Sundquist of Rockford, Ill., will preach. On Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock the ordination of a number of new ministers will take place with the customary services. Prof. Nyvoll is to make an address of particular interest to the young people. Religious services will be held Sunday night. A part of the session yesterday was devoted to considering plans for the advancement of the "Swedish Home of Mercy," in the outskirts of Chicago. Dr. C. W. Johnson, head physician of the home, described the need for other more central and commodious quarters. It was desired to locate the home where physicians could reach it without serious loss of time and also to convert the establishment more fully into a hospital. Under these conditions Dr. Johnson believed it would soon become self-supporting. It was decided that the executive committee should take charge of the plans for the home with the assistance of Dr. Johnson.

At the evening session A. Lydell, missionary to Alaska, described his work there in Sunday school work. Last year more than 200 pupils were in weekly attendance at the schools, many of which were fully grown and almost all natives. Rev. J. E. Bjerklund of Ironwood, Mich., occupied the remainder of the program and gave an interesting gospel talk.

POREPAUGII-SELLS' CIRCUS. To Visit Omaha Monday, June 27, with Combined Features.

What would a summer be without a cirwould a rising generation survive the heated term if the enchantnot had to face such a calamity for eral decades; and this season wi doubly delighted by the appearance of the combined Adam Forepaugh and Selis Brothers, aggregations; two circuses—two me-nageries—two museums—two hippodromes, 'all for one price of admission.

Forepaugh and Sells' circuses were each in themselves admittedly the largest afin themselves admittedly the largest af- day. All of the delegates are for Hon. fairs of their species in the world, but Bon S. Baker for governor. mark in enterprises of this kind. When on the road, it requires three separate trains, with fifty-six of the largest cars than one-third larger than that of even who has come to the front again after ten years' retirement, and those wonderfully successful circus impresarios, Ephraim. successful Peter and Lewis Sells.

The circus and hippodrome features ar so numerous and in many cases so entirely novel that a mere enumeration of some of the most important can only be Among those which will be seen for the first time here are several troupes of the most phenomenal acrobais and acrialists G. > Among the performing animals are troupes of educated elephants, trained in entirely different schools and entirely dissimilar. One of the unique "acts" in this connection is the quadrille by eight gigantic tuskers trained by Mr. Forepaugh himself; this is stated to be at once the most risible and remarkable exhibition of animal training on record. Woodward's sea lions and seals, the only troupe of its kind in the world, will also divert the youngsters and their ciders.
> Another entirely unique feature which has created an unprecedented furore at every stand this season is the famous Oc-tavian troupe of sixteen Roman soldiers and athletes, who give a splendid exhibi-tion of the sports, combats and evolutions of the Caesarian era.
