

State Superintendent Satisfied with Outlook for School Exhibit.

MAKES STARK COLONEL ON HIS STAFF

Governor Holcomb Names the Congressman as Special Aide for Duty at Washington—General Gage's Plan to Populate Cuba.

LINCOLN, May 27.—(Special.)—At the office of the state superintendent it is learned that the school exhibits at the exposition have been assigned to the superintendent of the state, and that on opening day the educational department will be practically in a finished condition. Some few changes and additions will be found necessary during the coming month, but the department is in better shape than had been hoped for a month ago. The state superintendent has been making several engagements at outside towns this week so as to devote their entire attention to the exposition work next week. Mr. Jackson is at Imperial, Chase county, tonight, making an address during the high school commencement program there. Deputy Beck is at Bellwood taking part in the annual exercises of the Bellwood schools, and will go from there to Omaha tomorrow morning. The governor has received a letter from Congressman W. L. Stark in answer to the telegram recently sent notifying Stark of his appointment as aide-de-camp of the governor for a detail for duty at Washington. Mr. Stark expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred, and says that he regrets very much the fact that he is over weight in this all that prevents him from doing active service in the field. He accepts the appointment made by the governor, but declines all pay or emoluments for the service while he is in the city. The first regular Adjutant General Barr has issued an order appointing Colonel C. J. Bill as paymaster of the Second regiment for the purpose of settling with the men for their services in Camp Alvin Saunders from April 27 to May 4, inclusive, while they were in the employ of the state. The first regular Adjutant General has already been sent.

Gage's Plan to Settle Cuba.

J. D. Gage, formerly adjutant general of the National Guard, in an interview today regarding the conduct of the war on the proposed enlistment of volunteers under the second call of the president, said in his opinion it would be a good plan to call out a number of colored regiments for service in Cuba. They could be recruited from among the unemployed colored men of the south, and also from those of the younger generation who have not yet accumulated property of a permanent character. These men would make good soldiers, and the service would be a great benefit to them, both in discipline and in a financial way. Mr. Gage also favored the discharge of those men in Cuba at the end of the war, so that they would be able to return to their homes and settle on the country with a more desirable population than it now possesses. The government of course transporting back to the states all who desired to go back. As an encouragement to the colored soldiers to remain in Cuba, and also to preserve the proper ratio of the sexes, the plan now further proposed is for the free transportation of all colored women and girls who desired to go and join their countrymen in Cuba. Mr. Gage says that from his knowledge of the conditions in the southern states such a move as this would be a desirable one for the future welfare of both countries and of the colored people themselves.

A case being tried in district court that of Herpeltine against Edmisten, the controversy growing out of the failure of the Merchants' bank, which occurred last fall. Edmisten gave Herpeltine a check for a sum of money, drawn against a deposit in the bank. The check was not presented for payment until after the bank had closed its doors, and no payment is demanded. The defense is that the holder of the check did not use due diligence in cashing the check.

Stolen Kisses. Young men do not try to steal kisses from girls among the trees. The girls are so shy that they will not kiss you. There is a book containing one hundred and thirty pages and over three hundred illustrations, that every young man and every mother of young daughters should read. It tells in plain, every day language that anyone can understand, many vital truths that every maid, wife and mother should know. It tells the untold suffering and agony that women undergo who enter upon the important duties of wifehood and motherhood without seeing to it that they are strong and well in a womanly way. It tells about a wonderful medicine for women. A medicine that fits for wifehood and motherhood. A marvelous medicine that gives strength, vigor, vitality and elasticity to the delicate and important feminine organs that bear the burden of maternity. It contains the names, addresses and photographs of many hundreds of women who were weak, sickly, nervous, fretful, childless wives, but who are now healthy, happy, amiable wives and mothers, through the use of Dr. Pierce's Kidney and Bladder Cure. This book is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It used to cost $1.50, now it is free. Send a one-cent stamp to cover mailing to you a paper-covered copy. Five French cloth binding, to cents extra. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

During the fall and winter of 1894 I was engaged in teaching at Public School No. 31 in Smith Co., near Tyler, Texas," writes Mr. J. F. Wood. "I was then afflicted with female weakness. We tried three of the best physicians in the county without benefit to my wife for a year, but at great expense. My wife grew worse and we gave up in despair. She could not get in and out of doors without help. She was not able to stand on her feet long at a time, and complained of dragging down her feet. After a month of suffering she at last succumbed to her illness. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for his advice. My wife took Dr. Pierce's Kidney and Bladder Cure, and six months was completely cured. At a cost of less than one month's treatment by the best physicians we employed before consulting Dr. Pierce.

In the petition and the court took that part of the application under advisement, to report tomorrow.

HER LOST OPPORTUNITY.

HOW IT WAS FOUND AND DESPAIR TURNED TO GLADNESS.

COMPANY A IS THE WINNER

Comes Out Ahead in the Competitive Drill of the Omaha High School Cadets.

The new base ball grounds at Twenty-second street and Ames avenue saw a victorious game played there last evening. It was the annual competitive drill of the Omaha High School cadets, and it was witnessed by about 350 of Omaha's 400. Company A of the gallant cadets won the first prize in the company drill and will therefore have the honor of carrying the handsome American flag of the battalion during the coming year. Captain Louis Clark was presented with a handsome sword as a token of esteem and appreciation of his admirable command over the victorious company. Sergeant Whitey of company D won the individual prize drill and received a handsome medal after his victory over thirty-four competitors.

The cadets formed up on the high school campus shortly after 8 o'clock last evening. Headed by the Omaha Military band they made a short parade through the business section of the city and then proceeded to the base ball park in special trolley cars in waiting for them at Seventeenth and Cuming streets. Their friends were at the park before the cadets. They were present: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Jaynes, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Godfrey, the Misses Mertie Robinson, Edna Robinson, Loma, Eppeske, Jaynes, Walker, Turner, Macomber, Hanchett, Garner and many others of the fashionable.

In the competitive drill by companies D, Captain Manchester commanding, drilled first and made a very favorable impression. This was the company that had carried the colors for the last year and was anxious to have the honor for another year. Company B, Captain Robinson commanding, drilled next and slightly exceeded company D. Captain Robinson put his men through a great number of movements in short order, and rendered most credit to hurry matters. The individual drill was judged by Lieutenant Campbell, U. S. A., military instructor of the high school cadets. Two members of the cadets were thrown out of the competition on "catch orders," the command to bring the gun to order arms from present arms being a favorite order. There were thirty-five cadets entered in the

The last three who stood up were: Pritchard, Dumont and Whitey. They were dropped in the order named. As soon as it was seen that Sergeant Whitey had won the prize he was lifted on the shoulders of his fellow cadets of company D and carried about as a hero deserved.

The unfavorable weather seriously interfered with a large attendance at the drill and the poor lighting facilities of the grounds had a deleterious effect on the enthusiasm of the crowd that was present. The company of the Council Bluffs cadets that was expected failed to put in an appearance. On the whole the drill was quite successful and Adjutant Frank Knight and the other battalion officers were numerous congratulated on the result of the occasion, despite the untoward weather.

UNANIMOUS FOR DAVE MERCER.

Delegates Chosen in Douglas County to Name Congressional Delegates.

The republican county convention to select delegates to the congressional convention will be held at Washington hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The congressional convention will be held two hours later. As there is a practical unanimity of opinion in regard to the nomination of David H. Mercer it is anticipated that either of the conventions will be marked by any factional differences and aside from the formality of the nomination they will simply serve as opportunities for a few inspiring speeches and for getting the rank and file in line for the campaign.

THE PRIMARIES TO SELECT DELEGATES TO THE COUNTY DELEGATE CONVENTION WERE HELD IN DOUGLAS COUNTY YESTERDAY AND WERE WITHOUT INCIDENT.

There was only one ticket in a mere formality. In South Omaha there were some indications that there would be two tickets in the field merely to decide which of two factions should control the delegation, but this difference was harmoniously adjusted and a ticket was agreed on that was satisfactory to all interests. These are the delegates elected:

First Ward—John Rosicky, Frank K. Darling, James Cathro, S. W. Scott, A. M. Back, William Hutton, Fred Morrison, Paul Sommer.

MORE WORK OF FOOTPADS

A. W. Olson, a Farmer from Near Blair, is Relieved of His Rob.

Thursday night, A. W. Olson, a farmer living near Blair, Neb., who had come to this city to market his produce, was attacked by two footpads at Forty-first and Hamilton streets and after being half strangled was robbed of $16.

Mr. Olson arrived in the city in the afternoon and after making the rounds of his customers put up his team at the livery barn of L. Betts, 812 North Twenty-first street. Shortly after 9 o'clock he called for his horses and started to drive to Clifton Hill addition, where his married daughter resides and with whom he intended to spend the night. When he reached Forty-first and Hamilton streets Mr. Olson overtook two men who spoke to him as he passed and asked permission to ride. They were well dressed and apparently respectable and Mr. Olson invited them to share his seat.

The men mounted over the wheel but before the team started seized their benefactor by the throat. One held him firmly, while the other made a careful search of his pockets and secured $16, the proceeds of his load of produce. When the operation was concluded both sprang to the ground and escaped. Mr. Olson yesterday described his experience to Mr. Betts, the liveryman, who states that finger marks were still plainly visible on his throat. He returned to his home later in the day. Mr. Olson is well known in this city, having conducted a business several years at Tenth and Douglas streets.

A similar attempt was made in the same part of town a few nights ago upon S. Harris, 4113 Lafayette avenue. The young man had spent the evening with friends near Twenty-ninth and Cuming streets and inadvertently missed the last car. He had walked a few blocks west on Cuming street when he encountered two men whose description corresponds to that of Olson's assailants. One of the men addressed Harris and inquired if the last car had gone west. Harris responded that such was the case and that it was on that account that he himself was on foot. "You're too fresh, young fellow," said the robber. "Throw up your hands." Harris felt considerable confidence in his ability to cover ground and instead of obeying started for home with all possible speed. He neither paused nor looked back until he reached Fortieth and Cuming streets, when he found that his pursuers were out of the race.
