

THE DAILY BEE.

Wednesday Morning, May 20.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday by Judge McCulloch to Samuel Chon and Minnie Wascman, Joel C. Ringo and Matilda Fisher, J. P. Christensen and Mary Olsen.

District Attorney Lee Estelle arrived in city last night, and commenced yesterday afternoon the work of prosecuting certain cases in the police court.

County Clerk Leavitt has been instructed to prepare for the formal opening of the new court house beautiful souvenir programmes, which will be given to the ladies.

A number of local base ball sports are seriously contemplating applying to Judge Wakeley for an order of injunction to prevent our base ball club in the Western League from parading in Omaha colors. The disgrace is too great for this proud young city.

Miss Miller, the young lady who was injured in the street car accident on Seward street last Saturday is progressing rapidly toward recovery and is now well enough to sit up. In the account of the accident, the lady's name was Miss Miller, when it should have been Miss M.

Gen. Dandy opened a number of bids for grain contracts yesterday. At the same time Capt. McAnley opened bids for the following kinds of supplies: Balting, machinery and water supplies, bolts, steel and wagon material, cut nails, hard lumber, hardware, hose cart, (balanced), painters' supplies (paints and oils), pine lumber, stove supplies, zinc, etc., Singer sewing machine, saddlers' supplies, stationery, etc. The awards will be declared to-day.

Wood's Museum Theatre was crowded last night to witness the powerful drama, "Marked for Life," as presented with Sid C. France in the leading role. The play is one of intense feeling and thrilling situations, and its melodramatic interest is enhanced by the strong manner in which it is handled by the France company. The drama was preceded by a grand old introduction of a number of select specialty artists who went through some very clever acts.

The railway postal clerks of this city who were in the service prior to 1876 yesterday received letters from Washington attorneys offering to collect certain claims they may have against the government. It appears that some time prior to 1876 the postoffice department at Washington, without authority of law, cut down the pay of the clerks from $50 to $100 per annum on account of an insufficient appropriation by congress. The attorneys now propose to institute suit in the court of claims and obtain a decision. The alleged balance due the old clerks varies from $150 to $300, and the attorneys propose to collect it for 83 1/2 per cent.

PERSONAL.

Principal Lewis of the high school has returned from his trip south.

Gus Jenkins, a prominent citizen of Cheyenne, is in the city on his way to Chicago.

Mr. C. H. Walker, a merchant of Denver, arrived in the city Saturday and is visiting with his wife here.

Miss Lizzie Cantfield and Miss Lizzie Ransom, who have been visiting at West Point for a fortnight past, have returned.

Mr. H. O. Young, of Chicago, accompanied by his two charming daughters, Misses Etta and Mervina, are guests at the Paxton.

Dr. Amelia Burroughs has returned from New York city, having attended some important surgical operations by Dr. Emmet. Mr. and Mrs. Mileston, her parents, returned with her and hope to make Omaha their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Belden, and Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell Belden, of Syracuse, N. Y., arrived in the city last Monday night after a tour of two months in crossing the continent, and visiting California and the Pacific coast. They expect to remain in Omaha a few days.

Mr. Andrew Kiewit's residence has been blessed with another child, which put in a welcome appearance a day or so ago. James Winslip, the happy grandfather, is wearing a 44 calibre air of pompous pride now that the second grandchild has come to time.

Miss Lillie Beard who has been visiting Sioux Falls for some months, returned home yesterday accompanied by her sister, Mrs. E. W. Caldwell, wife of the auditor of Dakota, and once an Omaha newspaper man, Mrs. Caldwell will visit for several weeks with her parents residing at Twentieth and Izard.

A BIG DAY.

The Annual Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The eighteenth annual council of the Protestant Episcopal church in the diocese of Nebraska, will be held to-day in Trinity cathedral.

ORDER OF SERVICES. At 9 a. m.—Morning prayer. At 10:30 a. m.—Sermon by the Rev. Dr. James Randle, of St. Joseph, Mo., and celebration of the holy communion, after which the council will be called together for organization and business. At 8 p. m. there will be a missionary meeting in the cathedral, at which address will be delivered by the bishop, the Rev. R. Bert Doherty, Dr. McNamara, J. M. Woolworth and Gay A. Brown.

On Thursday 21st the council will meet at 9 a. m. In the evening at 8 o'clock a reception will be given to the bishops, clergy and other members of the council at the residence of Judge Wakeley, corner of California and Nineteenth streets, to which all are cordially invited.

THE DISTINGUISHED TOURISTS.

Secretary Endicott's Visit to Omaha and How He Was Treated.

An Inspection of the Barracks and Troops at the Fort—Driven About the City—Received at the Omaha Club—Dined at the Paxton.

As noted in the Bee that he would do so, the Hon. William C. Endicott, secretary of war, and party arrived here yesterday morning, coming from Fort Leavenworth over the Missouri Pacific road, but in a special car of the Central Branch line. Besides his wife and daughter, Gen. R. C. Drum, Col. T. M. Barr, and Mr. Sweet, private secretary to Mr. Endicott, were of the party.

They were met at the Union Pacific depot by General Howard and a number of his staff officers. Mr. Endicott, with his wife and daughter, two charming ladies, were taken to Gen. Howard's residence, where they breakfasted, Hon. J. M. Woolworth and Judge Savage being among the invited guests. Gen. Drum was taken in charge by Col. Stanton and was his guest for the day, as was also Col. Barr.

After breakfast the party repaired to the military headquarters where they were introduced to the officers of the commanding general's staff. A reporter for the Bee met the secretary and engaged him in a few moments conversation. He is a man of refined and courteous bearing, possessing too a suave dignity of manner. He had very little to say about military affairs in general, or Nebraska matters in particular, avowing that he did not care to disclose any lines of policy which were in contemplation with reference to army matters in this state.

The introductions and small chat, which consumed probably half an hour, at which place being brought to an end, the visitors and citizens then proceeded to Fort Omaha, where arrangements had been effected for their entertainment until noon. On entering the grounds, Lieutenant Coffran, with a detachment of men from the battery, fired a salute of seventeen guns. After visiting and inspecting the buildings, a review of the troops on dress parade followed. An hour and a half was then pleasantly spent at Gen. Carlton's residence, where the officers and their wives were presented to the secretary, and where a nice lunch was served.

The secretary expressed himself as being very favorably impressed with the fort and the officers he met.

While all this was going on a reporter for the Bee ran across an old class mate and from him received a few notes of interest relative to the distinguished gentleman.

Judge J. W. Savage, who was an old school-mate of Secretary Endicott's, said in conversation with the reporter, "I knew Mr. Endicott, well, in college days. He graduated with me in the class of 1847 at Harvard college. Endicott, as I remember him, was a young man of quiet dignity, and great polish and refinement, and rather inclined, I should say, to cool reserve of manner. He was a fairly good scholar, though he achieved no great distinction in the matter of study. No, he was not at all brilliant, except in society. He was very much respected and even beloved by those who were his immediate associates. More especially did his character command admiration, for that it was stamped by great energy and determination of purpose. I am sorry that I cannot tell you any incidents about him, for though in those days of nearly forty years ago classes were small and classmates were thrown together more than they are now, I don't remember at present any interesting incidents of Endicott's career. Well, no, I don't remember that the secretary of war was ever inclined to be wild or that he was in the habit of having a hand in the usual college scrapes."

In the meantime the Omaha Club committee, Messrs. C. E. Squires, J. T. Clarke, R. W. Patrick, W. A. Morris, E. P. Peck, and George Paterson, appointed Monday night to make arrangements for a reception and dinner, banded themselves, and when the party returned to town carriages were in waiting to take them on a drive through the city, accompanied by Senator Manderson, Mayor Boyd, Mr. Morse, Judge Savage, and Mr. Woolworth. All the points of principal interest were taken in, but the threatening weather prevented an extended ride, and at 3 o'clock the gentlemen returned to the rooms of the Omaha Club, and the ladies were taken back to Gen. Howard's residence. An hour was devoted to a reception at the club rooms, during which time a large number of Omaha's citizens were introduced to and chatted pleasantly with the secretary and the other gentlemen of his party.

During the time a Bee reporter was privileged to apply his pump again, and in answer to an inquiry as to what he thought of Omaha, Mr. Endicott said that it surpassed him very much to see so large, well improved and finely built a city. He had not anticipated anything of the kind, and "my visit was," he continued, "which is the first in my life, has been a very agreeable one and the country is in a much more advanced state of improvement than I had expected to see it."

At the close of the reception an elegant dinner was served at the Paxton hotel, as will be seen by a perusal of the MENU.

- Sardines Olives Radishes Lettuce Cucumbers Sauterne Chicken, au Veloute Spinach Claret Tenderloin of Beef with Mushrooms Broiled Plover on Toast Green Peas Champagne Beef Wild Goose with Jelly Spring Lamb, Mint Sauce Asparagus a la Cream Chicken Salad Shrimp Salad Strawberry Short Cake Omelette Mashed Potatoes Neapolitan Ice Cream Cognac Cheese Crackers Coffee

Not having the time to prepare for a regular banquet, only a few Omaha people were invited to the dinner, therefore covers were only laid for the Hon. W. C. Endicott, Senator Manderson, Judge Savage, Col. Thomas M. Barr, Harman Kountz, the Hon. G. W. E. Dorsey, Col. T. H. Stanton, H. W. Yates, Judge J. M. Woolworth, Gen. R. C. Drum, Gen.

O. O. Howard, Mayor J. E. Boyd, W. V. Morse and Mr. Sweet.

The service was very fine and the dinner, which lasted an hour, greatly enjoyed. The secretary and his party left at 7 o'clock last evening for St. Paul, from whence they go to Chicago and thence direct to Washington.

EXPRESSING INDIGNATION.

A Meeting of Colored Citizens Resolute on the Action of Manager Boyd Against one of Their Number.

The police court room was filled Monday night by colored citizens in mass meeting assembled, who discussed in a calm and deliberate manner the outrage perpetrated on one of their fellow citizens, namely, Rev. Geo. W. Woodbey. The meeting was called to order by the election of Dr. M. O. Ricketts, at the chair and David R. Jones as secretary.

A committee of five was appointed to draft resolutions. The committee comprised the following gentlemen: M. O. Ricketts, A. Kiehafole, Peter J. Williams, John Simpson, C. Sumner Sweet.

WHEREAS, Mr. Boyd, manager of the opera house, has seen fit to insult and abuse our most worthy and estimable citizen, the Rev. George W. Woodbey, and

WHEREAS, Such restrictions and inequalities are fast becoming relics of a barbarous age, and

WHEREAS, Such proscription is against the public sentiment of the community and the laws of this state.

Resolved, That it be resolved by the colored citizens in mass meeting assembled, that the insult that has been offered to Elder Woodbey is an insult to every colored citizen of Omaha.

Resolved, That the citizens of the city and state we protest against all discrimination and solemnly pledge ourselves to take all honorable means of securing our rights as citizens.

Resolved, That the course pursued by the Republican in this matter is highly censurable and cowardly, and unworthy of a journal professing to be the advocate of true republicanism, that the name of the paper "W" is a coward and not worthy the name of man or gentleman.

Resolved, That we entirely endorse the action of Elder Woodbey in this his manly fight for his rights as a citizen.

Resolved, That we will insist upon every man, white or colored, granting us the rights due us.

Resolved, That we do most heartily appreciate the manly and fearless defense of the race found in the editorials of this paper, and that we have always found Editor Rosewater fearless in his denunciation of wrong and support of the right; that we believe him worthy of the confidence of citizens of this state.

The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the following committee: E. R. Overall, Rev. C. M. Farnham, H. Butler, A. H. Willis and G. Young.

COURT NEWS.

A Grand Jury to be Drawn—Suits Filled—Lovejoy Arraigned in the U. S. Court.

In the district court yesterday, George H. Petersen brought suit against F. S. Shugart, claiming $10,000 damages for breach of contract. The petition of the plaintiff alleges that he made a contract with defendant to sell him $11,000 worth of dry goods and real estate, in consideration for certain lands, but that when the time came for the final consummation of the bargain, Shugart failed to come to time.

Katherine Geist applies for divorce and alimony from Joseph Geist, on the grounds of cruelty and abuse.

Carrie T. Hine applies for divorce from Amos A. Hine, on the grounds of non-support.

George Sautter applies for divorce from Louisa Sautter, on the ground of desertion, and applies also for custody of their child.

Judges Wakeley and Neville held a consultation yesterday and decided that upon a writ of habeas corpus issued under the new law passed by the legislature, they were entitled to summon a grand jury. This decision is in accordance with previously expressed opinions and appears to meet with general satisfaction. A formal order was issued ordering the drawing of the jury, and the organization will be completed in time to allow the august body to enter upon its labors June 1st.

IN THE COUNTY COURT. In the county court yesterday the case of Brown vs. B. & M. R. R. for damages to goods in the recent freight house fire, was called and a jury constituted. The hearing of the case is set for to-morrow.

Walter Hayden and others commenced proceedings yesterday in the county court against John W. Bell, to recover the sum of $85.21 on an account for goods.

The Bradstreet company sued Whisler Bros. in the county court yesterday for $15.12, which they claim due them on a contract.

UNITED STATES COURT. Howard S. Lovejoy, the man who is in limbo as a charge of $100,000 government money when receiver of the public land office at Nebraska, was arraigned before Judge Dundy yesterday.

He pleaded not guilty, but desiring that no further action be taken in the case until Gen. Cowan returns home, the prisoner was remanded back to jail.

In the case of Monroe E. Smith vs. Alma A. Woods, the marshal was directed to sell, on May 19, all attached property and turn the proceeds of such sale over to the court.

William E. Seaman filed his cross bill answer in the case of Oneasocket Institution for Savings vs. Seaman.

JURIES DRAWN.

Forty Gentlemen Called to Serve Their Country at the June Term of Court.

The county commissioners yesterday drew petit and grand juries to serve at the June term of the district court. It might be interesting for some to know that under the new law the manner of selecting these juries has been reversed. Forty names are drawn and with these the two juries are made up. Heretofore the first 16 names were made grand jurors, but this is changed and the petit jury must be drawn first.

Following are the jurors drawn yesterday:

GRAND JURY.

W. F. Stoddard, David Redman, A. W. Fallredo, B. F. Madison, Morris Scanlon, Frank Kasper, M. V. Doolittle, Richard Kitchan, Fred Brunning, David Guild, Thomas C. Pelle, Merlin Grace, John Emerick, H. O. Krause, William Sigelke, Adam Waybright.

POLICE COURT.

Brushing a Granger—Drunks and Vags Sentenced.

Mike Giffing, who was charged with intoxication, was tried, found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and costs.

Joseph Creighton was put through the same mill and was fined a similar amount.

The next victim of judicial severity was John L. Strayer, a notorious and confirmed drunkard and vagrant, whose libidinous propensities are so strongly marked and so dangerous that he has been termed the "Strayer" on the path of virtue. He has been arrested seven times since February on charges of drunkenness or vagrancy. This time he was gently warned to the county jail on the breeze of a 15 days sentence on bread and water.

John Wilson, an old inebriate and Johanna Donahoe, an ancient crone who ekes out a miserable existence by begging on the street, were jointly arraigned on charges of intoxication. Judge Stenberg, out of sheer compassion, released them.

Another culprit was William Featherstone. This sugar-coated worthy was arrested as a frequenter of low resorts, and it was easily proven, moreover, that he was a runner for a house of prostitution. He was convicted and promised to leave town by to-morrow afternoon, if released.

Patrick Kennedy and George Carson, four times sentenced, were arraigned before the tribunal as vagrants, re-appearing this morning to answer to the same charge. They were found guilty and will spend the remainder of the week in the county jail. James Dally, who has been in jail since last Saturday on suspicion of being implicated in the slugging and robbery of Hartigan, was arraigned for trial. He was convicted of a criminal nature was decidedly meagre, and Dally was released.

Yesterday morning an oldgranger stopping at the "Slaven" hotel, was approached by two strangers, who acted so charmingly and talked so courteously as to produce a favorable sensation on the old fellow's mind. They observed to the victim that he looked dusty, probably had been traveling. Wouldn't he like to be dusted off? He said, certainly they would be pleased to officiate in the position of "dusters." They liked to brush old men off. Always had an indefinable soul longing for that moral of society, etc., etc.

When the operation was complete, the victim went out to get a drink, when lo! he discovered that his pockets had been rifled of all his cash, some $20 or $25. He complained to the police and a short time afterwards Thomas Brady and Frank Clayport were arrested on suspicion of being the culprits.

THE TURNFEST.

Missouri Valley Turners Soon to Assemble in Annual Convale.

The eighteenth annual turn fest of the Missouri Valley Turn Berzli will take place at Atchison, Kansas, on the 23d, 24th and 25th inst., and the following societies will be represented: Omaha, St. Joe, Leavenworth, Kansas City, Lawrence, Topeka, Marysville, Eudora and Valley Falls.

The Omaha society will run two trains over the Missouri Pacific railroad, leaving Saturday, one in the morning and the other in the evening.

The following will be the class to represent Omaha: H. Gromme, Robert Rosensweig, W. Schulze, A. Morovitz, G. F. Elmer and F. J. Lange, with Louis Heimrod and Prof. Kommerow as prize judges.

It is possible that the Union Pacific band will accompany the Turners on their trip. Last year the turnfest was celebrated in Omaha and was largely attended.

Yesterday Deputy Sheriff Ed Crowell returned from Lincoln, bringing with him Jacob Hauck, who is accused of swindling J. H. Butler. Hauck was arraigned in Judge Anderson's court and his hearing was set for to-morrow afternoon. He was released upon furnishing a bail bond for $250. The assignment claim of Mr. Riley has been settled. Mr. Hauck thinks that the Butler matter will be adjusted and the whole difficulty settled.
