

TEACHERS AND JANITORS

Board of Education Elects the List for Next Year's Service.

HESS STARTS A ROW OVER ONE PLACE

Charges Janitor Armstrong with Being Disloyal and Gets an Investigation Ordered—Names of the Staff as Chosen.

The Board of Education wavered through the herculean task of the year—that of the selection of janitors and teachers—last night. It was the culmination of a week of hard work of the committees and the members slightly irritable over the hundreds of personal letters of woe and complaints heard by them.

The appointments were made without much fussing. The men who wield the broom and dustpan in the Omaha public schools seemed to give the greatest cause for dissatisfaction. The list of janitors placed in the board which had two meetings and caused the meeting to quit abruptly with a few members of the board decidedly warm "under the collar."

George W. Armstrong, head janitor of the Pacific school, will stand trial before the committee on heating and ventilation, whose first week of work was devoted to the matter, made in an affidavit by George H. Hess, member of the board. Armstrong, who, by the way, seemed to have many friends on the board, is lacking in the proper American sentiment, and when Armstrong—who was waiting to see how his job would be done—heard that he was to be tried, he was a great big "He. But he did not let his anger show.

Eventually the complaint was referred to the committee on heating and ventilation, but ere this was done and after it was done there were a few brushes. Mr. Penfold took upon himself, "the old soldier vote" about which the board has heard complaints at various times, and he rather heatedly demanded that the aforesaid janitor promptly purge himself of disloyal sentiments like that ascribed to him or forthwith vomit.

Dr. Moore poured oil on the troubled waters during the meeting which caused the offered a motion to the effect that no contracts be entered into between the board and Mr. Armstrong until the next meeting or until the charges had been looked into. Mr. Hess rather vehemently insisted on having an amendment put through that the Union Veterans' club, which is interested in the charge, be heard. President Jordan remarked more than once that that privilege would be accorded anyway. Someone tried to get the thing up again and have Armstrong make his defense right then and there, but a thunder cloud arose. After two filibustering attempts to adjourn it went through in the quiet. Chairman Thomas of the committee said they will not get together until next week.

Janitors Elected.

In the list of appointments janitors came first. Although Armstrong's name was merely in obsequy, there were nine straight votes—the requisite number—for the list as reported by the committee on janitors for the ensuing year. QUEEN OF ALL THE GYPSIES

Mollie Stanley Arrives in the City with Her Tribe.

SETS UP HER TENT NEAR THE EXPOSITION

Seven Hundred Wanderers Upon the Face of the Earth Hold Their Annual Meeting Here This Morning.

The original gypsy queen, vouchered to be the only real thing of her kind in the world, arrived in the city recently with her band of about a score. She is Mrs. Gustave Stanley, nee Mollie Fryer, for she was married about a year ago. Her tribe pitched tents just south of the exposition grounds, at Sherman avenue and Locust street, and intends to keep them pitched there while the big show is in progress.

The royal personages, however, are not the only gypsies that will be here this summer by any means, for Omaha is the Mecca of all the gypsies in the United States this year. They will hold their regular annual meeting here on June 30, and from now on until that date they will be straggling in. When the whole bunch is corralled there will be some 700 on hand, pretty nearly all the legitimate gypsy population in America. They intend to hold their annual meeting, date named, and after it is concluded they will scatter again, although some will be on hand all the rest of the season.

Plays the Star Part.

The stellar attraction of the whole gathering will be Queen Mollie Fryer, as she is known generally, or Queen Mollie Stanley, as she probably ought to be called now. She is a giddy young thing to be wearing royal robes, for she is only 20 years of age, or a little more. She came to the throne as a result of the death of her mother, who departed this life in Austria after reigning for thirty-six years. This royal personage was born in the United States, but it is a rule of the gypsies that the queen's successor cannot climb upon the royal throne until she is an even score years of age. Mollie did not reach that period of her lifetime until May 22 last. On that date she was appropriately and with all due ceremony crowned in the United States. She holds the lives of 1,100 faithful subjects in the palm of her right hand. Some 700 of these subjects are in America and the remainder in Austria. She is the only real thing, just as her subjects are the only real things in the gypsy line, or, at least, that is what Lewis Stanley, her brother-in-law, claims.

Queen Mollie cannot talk much English, and she is shy, too, for all that she is willing to have her regal personage viewed by the common multitude. Therefore, visitors are free to visit around the camp. They will be given a grand view of her royal highness and there will be plenty of plebeians about to explain things. One of the particular objects to be taken notice of is the queen's traveling equipage, of which she is very proud.

The Chief Priest of Her Band has Not Yet Arrived.

The chief priest of her band has not yet arrived, but as soon as he gets upon the ground he will officiate at ceremonies and services to be held every Sunday.

Central Labor Union Meets

Reports from Committees on Various Matters of Interest to the Trades Unions Are Discussed.

The Central Labor union met in the Labor Temple with a fair representation of the trades present.

The first business taken up was the report of the committee on the Labor Congress movement, which is to take place in Omaha in September. The committee reported that it had been unable to receive any encouragement from the exposition management toward defraying expenses of a committee of two to visit six of the large cities west of the Mississippi river and agitate the matter, and suggested the abandonment of the project.

Two cars of earthenware from Liverpool passed through the custom house. Two more cars were also received from Hong Kong and will be offered for sale in the Chinese village at the exposition. A carload of miscellaneous goods sent to the exposition from Canada was also inspected.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

All of the saloon keepers in the city have received within the last day or two circular letters from the breweries giving notice of an advance of $1 per barrel in the price of beer. The wine tax is given as the reason for the advance. "It is out of the question," say the brewers, "for us to stand this additional burden, the present prices barely assuring us a legitimate profit. It will have to be borne by the public." Continuing, this letter suggests that saloon keepers should increase their prices per cent as to draw five more glasses out of each keg, or twenty out of a barrel. It is also urged that the retail liquor dealers adopt a uniform price of 5 cents per pint for beer sold in cans or pitchers. Bottled beer prices have been, as a matter of course advanced in proportion, the beer being sold in 2 cent open dops and 10 cents per dozen quarts.

Local saloon keepers assert that the advance in the price of beer will make a material difference in their receipts, some claiming that they will lose from $50 to $75 a month on account of the increased tax.

The new Washburn solid vestibule train of day coaches, sleeping and dining cars, train for tourists and all classes of travel. Will leave Chicago (daily), 12 noon. Arrive Omaha (daily), 12:30 a. m. Arrive New York via West Shore, 3:30 p. m. Arrive Boston via Fitchburg, 5:50 p. m. Very few more men will be wanted from Omaha. There are quite a large number recruited at Lincoln and other points in the state which will constitute the next complement of men to be sent to the front.

Major Koepfer, the regular army surgeon, is busily engaged in passing upon the applicants. Some forty men were before him yesterday.

While it is quite apparent that it is inherent patriotism that actuates the most of those that present themselves at the recruiting office, it is true that restlessness has something to do with it. Of those who belong to the country are much greater than the number of those that are accepted after the examination.

Captain Holdeman says that he already has more than enough men in sight, and to take care of them is now the first consideration. During the greater part of the day there was a long line of men waiting at the armory for an opportunity to pass the surgeon. Nothing is known as to when the new volunteers will be sent to the front, as it depends entirely upon orders from headquarters at Washington.
