to look after the branch house there, as resident partner, in place of H. W. Johnson, who retires from the firm. The position of cashier in the house here, thus left vacant, is being filled at present by C. H. Judson, one of the trustees of the firm's employees.

The Sioux City Journal is evidently not well posted in Iowa's laws. It wonders why the governor does not see fit that a man is hung, who has been over a year in the penitentiary under sentence of death. The fact is the law provides that the judge passes the sentence and fixes the date, and that said date must not be less than a year nor more than fifteen months. It may be over a year, therefore, and still no law violated.

The attendance at the weekly entertainments of the Y. M. C. A. is greatly increasing, and on Tuesday evening the crowd extended out into the hallway and down the stairs, a large number not being able to get even standing room. When the young men get moved into their new quarters they will be better able to accommodate their visitors. One of the interesting features of the programme Tuesday evening was a business talk from one of the city's best business men, Mr. E. E. Harkness. It is expected that similar talks from other business and professional men will be secured on practical subjects.

There is a pretty good joke which has leaked out on Fraley and Patton, who are the right and left hand supporters of the mayor. They received a telegram from the mayor urging them to attend the conference of democrats called for the purpose of agreeing on a "divy" of the party patronage, and use their influence for him. The telegram put the place of meeting at Des Moines, and thither they went flying. After getting in Des Moines they learned that the conference was being held at Cedar Rapids, and they could not reach that place before the conference was concluded. The mayor should select sharper lieutenants.

There is quite an emigration from here into Gordon, Sheridan county, in the northwestern part of Nebraska. Among those settling there are G. A. Haywood and family, Joe McGinniss, Sam Buckminster, Morton, Blon Brown, Al McCord, Wells, John Allay, and others. "Carly Bill" and "Baldy," both well known among the boys, are out there, also Dick Ryan, the railroad contractor, is there, and with a partner, named Collins, has a contract for five miles of road. Holshauer & McIntyre, who wintered here, have a contract for another five miles.

One of the saddest cases coming to the attention of the police lately, is that of a young fellow, aged 19, who was strrested as a tramp. The fellow is a wreck physically and apparently so morally. He is suffering from the vilest disease, the result of his licentiousness, and it has progressed so far that the whole roof of his mouth has been eaten away, and the base of his tongue is going fast. One of his legs is a mass of corruption, and a fearful death seems not far off. Like some other boys, he thought he knew more than the old folks, and run away from home to try the world for himself. He has evidently learned the worst side of it.

Artists' Materials at G. R. Beard's Wall Paper Store. Send for price list.

Henry Faul, the ex-cornor, yesterday celebrated his 59th birthday.

Bob Kuntz and Nate Porterfield expect to start Friday morning for Sioux county, Nebraska, to take up lands.

George Kellogg, the happy clerk at the Pacific house, is on the sick list now, and will go to his home in Dunlap to-day to get needed rest and recuperation.

Mrs. E. R. Watson arrived in this city yesterday with her brother, W. D. Cooke, from Kearney, Nebraska, on a visit to her mother. Mrs. Watson has been very ill and hopes to regain lost health while here.

Facts worth remembering when you buy Wall Paper: 1st.—That Beard, next door to postoffice, has the largest stock to select from. 2d.—That his prices are as low as the lowest. 3d.—That he is a practical interior decorator and employs none but skillful workmen.

Back from Denver. Mr. Harding, whose wife is the well-known electrician, is in the city, greeting his many old friends again. Mrs. Harding spent yesterday with Omaha friends, and is expected to be here to-day. They are on their way east, on a brief trip, and will then return to Denver, where they have a large practice. Mr. Harding is greatly improved in health. Mrs. Harding had quite a legal fight on hand on reaching Denver, after leaving here. The other doctors got after her, the state medical board not recognizing the school of electrophy, and as she could therefore not get a certificate from the board, she was arrested and fined $100, but in the outcome she came off victorious, and with the aid of friends and influential persons who had been helped by this mode of treatment, a bill was passed the legislature amending the law, so that now this school of medicine is recognized, and the board issues certificates the same as for other schools. There was a great war made against the bill, and even after it had passed the governor was petitioned and urged not to sign it, but he did, and Mr. and Mrs. Harding are not liable to any more annoyance. After the start was made to get the law changed, the offer was made to Mrs. Harding to give her the desired certificate if her friends would cease their attempt to get the law changed, but she would not consent, declaring that she would not rest easy until the school itself was recognized, so that any of its representatives could have the same privileges as herself.

NEGLECTING HOME.

Herbs and Roots Got by Druggists from the East, While Pottawattamie's Fields are Full of Them.

"Do you know?" said a prominent druggist to the BEE man the other day, "that we druggists send east and buy a good many drugs that we might as well get here, if the resources of the country were developed?" The reporter had to confess ignorance, as he had little use for drugs. "Why, we even send east for catnip, which is grown here in great quantities, and we sell it over the counter to folks who have lots of it on their own places. One of the objects of the pharmaceutical society is to get at the natural resources of Iowa in this line and get lists of the medicinal plants growing in the various counties. Lists have already been prepared in some counties, and although they are not complete, you would be surprised to see how many herbs and roots, used for medicinal purposes, are to be found here, and how we now get from other states."

How many of our plants do you think there are already listed, as found growing in the northeast part of this state? The reporter was handed a list to count for himself, and was surprised to find that there were over 250, and this list was far from complete. Another long list was shown as found in Polk county, and a similar one from Dubuque county.

"The society is gradually gathering up these facts, and when completed I am sure that it will appear that Iowa has great resources in this line. In this county no attempt has been made to get a list, but I am sure that the county will compare well with any in the state."

"Well, what will be the practical result of all this? What can be done about it when you get all these facts, if they show up as we are you expect?"

"This will be the result. A druggist learning that he can get right near here just what is needed may begin to buy in what may be gathered, giving the gatherers whatever information is necessary, as to how and when to gather the plants and roots. Some he could use right here and others he would send east and sell there. The presence of these herbs here would naturally lead to the starting of establishments for the preparing of them for the market. If the people could be educated up to gathering in these plants it would not take long to get establishments started for preparing them for use. Any one thinking of starting such an enterprise, and looking for a location, naturally wants to know first whether he can get the material near at hand. So the first thing to do is to find out what this county has in this line. I am sure that if the facts were got at that they would be a surprise to most people. This will be one of the most interesting and practical topics at the coming session of the state pharmaceutical society, which opens here on the 12th of May."

HIDING HER SHAME.

A Wayward Young Iowa Woman Found Here by Her Friends.

During the recent visit of THE BEE man to the county poor farm he found among the dependents there a young woman, whose story was to the effect that she was a widow, her husband having been killed at Kearney, and she having a mother somewhere in this state, whose exact whereabouts she could not learn.

Later revelations, resulting from letters received from her relatives yesterday show a far different state of facts. It appears that she had gone astray and had become the victim of some man's treachery. About to become a mother she had hidden her whereabouts from her family, and has been living at the poor farm here rather than let them know her shame and sorrow. Her friends, however, have learned the facts and have written letters to the authorities here, very pathetic and tender, urging them to have the young woman sent home to her mother, no matter what her condition is or what the circumstances are. They promise to receive her in all love and kindness, no matter how she has erred, and to care for her tenderly until she is through her troubles. Her home is in this state, but under the circumstances it seems cruel to expose the name and residence. She will be sent home at once.

An $1,800 Leg. A very fine Norman stallion, owned by A. Hazard, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon on Pierce street. The horse was being exercised and in some way got his foot into a hole in the street and fell, breaking one of his hind legs above the joint. The horse is a very valuable one, Mr. Hazard having paid $1,800 for him.
