Fine Pitching and Bad Umpiring Down Omaha Once More. CANTILLON DISHEARTENS DANNY DAUB Decision on Entls and Strikes Gives the Babes' Twirler a Bad Case of Don't Care-How the Game Went. Big Roger Denzer and Umpire Cantillon had the Babes at their mercy yesterday afternoon and it was only because of "Rabbit" Hollingsworth and his trisocker that we were not shut out. The Saints captured the first of the series by the score of 7 to 2. Danny Daub had another streak of bard luck, superinduced again by Joe Cantillon's rotten umpiring. The Comiskey outfit made one hit off of him up to what ought to have been the end of the third inning. Two men were out and Burke was at the bat with two strikes on him. Daub sent one that cut the plate in the middle and Burke was ready to sit down when Cantillon called "ball." Burke promptly lammed the next ball out for a single. That was enough to dishearten any twirler and it had its effect upon Daub. An avalanche of hits followed. How much longer we will have to stand for such a tinplate imitation of umpiring is becoming a glowing question in Omaha base ball circles.

McBride, of I Baltimore Of course, we might not have won even if Daub did start out to pitch a winner, for Colonel Denzer was several kinds of puzzles to every man on the team except the "rabbit." - Holly slashed out three of the six thits we got, and one was a beaut of a threebagger that gaved the shut out. Denzer was speedy and his benders were too much We drew horse collars up to the last inning. In the second Lyons, who got a base by being hit, advanced as far as second. In the third Pick got a base on Gillen's wild throw to first and stole second and third but was caught trying to come home on a ground hit. In the sixth Fleming got a base on balls, stole second, and got to third on Spies' wild throw to catch him at sec-In the second he got to second on another base on balls after two men were out. But we did not get even a smell of a tally In the last round Pick was thrown out at first. Lyons banged out a hit. Preston made another single on a slow grounder to Glenalvin, who went after the leather like a spavined horse. Then Hollingsworth came up and poked out a three-bagger between left and center and scored both Lyons and Preston. He was left there, as McCauley They commenced scoring in the third. Gillen, the first man up, made a two-base Spies flew out to Lyons and Dan struck out Denzer. After Burke ought to have been called out on strikes, he banged out a single that brought Gillen home. Miller scored Burke with a double and Glen alvin was presented with a sack. On Mc-Cauley's wild throw to catch Miller at second, the runner went to third and Glenslvin got to second. Both came in on Glasscock's single. Gier went out at first. Gillen made a three-bagger in the fourth with Butler in the box, but was caught at the plate. In the fifth, however, Butler was touched up pretty hard. Denzer made a hit, but was forced out at second by Burke. Miller came up, though, and poked out a home run, the ball being lost in the grass in the deep northwest corner of the park. Glasscock made a two-bag hit after that, but The sixth was one, two, three, but in the seventh Burke and Miller both made hits and the former scored on Pickering's muff The whole thing simply went to prove that It is at least certain that we would have given them a closer run if we had had an even shake. At a few of the larger hotels the sporting element was in evidence. The sympathizers with the boys from Ithaca were by far the most courageous in their display of cagerness to place money on the result. Harvard followed in the majority of cases as the second favorite, while the representatives of Yale were compelled to witness the rather unusual situation of finding themselves in a negative quantity from a betting standpoint. Up to midnight there were no large bets recorded.

The weather tonight gives promise of conditions tomorrow not only favorable, but ideal. The race is scheduled for 2 p. m. and if the precedent established in former years is followed up the great race will be stayted not many minutes after that hour. vertised for by the city clerk in a day or

Finger Rings Are Lost

The exposition guards are constantly receiving complaints from women who have lost their finger rings. The women enter the lavatories and remove their rings while they lave their hands. After drying their hands they walk out, leaving their rings on the window sill, the table or wherever they were placed. After a short absence they return to find that their finger ornaments have disapeared. Then the nearest guard is entertained with a tale of woe No and asked to recover the jewelry. method has yet been discovered whereby these articles are restored to their owners. As a rule articles which are lost may be recovered by applying at the headquarters of the guard in the police building near the Service building, as all articles found jewelry usually disappears as soon as the owner's back is turned.

Chlengo to Have a Day One of the results of the visit of the Illinois people to the exposition yesterday is a decided boom for the Chicago day that has been previously suggested. The visitors were so delighted with what they saw that they were auxious to return and it is promised that Chicago day will bring a crowd of Suckers that will fairly inundate the grounds. The Cook County Marching club, one of the leading political organizations of Chicago, has taken the initiative in the matter and has requested the expostion management to designate September 13 as On July 1 there will be due at the city's the occasion. General Manager Clarkson fiscal agency in New York City the sum of says that the suggestion has been turned $9,903, divided as follows: Paving district over to the Illinois commission to name the No. 14, $1,456; grading district No. 19, $1,071; day and it is expected that the day asked grading district No. 20, $214; curbing dis- for by the Cook county organization will > Shipping Clerks Coming. The Independent Order of Shipping Clerks a Kansas City organization, is scheduled for a visit to the exposition July 3 and 4. The organization makes a feature of semi-occasional excursions and it is expected that their trip to Omaha will be a huge success. The party will leave Kansas City Saturday night, July 2, on as many special trains as are required to accommodate the crowd and arrive in Omaha Sunday morning They will thus have two full days in which to see the exposition and the first return train will leave Omaha at 6 o'clock Monday night. The clerks have secured a very low rate for the occasion and they are busily at work selling tickets.

Concessionnires Organize A meeting of the amusement concessionsires on the Midway was called at the Press building at the exposition Monday for the purpose of effecting an organization.
