

THE DAILY BEE, COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Friday Morning, May 15.

Subscription Rates: By Carrier 10 cents per week; By Mail 20 cents per week.

MINOR MENTION.

The Presbyterian church is to be seated at present with chairs, instead of the regular pews.

Strawberries were yesterday selling on the streets at 15 cents per box or two for 25 cents.

Come and see goods and prices at the new boot and shoe store of R. L. Skiles, No. 102 Main street.

It is expected that a meeting of the council will be called for Saturday night to consider the veto of the mayor.

Regular meeting of Fidelity Council, No. 156, R. A. this (Friday) evening. All members are requested to be present.

Tonight there is to be a grand ball in the Masonic hall, in connection with the other attractions of the Carnival of Nations.

The city pound is being moved back to its old site, in the rear of the city jail. This is the third move within a year.

Judge Aylesworth is absent from the city, attending to the procuring of evidence in the judicial contest, which comes up in Des Moines next Monday.

The Christian Home contains this week quite a full report of the lecture of Joseph Cook, and those desiring copies can procure them at Bushnell's.

There were nine tramps brought into police court yesterday morning. Four gave the justice such a pleasant talk, that they were let off, and the others were sent to the work on the city improvements.

The May term of the district court opens here on Monday next. There are 294 civil cases on the docket and twenty-four criminal cases. Among the civil cases there are twenty-four in which the city is defendant.

The operation on Mr. Vincent, editor of the Nonconformist, was successfully carried through yesterday morning. His left limb was amputated above the knee. He stood the operation bravely, and with a steady pulse and but slight loss of blood. He is 64 years of age.

A Bex man was yesterday ushered into room No. 88 Ogden house to see the Parlian diamonds there on sale at retail. They are set in solid gold mountings and cannot be detected from genuine diamonds as they have no foil on the backs and are sold so cheap that any person can afford to have them.

The county board is to meet on next Tuesday to open the bids for the purchase of the county bonds. It is expected that these bonds will sell at a good premium, and the board will, as soon as the financial part of the plans is settled, advertise for bids for building the new court house.

The little mayor is so pleased to find that he has a veto power that he is playing with it all the time, like a boy with a new toy. It is said that he is about to see how it will go in vetoing the resolution of the council, doing away with the office of street supervisor, and letting the alderman look after the work in their own wards.

John Holder, son of William Holder, died quite suddenly at his residence on Lincoln avenue Wednesday afternoon, of heart disease. He had been ailing for several weeks, but had not been confined to his bed, and on the day of his death was walking about the yard, and feeling queerly went into the house, and within an hour later, died in his chair. He leaves a wife and two children. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The dear old grandmother patted into her scrapbook yesterday a little clipping from a spongy Lincoln paper, thinking that she could use it against the Bex here. The efforts of the dear old lady to force people to give a little bread and butter to herself and children is laughable. If she will but follow the example set her by the Bex, and produce something worth selling, she will have no reason to complain about a lack of patronage, but she cannot expect to be able to force the public into being content with a scrapbook, when they can read and advertise in such a newspaper as the Bex. The time has passed when a paper can roll down in the lap of public favor and ask to be fed without doing anything for itself, or anybody else. Let the old lady wake up and print a newspaper, and then she will not have occasion to whine and beg.

An attempt is being made to work up a little base ball interest and local pride in having a club formed here. The Standards, a club which last season created no little sensation in and about Chicago, has been reorganized, and is planning to make a western trip, and Council Bluffs is one of the points which they hope to visit, provided that a club can be organized here to play with. As there are a number of good players here, an effort is to be made to get these organized into a club, and it is thought that this can be accomplished, and a series of games arranged. The Standards are a phenomenal club, their pitcher and catcher being little fellows, mere "kids," the former being 18 years old and the latter only 14, and both small-sized. They are said to be very strong as a club, and the premise is made that they will way, they make it very difficult for any western tickets can be got away with them.

one hundred fee. effort is being made by this is undoubtedly J. J. Brown and A. enforced, as it ought to be at Island park fitted up have a healthy effect upo so as to make a popular and pleasant resort for the convenience of this city. It is located only about four miles out of this city, and there has been a station established on the Kansas City road, only two hundred feet from the lake itself. The park commissioners are having a survey made, and it is to be hoped that the city officials and citizens generally will become so practically interested in the project, that it may be carried forward to a successful completion, establishing a pleasure resort which shall be a great attraction. Such a resort will prove convenient for picnics, and for parties, and the innocence and healthfulness of the outdoor sports which can there be had may prove one of the helps in solving some of the problems as to what can be done to keep the young folks from hanging around places of the baser resort.

Substantial abstracts of titles and real estate loans, J. W. & E. L. Squire, 10 Pearl street.

MUCH MIXED.

The Contest Over City Officers and the Prospects.

Threatened Bouncing of an Alderman.

Municipal matters are getting mixed, by the break between the mayor and the council. The mayor seems determined that the council shall do his bidding, and threatens that they shall not have their choice in regard to who shall be city clerk, or who shall be chief of the fire department, although the law provides that the aldermen shall elect. Yesterday it was widely rumored that still another move would be made to keep the ring from being interfered with, this threatened move being no less than an attempt to have Ald. Bennett removed from the council, the claim being that as county treasurer he is the city treasurer, ex officio, and is therefore ineligible to the position of alderman. Some such talk was started at election time in the hope of defeating the will of the people, who were very anxious to have so good a financier as Mr. Bennett to look after the city affairs, but at that time it was laughed at and has been dropped until the recent action of the council excited the ire of the lesser council who hang around the mayor's office. The threat to get him removed is now whispered again, but there is little fear of its being carried into execution. It simply shows to what dire extremities the mayor and his henchmen are driven. Even if they could carry their threat into execution, they would find that the "dear people" would sit down on them until they were as flat physically as they are mentally.

No matter what sort of a council the people have seen fit to elect, the mayor has always prided himself, heretofore, in being able to whip them into line, and hold the lines, but with such men as Shugart, Stenotop, and Bennett, he will never be able to do this, and he might as well give it up first as last. His power is broken, and he might as well fall into line himself this time, and join in working for the best interests of the city, instead of wrangling.

The position of the mayor is very peculiar. It is conceded that the only one for whom he is particularly anxious in this contest, is the chief of the fire department, for the city clerk is known to be hostile to all his political ambitions, in order to be consistent in his fight for the retention of the chief, he has to include the city clerk, and the only hope he can have is to do something to please the chief, who has worked so gallantly for him in the city elections. To repay political obligations to the chief, the mayor has to make a fight for his political enemy, the clerk, and at the same time risk the loss of all influence with the present council, who, having a majority of votes against the mayor, will make it very interesting for him from this time on. The mayor is preparing a very thorny bed for himself.

Live Stock. Window & Crampton, the well known live stock dealers of Waverly, Iowa, will be at the Pacific House Friday and Saturday of this week, ready to sell or contract cattle, in any desired numbers, to ranchmen or feeders, either steers or heifers, any age from yearlings up to three-year-olds.

PROHIBITION POINTERS.

A Delay in Getting Any Hearing Either at Glenwood or Here.

It was expected that the injunction cases in the prohibitory war would come up before Judge Connor at Glenwood today, but as Judge Connor has not finished his business at Avoca arrangements have been made for the cases to go over until next Monday, so there will be no news to be had about the matter until then. In regard to the cases brought in the superior court here, and conceded to be brought in the interests of the liquor men, arrangements have been made to have them continued until after a hearing has been had in the cases brought before Judge Connor. So that those who rush into the superior court Saturday morning, expecting to hear something sensational, will probably have nothing to satisfy their curiosity except a continuance.

It is possible that an attempt will be made here to intervene in the cases pending in the superior court, on the ground that there is a collusion between the plaintiffs and defendants for the purpose of evading justice, and the enforcement of the law. The idea in starting these cases seems to be that by getting a decision in favor of the saloon-keepers a bar will be put to any other action, and if a decision favorable to the saloon-keepers cannot be had, still by keeping cases pending here no other cases can be brought and the saloons can keep on running. There is some sharp legal sparring going on, and it is evident that there will be a hard fight made in the courts, and that every possible advantage will be taken of technicalities to prevent the enforcement of the prohibitory law in this city.
