

THE DAILY BEE.

Friday Morning, May 15.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Business before the police court was very light yesterday morning. Tramps and suspicious characters are finding out that Omaha is too warm a place for them, and they are making themselves scarce.

A prominent citizen was arrested Wednesday night charged with defrauding a hackman. He remained in the city jail until morning, when he was discharged, no complaint being entered against him.

The Nebraska Telephone company has sent the following notice to subscribers: "Certain parties are going about town attaching a small wooden tube to telephone transmitters, claiming by their use better results in talking. We would respectfully call your attention to the fact that such inventions are 'Frauds,' and their use on the transmitter positively forbidden by the American Bell Telephone Company."

Another candidate for city marshal entered the field at ten o'clock yesterday morning, but his name will not be formally presented to the council for a few days. It's a vote of regulation weight, and Policeman Metz is heading around the smokers by way of an introduction. Pete has a substantial reputation of attending strictly to business. Mother and child doing well.

Joachim Niederweiser, who died at his residence on South Thirteenth street Wednesday after more than two months illness, came to Omaha about eighteen years ago. Mr. Niederweiser was a veteran, having served in the Fifth Missouri until the close of the war. He was a member of G. A. R. Custer post No. 7, and will be buried by his comrades from that post at 2 p. m. Sunday. He leaves a wife and two children.

One of the happy matrimonial events of the season was the marriage of Mr. Thos. B. Buckner, of Charlottesville, Va., to Miss Lena Wright, of Omaha, which took place in the North Eighteenth street M. E. church. A reception was given by Mrs. Thos. Vinegar on Sherman avenue, where the friends of the family were entertained most royally until a late hour. Mr. and Mrs. Buckner will be at their home on Elm street after May 15th.

About thirty members of Nebraska Lodge No. 1, K. of P., formed a happy party Wednesday night at Dalzell's ice cream parlors, where they devoured a goodly quantity of ice cream, cakes, strawberries and cream at the expense of M. Tott, who opened his purse and heart on account of the arrival of a brand new lady for the Combination Store. After lunch, sparkling lemonade was tested, clear Havana creamed, and the party dispersed.

Robert Thompson was arrested by the police Wednesday as a vagrant and appeared before Judge Steinberg yesterday morning. Robert is from Blair and came to Omaha in search of work, which he failed to find. The judge remarked that work must be very scarce in Blair, as almost every morning somebody appeared before him from that town on a charge of vagrancy. "If it keeps up much longer," remarked his honor, "the whole town will have been here." Thompson was discharged and advised to return home.

A SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL.

A Gay and Happy Time at Brownell Hall in the Wreath Beauties of Colored Lights.

The fair held at Brownell hall last evening for the purpose of raising money for the building fund proved a grand success. As the shades of evening fell, the grounds were illuminated with colored lamps, while the band discoursed sweet music under the trees. A gypsy tent attracted many, whose fortunes were predicted with unerring accuracy. Within the scene was even more varied. Brilliant costumes worn by the ladies added much to the appearance of the rooms, which were decorated with much taste and skill. Their majesties, Queen Elizabeth and Mary Stuart, presided over the refreshment tables with much grace and dignity, and for the first time in history reigned in perfect harmony and without undue interference in each other's affairs. Fairies and gypsies, queens and peasants attended to the wants of the visitors, and as the evening advanced the band afforded much pleasure to the dancing public, who were present in great force. The flower table was especially attractive, as was also a stand covered with fans in great variety, painted and decorated, most of which were the work of the pupils. The proceeds amounted to $221 65, and all were conscious of having spent a most enjoyable evening.

Breaking a Sober Spell.

An old man with only one foot, named John McCue, was found by the police Wednesday evening in an alley, surrounded by boys, and so drunk that he could not meander. An express wagon was called, and the victim of strong drink was hauled up to the city jail. On being searched he was found to have money in every pocket, the entire amount being $182. During the night he sobred up sufficiently to tell his story. He claimed that this was the first time he had been drunk in seven years, and when he came to Omaha he had in his possession $305. One hundred dollars had mysteriously disappeared, and if he had not been discovered by the police he would undoubtedly have been robbed of the whole amount. As he wanted to go to Plattsmouth, an officer took him to the train yesterday morning to see him safely started on his journey.

DRUGGISTS' DOINGS.

The State Pharmaceutical Association Closes Its Annual Meeting.

Election of Officers for the ensuing Year—Delegates and Committees Appointed—Omaha the Next Place of Meeting, Etc.

The Nebraska state pharmaceutical association commenced its session yesterday at 10 o'clock. President Kuhn called for order with only a handful of delegates on hand at that hour. Many of them had been out late the night before seeing Omaha sights, therefore were not up early, and of course felt rather rocky for doing business.

The first important transaction was to appoint J. K. Adams, of Tekamah; C. F. Goodman, of Omaha, and L. Kryger, of Lyons, delegates to attend the Kansas pharmaceutical association's annual meeting, which will be held at Lawrence on June 15.

The question of a place at which to hold the meeting next year was brought up and discussed at considerable length. Omaha, Grand Island and Beatrice were named as candidates, and when the matter finally reached a vote the ballot taken resulted as follows:

Omaha..... 58
Grand Island..... 2
Beatrice..... 4

Total..... 64
Omaha having received a majority of the votes cast was declared to be the point selected at which the annual meeting of 1888 will be held.

In this connection, it might not be out of place to state that the Omaha members have promised to give their visiting brethren a picnic next year. It would have been done this time but matters of an unavoidable nature prevented.

On motion of D. W. Haller, article 5, which relates to payment of membership certificates was stricken from the by-laws.

The committee on legislation, through its chairman, C. F. Goodman, reported what had been done during the past year, the report was received but by request referred back again to the committee.

The election of officers was announced. Mr. Reed, in a neat little speech, highly complimenting his man placed in nomination for president, Mr. H. D. Boyden, of Grand Island. There being no opposition to Mr. Boyden he was elected by acclamation.

James Reed, Nebraska City; F. R. Orr, Ponca; L. Kuyger, Lyons; H. E. Wells, Juniata; Henry Cook, Red Cloud, were placed in nomination for vice presidents and all elected. Mr. H. E. Shultz, of Beatrice, was also a nominee, but as only five were required, he got left.

For the office of secretary, F. E. Zimmerman, of Grand Island, was chosen by acclamation. Charles Chinn, of St. Paul, and James Forsythe, of Omaha, were placed in nomination against Mr. Zimmerman, but they declined to let their names be used, which left him with a clear field.

C. J. Danbauch, of Omaha, was selected to act as local secretary. C. F. Goodman, of Omaha, was made the treasurer.

The committee to whom was referred President Kuhn's annual address for examination reported it to be correct in every respect and an able document. Their report was received and the address ordered read upon the records of the association.

A communication was read from E. M. Parks, the ex-president, eloquently acknowledging the receipt of a fine gold-headed cane, presented to him by the association.

The committee on membership reported the following new applicants: W. A. Harding, Oakland; Charles Band, Grove; E. E. Capps, Culbertson; F. C. Husak, Hastings; W. G. Brocka, Arlington; R. J. Van Patten, H. S. Van Patten, Pawnee City.

They were acted upon and taken into the association. During the meeting the following new members were also elected: D. M. Duff, Holdrege; E. E. Warner, Axtell; E. A. W. Snell, Omaha; F. W. Randall, Waco; W. W. Conn, Greenwood; J. Koeningstein, Norfolk; D. S. Clark, Superior; T. C. Morgan, Hardy; J. E. Clarke, Omaha; M. S. Sjolholm, Oakland; J. D. Story, Wells; N. J. Johnson, North Bend; J. T. Clarke, Omaha; E. W. Bexten, Hastings; M. E. Shultz, Beatrice; K. K. Sherrard, Red Cloud; Anton Cajori, Omaha; Edward H. Dorr, North Auburn; James W. Wallace, Tekamah; Charles J. Danbauch, Omaha; S. A. Paxton, Scott; F. A. Schouler, Kearney; E. K. McMichael, Ord; Edward Lambcher, Schuyler; Albert Geyler, Grand Island; S. W. Barker, Grand Island; William Hathaway, Fullerton; E. G. Kush, North Bend; J. L. Shepard, Kearney; Henry T. Clark, Omaha; Edward J. Seykora, Omaha; P. C. Comgan, Omaha; T. W. Spaford, Omaha; Joseph Erwin, Blue Hill; L. P. Judd, Cedar Rapids; A. D. White, St. Edwards; A. H. Morris, Papillion; August Schafer, Aurora; Henry J. Penfold, Omaha; William McLean, Albion; Leo O'Connell, Swanville; Edward H. Potter, Blair; S. A. Brown, North Bend; G. J. Odendahl, Loup City; M. B. Powell, Omaha; S. Steward Coghlan, Valentine; C. D. Brodbeck, Odell; P. G. Raynard, Grand Island; D. A. Lewis, Albion.

The date of the next meeting was fixed, to be held on the second Tuesday in May.

After this the new president announced his standing committees for the ensuing year as follows: Executive—James Forsythe, Omaha; J. K. Adams, Tekamah; W. D. Haller, Blair.

Legislation—John T. Clark, C. F. Goodman and Edward F. Chinn, Omaha. Trade Interest—M. Parr, Omaha; W. S. Lane, Lincoln and H. J. Penfold, Omaha.

Pharmacy—Albert Geyler, Grand Island; C. H. Brunner, Fremont; H. E. Wells, Juniata and C. S. Peyton, Hooper.

Programme for next meeting—Charles J. Danbauch and J. H. Phelps, Omaha; Dr. L. N. Barker, Grand Island and W. R. Paly, North Loup.

Membership—E. A. W. Snell, Omaha; Groochell, and M. W. Ryerson, Omaha. Delegates to A. P. A.—C. F. Goodman, and N. A. Kuhn, Omaha; F. A. Zimmerman, Grand Island.

Delegates to N. R. D. A.—N. A. Kuhn and C. F. Goodman, Omaha. The transaction of a few unimportant matters passed in quick succession, and the association adjourned.

It was a very pleasant, profitable meeting, and showed that the druggists of Nebraska are becoming interested in making the organization more permanent and more successful than it has ever been.

The principal topic considered and discussed was cocaine as a therapeutic, a remedy entirely new. Quite a number are now claiming the honor of first calling attention to its peculiar properties. It is conceded that a physician called attention to its numbing qualities, in a paper read before the New York Medical association in 1859. It was discovered, isolated and classified as an alkaloid by Nelman in 1860. The next year Lorenz found a second base which he called byrrine.

Cocaine is made from the leaves of Erythroxylon coca, a plant indigenous to South America and is now largely cultivated in such a manner as to give three crops of leaves in a year. Formerly it was an exceedingly rare plant, and the leaves were gathered for the royalty of Peru. Various processes have been given for the making of the alkaloid, whereby one-fourth to one-third of one per cent can be obtained. The large waste of alcohol and ether, those heavily taxed solvents, is the cause of the high price.

Beside the property of an anesthetic to parts to which applied, it is an internally in neuralgia in doses of one-half grain in a day, where quinine fails to control. It is used as a substitute in breaking the morphia habit, and can then be stopped without any depressing effect.

The H. F. Clark Drug Company made a nice display of fancy goods for the benefit of the visitors.

Railway Rummblings.

The excursion party went from Portland up to Victoria yesterday, planning they are now in the hands of Portland business men.

Mr. John H. Manchester, claim agent of the Union Pacific road, left yesterday morning on a trip that will take him into Colorado before returning.

John Robinson's gay and attractive advance, circus car, stood on a side track at the Union Pacific depot yesterday, and was surrounded all the time with crowds of admirers.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe company will enlarge the capacity of their already immense machine shops at Topeka this summer by adding thereto a building for the manufacture of car and truck supplies.

Harry Heath, who for a long time held a desk in the freight department of the Union Pacific road, has been appointed mail agent on the route between Omaha and Ogden. Mr. Heath is a deserving young man, and his friends are pleased to know of his promotion to a government position.

At the office of General Superintendent Smith yesterday, a reporter of the Bee was permitted to examine and investigate into the merits and demerits of an invention, lately patented by some genius in Detroit, for locking freight car doors so thoroughly as to make them proof against thieves, traps, or anybody else. The scheme consists of an iron bolt that is put through the cast iron seal, then into the door and car castings, where by certain turns and twists it becomes fastened and remains fastened until the seal is broken. A hole through the head of this bolt admits an iron pin, that is fastened to the car by means of a chain, which keeps it from getting lost. The invention looks to be very simple and useful. The Union Pacific has not yet adopted it, but may.

Two Small Burglaries.

There was a small burglary committed Wednesday night, at the residence of a Mr. Hartigan, on Cass street. The robbers succeeded in entering the building by prying open the window of the room where Mr. and Mrs. Hartigan were sleeping, and carried off the gentleman's clothes, which were on a chair near the bed. They made their exit through the front door, and on the sidewalk proceeded to the street, where they were seen. There they found a gold watch and chain, and several dollars in money, which they secured, leaving the clothing on the walk, where it was found this morning. The thieves must have operated very quietly as none of the occupants of the house were disturbed during the night. No clue to their identity has as yet been discovered.

Zimmerman's saloon on St. Mary's avenue was entered by thieves at some hour Wednesday night, and some of the goods taken. A big Newfoundland dog is kept upon the premises as a watch dog, but the robbers succeeded in coaxing him outside the saloon, and so had no difficulty in accomplishing their purpose. A about $20 in silver was also secured from the cash drawer. It is supposed that in closing up for the night Zimmerman forgot to lock his back door, thus affording the thieves an easy entrance.

Assaulting Small Boys.

There were two men up before Judge Stenberg yesterday morning charged with committing assaults on small boys. The first case was that of a German fisherman named Jacob John, who was accused of hitting a thirteen-year-old boy named Jimmy Cunningham on the head with his fist. Jacob found Jimmy sitting on the side of his boat yesterday morning fishing in company with several other boys. As he had recently missed several fish lines from his boat, he did not want the boys around and so made a rush at them. He caught the Cunningham boy and gave him several hits on the head, whereupon an officer appeared upon the scene and arrested him. Judge Stenberg fined him $1 and costs for taking the law into his own hands.

The other case was brought by a man named Hoover against S. S. Hardy for assaulting the former's boy Harry. From the testimony it seemed that a number of boys were making a rush to enter Hardy's place of business, when he threw a lot of small pieces of brick and mortar at them from an upper story window, a piece of which hit the Hoover boy on the head, inflicting a slight scalp wound. Hardy was fined $3 and costs.

A FAMILY FEUD.

R. D. Dracer Attempts to Get Released From His Wife by Having Her Adjudged Insane.

Quite a sensational trial was held Wednesday afternoon in the old district court room, before Dr. Tilden, Judge James N. Savage and Mr. Ijames, who constitute the insanity board for Douglas county. Last Monday R. D. Duncan swore out a warrant for the arrest of his wife, Mrs. L. J. Duncan, charging her of being dangerously insane, and asked that she be taken into custody. An officer went to Mrs. Duncan's room, where she conducts a millinery establishment, at the corner of Sixteenth street and Capitol avenue, expecting to see a raving maniac, and take her to the county jail, but when he arrived there he at once decided that it was not necessary to confine her, so merely left a notice for her to appear before the board Wednesday at 3 o'clock to be tried for insanity. She was there with her witnesses, and the husband was there also.

The testimony in the case revealed a very disgraceful state of affairs in the Duncan family. Their domestic relations have been of the most war-like and unpeaceful nature. He swore that she had repeatedly assaulted him, with various implements, such as butcher knives, monkey wrenches, stove skillets, griddles, in fact anything she could get hold of when on the war path. Also that no decent man could possibly live with her.

To these statements she, of course, entered a general denial, and declared that her conduct had always been of the most gentle, loving, nature, but to tell of the sufferings she had undergone, by reason of brutal treatment from her husband, would cause people to wonder that she was not crazy. On several occasions he had kicked, cuffed and thrown her out of doors, with nothing on but a night gown. The last of these brutes occurred on Friday night. After they had retired he pounded her on the head with his fist, kicked her out of bed and then left her in a very badly bruised condition; so badly that she has been under the doctor's care since.

After hearing all the testimony the board decided that no evidences of insanity had been proven, therefore dismissed the case. This termination seemed to greatly enrage Duncan, and he declared that his next move would be to institute proceedings for a divorce on the ground that Mrs. Duncan has a husband prior to him, from whom she has never been legally released.
