Lets the Boastful Brewers Down with a Very Hard Jolt.

DANNY DAUB LANDS A WINNER AT LAST

His Pitching Good Enough to Win and Well Enough Supported to Make it Most Effective at All Times.

One Daniel Daub, twirler, was sore over the way the Brewers treated him Friday and he didn't do a thing to 'em yesterday except to pull out a game for the Babes by a score of 3 to 2. That's all. And it vas another pretty little game, too.

If anybody else should be picked out for any particular mention it should be all the rest of the aggregation, for Mr. Daub was given out-of-sight support. Yet Colonel Freddie Roat might have been just a little ahead of the rest of them, for he put up as perfect a game as he did a punk one the day before. Nine hard chances without an error is good work and some of his stops were beauts.

Then he banged two three-base hits way out into left field, both in the same identical spot, and both just where he put the one that won the first Milwaukee game. One of them developed into the winning

It was a pitchers' battle all the way through. The Brewers got five hits all told, but two of them were very much scratch. indeed, and they got them only by the hair of their teeth. We only got four, but they counted: I want to tell.

It all goes to prove that the Brewers are not so much after all when they go up against a real good team of ball tossers, and we won't do a thing to them this afternoon. Oh, no, not a thing with Pa Fisher in the box. They're too easy.

The beerslingers had the first try at the leather, and like many another ball team that has been here before, they started out as if they had some excuse for existing Nicol bunted along the third base line and got to first before the ball. He stole second and got to third on Schock's out to first. Then Catcher Mac surprised everybody by letting a ball go by him and on it Mr. Nicol scored. Daly got to first, but Weaver and Stafford both died at first.

"Das ist genucht." said Danny Daub to bimself at the end of that inning, and he let no more than three of them face him after that for five innings. Little Mac helped him along, for when Weaver made a hit in the fourth and Nicol another in the stath he hilled both trying to steal himself at the end of that inning, and he let no more than three of them face him the sixth, he killed both trying to steal second with Roat's and Holly's assistance

How Omaha Won It. Fleming got a very scratchy hit in the firs and although he stole second and Speer le a ball go behind him he could not get hom before the three men after him went out. The second did the work for us.

After Lyons flew out to Weaver, Reid came very near caving in Preston's abdo took advantage of the opportunity for see along with another timely hit and sent hir to third. Speer thought he could catch Pre at third and he fired the ball into th bleachers. Pres scored. Then Holly cam

The third, fourth and fifth were without O'Day, any results, but the sixth was nice. After Enstace went out at first, Roat cracked out a besut of a three-bagger. Pick also died at first, but Leewe fumbled Lyons' grounder and also threw badly to first. On this Roat scored. Preston died at first.

In the seventh the Brewers gave us a scare. Daly got a base on balls, but was doubled up with Weaver. Holly juggled let the latter get the base and Waldron drew the other base on balls in the game. Waldron played way off the bag and McCauley threw to catch him. He fired wild and before the ball was recovered Stafford was over the plate. Leewe flew out to Pickering.

The seventh was eventless for us and so was the first of the eighth for them, although Reidy made a hit. In our end after two men were out. Roat biffed another three-bagger in exactly the same spot as the other, but could not get home, Pickering going out at first.

In the ninth, after Daly flew out to Eustace. Weaver sent a corker for two bags along the left foul line. He got to third on Stafford's out from Eustace to Lyons, Waldron came up and pegged one to Holly, which he ate; and the game was over. Score: OMAHA. AB. R. H.SB.SH. O. A. E.

Carries Off the Honors In the Suburban Handicap by Half a Length.

ORNAMENT, THE FAVORITE, BADLY BEATEN

Required an Hour for the Eleven Candidates to Get Started, and In the Last Stretch Tille Pulls from Fifth to First Place.

NEW YORK, June 18 .- Tillo first and the great Ornament nowhere was the record of the suburban handicap of 1898. The favorite was badly beaten, chiefly because the horses were kept a full hour at the post. When the bugle called the contenders to the post there was but little unoccupied space in the great grand stand, on the roof or on the lawn.

It was almost 4:30 when the eleven canlidates were in the hands of Starter Fitzgerald, and then came a wearisome wait. After several false starts finally all came down together, and they were off on their journey, exactly an hour after they had reached the starting point. Tillo was quickest on his feet, and for a minute his muzzle showed in front, but his rider took him back to fifth. Royal Stag came next, followed by Havoc, Ogden, Don de Oro, Ornament and the others. They did not settle down to work until they had passed the grand stand and had reached the end of the first quarter, and it could easily be seen that the jockeys had waiting orders. As the horses straightened out on the back stratch, Doggett sent Royal Stag up a little nearer Ogden, and Peep o' Day and Imp moved up too, so that as they passed the half mile post in that order they were heads apart. Tillo was still in fifth place, attended by Don de Oro, Havoc and Ornament, but that he was going to get today's game or the latter seemed to be overpowered by the weight he was carrying. Ben Holladay, too, was in the rear, while the rest had long been hanging out signals of distress. The sole exception was Semper Ego, who was doing well in the rear, but seemed to be pocketed.

As they neared the three-quarter pole Hamilton urged Ogden a bit, and as they lashed past the mark, he was a length to overhauling them rapidly. There was but furlong to go and Ogden began to waver. In a few strides Tillo had the front rank end it could be plainly seen that it was all over. He passed the wire half a length in front of Semper Ego, who had snatched second from Ogden in the last few strides through the good riding of Maher. Don de Ore was a bad fourth and the others were eaten off. Summaries: First race, five furlongs: Harry Reed won, Isador second, Momentum third. Time: 1:92. Second race, one mile: Rinaldo won, second, General Maceo third. Time:

SAWYER WINS POTH PRIZES. Speedy Messenger Boy Outclasses the Speedy Messenger Boy Outclasses the Field is the Road Race.

When the bicycle enthusiasts of the city awakened yesterday morning and found the streets and roads soaking wet their thearts sank. It was the day set for the road race to be held under the auspices of the Triangle wheelmen of the Young Men's Christian association. For several weeks wheelmen in this vicinity have been looking forward to it with much interest and a postponement of the affair would have been a big disappointment, but by noon all traces of the rain had disappeared and at 2:30, the time set for starting the race, the traces of the rain had disappeared and at 2:30, the time set for starting the race, the course was as dry as a bone and there could hardly have been a more ideal day. There was a slight wind blowing from the north, which was directly in the riders faces on the way out, but it enabled them to burn the road on the return trip and so no one kicked. At 2:40 when Starter O'Brien sent the first bunch away, which consisted of the three five-minute or limit men, there was an immense crowd around the starting place at Nineteenth and Nicholas streets, and it was with some difficulty that the riders got through, but the crowd was soon cleared from in front of olas streets, and it was with some difficulty that the riders got through, but the crowd was soon cleared from in front of the starting point and the balance of the men were sent away in splendid shape, there not being a single accident to mar the start. Hardly had the scratch men started when the crowd made a rush to get to the finishing place, which had been arranged at Twentleth and Ames avenue. At the finishing point they had not long to wait, as the boys were making good time, and the cry soon went up, "Here they come," and a rider clad in blue hove in sight and came slowly up. It proved to be one of the contestants who had given up the race after riding about half way to the turning point at Florence and was returning to see the finish of the others. It was not long until another rider shot around the bend and down the hill and the crowd knew that he was heading for the tape in earnest, riding like a streak, but seeming fresh and leaving his nearest competitors, who were a hundred yards behind farther back at every turn of the seeming fresh and leaving his nearest competitors, who were a hundred yards behind, farther back at every turn of the pedals. The lad proved to be L. Sawyer, the messenger who won third prize in the Decoration day road race in 1896. The handicappers had given him one minute and thirty seconds start, which he did not need, as he easily won the first and time prize, covering the nine miles in 29:29, and seemed to have still more up his sleeve when he finished. The value of his prizes were $25 each.

Hamilton urged Ogden a bit, and as they flashed past the mark, he was a length to the good. Imp shoved her head in front of Royal Stag, while Clayton moved Tillo into fourth place. Ornament was actually in last place, and Sloan was driving for all he was worth.

It was only a short distance home and there seemed to be no chance for him to win. Foot by foot Ornament cut down the lead of the others, and when he had worked his way up to eighth place, Sloan evidently saw it was useless and gave up a badly ridden race.

It was but a short drive around the turnand then their noses were in the stretch with Ogden a length in front. Clayton, on Tillo, had moved up into second place, crowding past Imp, who was about ready to stop.

As they straightened out for home Little Maher on Semper Ego began to thread his way through the maze of flying hoofs, and almost before the others knew it he was overhauling them rapidly. There was but is hoped that it will father more such races during the season. Following is the score: Place—1. L. Sawyer, 29:20; 2, J. Bogue, 21:45; 3, C. Stemm, 32:46; 4, Ed Jepsen, 22:55; 5, John Hall, 33:35; 6, Frank Ringquist, 31:55; 7, Charles Ruan, 33:18; 8, Charles Craig, 32:18; 9, Fred Barnum, 29:50; 10, D. G. Brewer, 29:55.

Time—1, L. Sawyer, 29:20; 2, Fred Barnum, 29:50; 3, D. J. Brewer, 29:55.

WORK ON LAST OF RESERVOIRS

Will Afford Plenty of Water Along the Trail from Ranges to Shipping Points.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., June 18 .- (Speof a total of seven huge water reservoirs on the stock trail between here and the head of Bad river. Heretofore stockmen when driving cattle here for shipment from this market have been greatly inconvenienced by the scarcity of water along the lengthy drive between the ranges and this city. The reservoirs will receive their supolies of water from showers during the summer and will furnish stockmen with an driving them here for shipment. Verdict Against Miss Howard. CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., June 18.—(Special Telegram.)—The jury in the case of Mrs. Millie Manore against Miss Grace Howard, daughter of Joe Howard, a New York journalist, for alienating the affections of her husband, Joseph Manore, tonight brought in a verdict awarding Mrs. Manore the sum of $2,000 actual damages, in addition to $1,000 exemplary damages. The case was bitterly contested. Miss Howard's mother and sister from New York City are here and remained in the court room with her during the trial, which developed many sensational and dramatic eatures. Interest in the case was keen and the court room was packed during the progress of the trial. The testimony against the defendant was very damaging and a great surprise to those who were her stanch friends during and since the time when she conducted the Indian mission school on Crow Creek reservation near here.
