MINOR MENTION.

Hesitancy at ridiculously low prices at Cooke & Morgan's.

The foundation for an enlargement of Cheney's existing house at Missouri Valley is being laid.

The town trustees meet to-day at a board of equalization on the property lying outside the city limits.

Good heavy unbleached muslin at 5c, worth 8c, at Cooke & Morgan's.

The tramps are getting pretty well thinned out, they not apparently liking the work on the streets which awaits every one captured.

The railways are paying into the paving fund some large amounts for their assessments. The money goes at once into the pockets of the contractors.

The Bluff City's running team yesterday sent its cart to Fremont to let the boys there use it for a pattern, they being about to have a new cart built.

Remember the great sale of dress goods and silks will continue all this week at Cooke & Morgan's.

Dell G. Morgan & Co. have opened a drug store at No. 742 Broadway. Mr. Morgan was for a long while connected with Foster Bros. and late with Harle, Haas & Co.

Judge Hendricks was yesterday promoted to the position of judge of the superior court, just for a day, Judge Aylesworth being in Glenwood on business connected with his judicial contest.

There were three drunks before the police court yesterday, and all were Swedes or Danes. One of them was an Omaha lad, who gave his name as John Logb. The others were Olsten and Larson.

The Northwestern railway company will shortly break ground for a new and large depot in Missouri Valley. It is to be hoped that the company will not forget the needs of Council Bluffs in this line.

The mayor takes a half column to say that he will do nothing about the saloons unless the republican council tells him what to do, he finding that a majority of those who signed the petition are republicans.

There are still a number of confidence men hanging about town, but they do not seem very successful in turning tricks or else their victims keep wonderfully quiet, there being few complaints heard of money lost.

Strawberries are on the market here at sixty cents a box, which does not mean sixty cents a quart, by a long ways. It will be some time at this rate before the church festivals will be very profitable, unless they served the berries up sliced.

During the last three days our store has been so crowded with customers attending our special sales we have been unable to wait on them all. In order to give all a chance the sale will be continued the balance of this week. Cooke & Morgan, 347 Broadway.

Mrs. Smith, mother of J. E. Smith, left Tuesday morning for Boston. She is an old lady of eighty-five years, and goes over the distance between here and Boston frequently and alone, staying for a time with her western friends, and then with those of the far east.

The dog poisoner was on upper Broadway yesterday afternoon, and a dog owned at the "blue barn" was the victim. The dog was put out of his misery by a shot from the city marshal's gun, the shooting drawing quite a crowd, who thought they had some sensation to entertain that part of the city.

The council is to meet next Monday evening and it is expected that at that time there will be some new attempt made to force the aldermen to take some action on the saloon business. A resolution is to be presented, and the request made that the council pass it, asking the mayor to enforce the law. The council will hardly get this far even.

The violin used by Mr. Gerberick is the celebrated "Kroun Printz" that was used by Remenyi in his several concert tours through this country, the full, rich tones of which has been heard and enjoyed by Council Bluffs audiences. It was presented to Mr. Gerberick by Remenyi as a token of friendship during one of his last tours.

Some business men are talking of getting up a petition asking the telegraph company not to move their office, claiming that the proposed new location will not be so convenient as the old one. Petitions and protests on every conceivable subject seem to be quite the rage here, and it is the easiest thing in the world to get signers for any and all of them.

The case of "the triplets" against Matt Kuhl comes up before one of the trio, Justice Frayne, this morning. There is much interest felt as to what the outcome will be, as the statements of the two sides of the affair differ greatly. There is talk of having the matter compromised, but in view of the many statements made the triplets can hardly afford to have the matter drop in silence, unless they have really done something of which they are ashamed.

The public should be convinced by a trial and showing of all the details just who is to blame in this affair, it having attracted so much attention, and excited so much comment already. If the prosecution weakens it will be looked on as a virtual admission that the trio, who were mixed up in it were very badly mixed.

There were special services at the Catholic church yesterday, it being "the month's mind" in honor of the late Sister Mary Nicholas. There was solemn high mass at 10 o'clock, in which Rev. Father Haley was celebrant, Father Lenehan, of Sioux City, deacon, and Rev. Father McAleese sub-deacon. Father Lenehan gave an interesting and touching address, in which he reviewed the life and pictured the virtues of the departed one. There was a very large congregation.

Miss Helen Potter, the celebrated elocutionist, has been spending a few days in the city as the guest of Professor McNaughton and family. She is on her way to Tabor to give an entertainment there under the auspices of the college. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Horace Everett threw open the parlors of their spacious residence to a gathering of friends, who were given an opportunity to hear this wonderful artist in a number of her selections. The informal entertainment was a treat indeed to those present, and the praise expressed indicated that if she could be secured for a public entertainment here she would surely be greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience. This lady is not to be confounded with the Potter sisters of this state, who give very fair elocutionary entertainments, but who are not to compare to Miss Helen Potter, who has gained a national reputation in this line. It is to be hoped that advantage will be taken of her presence in the west, to have her give one evening in this city.

An excellent "ham" story is told on Frank Swan, and Manager Brown, of the telegraph office. A telegram was received from F. H. Whitney, of Atlantic, asking Swan to send him at once a "good ham canvasser," and the telegram duly delivered, but Swan reading it hastily, and having frequent orders from Whitney, thought that he wanted "a ham canvasser," and although he thought it queer that he should order just one ham, he picked one out and sent it by express, instead of sending a man to canvass for ham. Brown the next day asked Swan if he had sent the ham, considering the joke one worth twitting him about. Swan, who is a little deaf, did not understand him, and simply replied "yes," and nothing more was thought about it by Brown until on going home to dinner he found that a fine ham had been sent up to his house by Swan. Knowing that there must be some mistake, he interviewed Swan, and found that Swan had understood him that he wanted a ham, and so he sent it. Swan says that anyone who says "ham" to him is going to get one, and he does not propose to let any chance for business slip by.

The mayor simply laughs at the reports of his presenting his phenomenal card to President Cleveland. He says that it was not the peculiarity of the card which gained for him an audience, but a letter which he had from Senator Garland, and other prominent. He feels greatly pleased that the card has attracted so much attention, as he thinks it an excellent advertisement for the city, and he believes in advertisements. He says that if a man has got to be an idiot even to advertise the city, he is willing to be one anything for the nothing abroad the fact that there is such a city as Council Bluffs. He says that the interview published in the Bee just before his departure for the east so clearly presented his views on the prohibitory question that he read it to the president, and to some of the members of the cabinet, and they were much interested in it. He says that out of 300 callers on the president he was the only one that was recognized, and spoken to, the president contenting himself with simply shaking hands with the others. At another time he had a whole hour talk with Cleveland. In fact he was treated with a good deal more consideration than some of those would be who stand so ready to make fun of his trip. One thing is certain—they found out that he was in Washington.

TROUBLE AT TABOR.

A Queer Violation of the Prohibitory Law by the College Boys.

A little storm is reported as threatening the usual peace and harmony of Tabor college, and some of the students are anxiously awaiting their fate, the decess not having been given out by the faculty. Some of the young men have been getting a little wilder than the college discipline allows for. They have been breaking the rules forbidding the playing of cards, and the use of tobacco, and while these violations of college law are being adjusted there comes a light to light a still more serious cause for discipline. It seems that one of the professors had in the cellar of his house some unfermented juice of the grape, intended for sacramental purposes, and in the laboratory was kept a quantity of alcohol for use in scientific work. The boys managed to get hold of both these ingredients, and from their mixture got a preparation, which they used neither for sacramental nor scientific purposes. This violation of the prohibitory law, and the disregard for the moral requirements of this excellent educational institution, has caused quite a little flurry in the usually quiet college world. It is said that expulsion awaits some of the young men who have been engaged in the spree.

NEW WHITE GRAPE NIAGARA!

Copy of a part of a photograph of a NIAGARA vine, planted 1873, as it appeared Fall of 1880 with 63 clusters weighing 26 lbs. on 48 in. bearing wood 1st.—The Niagara ripens in favorable seasons at Lockport, Aug. 20th.

2d.—It never drops from the stem if left to hang till frost comes, and improves in flavor the more it hangs.
3d.—It is purely native, and therefore hardy. Has stood 35 degrees below zero without injury.
4th.—Bears a good crop the 3d year and often the 2d, and is a regular bearer, and no waste, as bunches are compact. Never fails to ripen its crop as the thick leathery foliage holds even to the base of the canes until frost kills it.
5th.—Vineyards are in bearing in various sections from Georgia to the Northern Lakes and Canada, and from Kansas to the Atlantic coast, there being more than 1,000 acres planted within the last five years, and over 200 acres were planted at Brockton, Chatham Co., N. Y., last spring, (1884); Jonas Martin alone having 47 acres; the largest vineyard of Niagara, being planted at Highland, Ulster Co., N. Y., by Sam'l Rogers, Esq., which contains 80 acres of this one variety, and he has realized from 20 to 30 cents per pound for his fruit, while Concord grown in the same locality brought from 4 to 6 cents only.
6.—All parties planting vineyards have signed a contract to return all the wood and cutting every year back to the Company up to, and including 1888; so it has been the sole owner of all the stock, and no one but the Company and its authorized agents can sell and deliver genuine Niagara vines. So all persons should examine agent's certificate of authority, and see that it has the corporate seal of the Company attached, and every vine that it has a lead seal attached, bearing the impression of the Company's registered trade mark.
7th.—We now offer for the first time, strong 2 year old vines at retail at $2.00 each without restrictions, to be delivered on and after March 1st, 1885.
