MINOR MENTION.

Some of the saloons were dealing out drinks yesterday, but rather on the sly. Brick for sale, in large and small lots, by J. A. Weaver, No. 815 Seventh avenue.

William Haupt was arrested yesterday on a charge of assaulting a boy named George Roper, who was also arrested on a charge of being drunk.

In connection with the first services of the new pastor of the baptist church yesterday morning, the sacrament of the Lord's supper was observed.

A bracelet, picked up on Broadway, can be had by the owner by applying to S. S. Keller's store, proving property, and paying for advertising.

At the Congregational church yesterday morning four persons were received into the church, and four babes baptized. The communion service was also held.

Miss Louise Swan is planning to build a neat cottage on the lot in the rear of the family residence on First street, the new house to face on the other street.

John Castello had his left foot cut off at the instep Friday night in the yards of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, railroad while he was doing some switching.

The judicial contest between Judge Aylesworth and Judge Looftbourrow to see who is entitled to the seat upon the district court bench is set to come up in Des Moines on the 18th.

Several boys aged from eight to eleven years, were yesterday quite drunk, and now the query is where did they get their drinks? The police threaten to bring the offenders to light to-day.

It is expected that to-night's council meeting will settle the question as to who will be the chief of the fire department. It is to be hoped that a man will be selected who will insist on some degree of discipline.

The mayor having got some fancy city warrants printed in the east, is now making a move to have them float at par, having got several merchants to agree to take them at par in payment for goods bought at their places.

Thomas Wilson, who was caught going through one of the rooms of the St. Jo house last Thursday morning, had a hearing before Judge Aylesworth Saturday morning, and was bound over to the district court. Being unable to give bail he was sent back to the county jail.

The foundations of the new county jail are not quite completed, and the work is being watched closely by citizens, who rightly feel that this is one of the most important features of the enterprise. It should be so done that there can be no doubt as to its stability.

The postoffice at Walnut was burglarized Thursday night, an entrance being gained by a rear window. The safe was not locked, but the burglars not knowing or noticing this, went to work at it, boring a hole, and with powder blowing it open. They secured about $30 in money and some stamps.

The Hancock Hatchet is the name of a sprightly little newspaper that has been started up in the interests of Hancock, in this county. A. T. Cox and M. B. Cox are responsible for it. They start in as though meaning business, and if kept up to the standard of the initial number it must prove a success.

The city council meets to-night, and several interesting features are on the programme, which will draw a crowd of lookers-on. It is expected that there will be an election of city officers, some action on the prohibition question, and the disposal of a number of important matters which have been on the table a number of weeks.

At the Methodist church last evening the pastor, the Rev. Dr. McCroary, preached a strong sermon, in which he took the position that prohibition was a divine method of doing away with sin, and made in effect a reply on the sermon of the Rev. Mr. Macky, who favors moral suasion instead of prohibitory law. The sermon was listened to by a large audience with much interest.

Miss Fannie Westcott, of Dubuque, presided over the organ at the Congregational church yesterday, and favored the worshippers with some of the choicest music heard there in a long time. She certainly has gained a wonderful mastery over the pipe organ, and plays with so much ease, accuracy, and expression that it is a great pleasure to hear her. Where she is known she is willingly given place among those in the front rank of musicians and from what appeared in her playing yesterday she evidently merits such recognition.

Active preparations are being made for the meeting of the state pharmaceutical society, which opens here on the 12th of May. The representative of Goodyear's rubber goods is already here preparing for a very fine exhibit of those goods, and displays are being prepared by Park, Davis & Co., of Detroit, F. Stearns & Co., of Detroit, and numerous others. Some of the goods to be exhibited are already arriving, and it is evident already that this feature of the meeting will far exceed the expectations of the committee. The exhibits and the interesting sessions of the society should cause, and doubtless will cause, a large gathering here from all parts of the country.

will cause, a large gathering here from all parts of the country. Judge James was mad clear through yesterday. His quiet Sunday reveries were disturbed by several cows, which got into his fine yard and were destroying his lawn, and when he went in hot haste to the city jail to get one of the marshals to take the cows into custody, he was told that there was but one man on duty and he could not leave the jail. The judge thought that with one marshal and three deputies, there might be one to look after such cases, and he went off in wrath, and implored the protection of the police force. Chief Skinner and Officer Caslek went to his relief and soon had the wandering cattle in the pound. They in turn got a cursing from the owner of the cows. Thus is the path of duty thorny.

FREE ADVICE.

One of the Justices Wants a Little of The Bee's Advice and Gets it.

George Gerspacher was arrested on Saturday on the charge of assaulting his wife, Belle Clover, it being claimed that while under the influence of anti-prohibition he got mad at her for some trivial cause and sought to thump her in revenge. It seems that soon after his trouble with the woman, he had another difficulty with Tom Buckner, a colored man, and that he used Tom very roughly, inflicting some bloody scalp wounds, and leaving some marks on his face. Gerspacher's case is before the superior court, where it is to be heard to-day, but for some reason that part of it which pertains to Buckner fell into the hands of a justice named Frayne, whose peculiar acts have been the subject of some comments in THE BEE. Frayne, in accordance with the magisterial dignity which characterizes his actions, thought it would be a brilliant piece of wit to take advantage of the ignorance of the poor colored man, and send him on a fool's errand to the editor of THE BEE. Tom accordingly presented himself at this office with the following note:

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, May 2.—H. W. Tilton: Have just issued another warrant for one George Gerspacher, who assaulted the bearer. Do you think it advisable please let me know by bearer or columns of THE BEE. Yours, etc. JOHN JAY FRAYNE.

It appears that in this particular case it is a little too late to give advice, as the warrant had been issued before the request had been made, and not only that, but it appears from the written confession of the justice, that he has decided already that Gerspacher is guilty of an assault, even before he has been given a hearing. THE BEE feels that advice—good advice, such as THE BEE always gives—like pearls, should not be thrown before swine, but for once this rule of the office will be ignored, seeing that "John Jay" is so anxious to know what THE BEE thinks.

A justice should be honest. A justice should be honorable. A justice should be a perfect gentleman.

A justice should look after the interests of the public, instead of studying how many fees he could get for himself. A justice should not let his personal quarrels lead him to try to use his official position to get revenge on those who offend him. He should carefully avoid being mixed up in any saloon rows, and, if so unfortunate, should not have such a case brought before himself. He should know enough about what decency requires of him and his position, not to have to ask a newspaper for advice, but if after putting the foregoing advice into practice he should find it necessary to do so, he should pick out the Bee, for he may rest assured that he will not be advised to do anything mean or contemptible, and will not be advised to start cases which he will be ashamed of afterwards, that he will want to drop them quietly, lest the real facts should be brought out in public.

Base Brutality. Mrs. Jacob Leink has caused the arrest of her husband, and tells a story of his brutal treatment of her which, if true, should bring upon him as heavy a punishment as the law can provide. She says that when drunk he is apt to be very cross, but that on Saturday he exceeded even his wont. It seems that he had threatened her so that she deemed it best to go to some of the neighbors for shelter until his wrath had spent itself. He found where she was, and came for her. She had with her their little three-year-old boy, and the man started back to the house, leading the little fellow by the hand, while she followed on behind. Suddenly turning upon her he drew a knife, and threatened to kill her, and she turned and fled. Soon after that he came up town with the boy, and got still drunker, and as he had threatened to drown the boy, she sent an officer after him, and when he was arrested the boy was wet as if he had been put into water some hours.

Afterwards it was discovered that the man while in the house had been making use of his knife to cut into strips some of his wife's clothing, and she filed an additional information against him, charging him with malicious mischief. When Marshal Guttenfels was taking the prisoner to the county jail the man stopped, pulled out a pocket knife and declared that he would go no further, but the marshal caught him by the throat and made him drop the knife and change his mind. A hearing will be had this morning in the superior court.

SNOW AGAIN.

His Store Visited by Successful Burglars Who Secure $65 in Consequence.

Yesterday morning it was discovered that R. P. Snow's store had again been visited by burglars, this being the second time within a week. An entrance was gained by the front door, a turner's chisel being used to pry the door open, the iron holding the bolt of the lock breaking into many pieces. This time the thieves, instead of taking provisions, got money, about $65 in all. There has been no trace of the fellows gained by the police as yet, and there is little likelihood of their being any.

Substantial abstracts of title and real estate loans. J. W. & E. L. Squire, 101 Pearl street.

Mysteriously Missing. Mrs. R. M. Roberts left the house of Mrs. Sarah Roberts at 8 o'clock on Monday morning, April 20, and has not been heard from since. She went away with her little girl, aged 6 or 7 years, and took no stichel, extra clothing, nor money; in fact she made no preparation for even a day's absence. Her father, M. Y. Hulett, has been at the house of every relative and intimate friend, far and near, and has telegraphed to neighboring towns, but has received no clue as to her whereabouts. It is feared that she was suffering from temporary aberration of the mind and has wandered away. Later—Yesterday, about noon, Mr. Hulett received word that a woman had been seen wandering in the country west of Coburg on Tuesday of last week. Mr. H. immediately took his departure for that locality to work on the clue. Up to the hour of going to press nothing has been heard from him.—Red Oak Sun.

A Concession to Telegraphers. CHICAGO, May 2.—Notice has been given by the Western Union telegraph company that it will pay its operators here for all extra work. McDonald has given notice in the house of commons that on Monday next he will move that the government make a temporary loan to the Canadian Pacific company $5,000,000, to be repaid by the company to the government on or before July 1st, 1886.

NEW WHITE GRAPE NIAGARA!

Copy of a part of a photograph of a NIAGARA vine, planted 1878, as it appeared Fall of 1880 with 63 clusters weighing 26 lbs. on 48 in. bearing wood. 1st.—The Niagara ripens in favorable seasons at Lockport, Aug. 20th. 2d.—It never drops from the stem if left to hang till frost comes, and improves in flavor the longer it hangs. 3d.—It is purely native, and therefore hardy. Has stood 35 degrees below zero without injury. 4th.—Bears a good crop the 3d year and often the 2d, and is a regular bearer, and its waste, as bunches are compact. Never fails to ripen its crop as the thick leathery foliage holds even to the base of the canes until frost kills it. 5th.—Vineyards are in bearing in various sections from Georgia to the Northern Lakes and Canada, and from Kansas to the Atlantic coast, there being more than 1,000 acres planted within the last five years, and over 200 acres were planted at Brockton, Chautauque Co., N. Y. last spring, (1884); Jones Martin alone having 47 acres; the largest vineyard of Niagara, being planted at Highland, Ulster Co., N. Y., by Sam'l Rogers, Esq., which contains 80 acres of this one variety, and he has realized from 20 to 30 cents per pound for his fruit, while Concord grown in the same locality brought from 4 to 6 cents only. 6.—All parties planting vineyards have signed a contract to return all the wood and cutting every year back to the Company up to, and including 1885; so it has been the sole owner of all the stock, and no one but the Company and its authorized agents can sell and deliver genuine Niagara vines. So all persons should examine agent's certificate of authority, and see that it has the corporate seal of the Company attached, and every vine that it has a lead seal attached, bearing the impression of the Company's registered trade mark. 7th.—We now offer for the first time, strong 2 year old vines at retail at $2.00 each without restrictions, to be delivered on and after March 1st, 1885. WELLS COOK, Council Bluffs, Iowa. Having accepted appointment as special agent for the NIAGARA WHITE GRAPE CO. for Iowa and N.Y. I am now prepared to promptly deliver "NIAGARA" vines under the Registered Trade Mark Seal Company. 127 EIGHTH STREET.
