Stocks have been unusually active, and at times feverish and somewhat irregular to-day with a few exceptions. Prices this morning were 1@ to 1@ higher than they closed on Saturday, which was almost immediately succeeded by a decline of small fractions throughout the list, but after the first fifteen minutes a rally was started which continued until mid-day. The highest prices were generally reached about 12 o'clock. The market then became steady at the advance and so continued till the last hour, when it yielded materially, all the early gains being lost in some cases, and finally closed weak at irregular prices as compared with Saturday evening.
