N. Y. Plumbing company. Tel. 250. Wants Writ of Habens Corpus. A petition for a writ of habeas corpus for Theodore Kourtzman, a resident of Calhoun, Neb., at present an inmate of the insane ward at St. Bernard's hospital, was filed yesterday evening with Judge Smith of the district court and will be heard this afterpoon. The sisters of the hospital are nominally made party defendants. From the petition filed it appears that the commitment of Kourtzman to St. Bernard's was brought about in rather an unusual manner and the steps to secure his release are being taken by friends of his in Omaha. It is alleged that Kourtzman, who is a rather eccentric character, became involved in a dispute with a neighbor over their respective dogs and Kourtzman secured a revolver and attempted to shoot the neighbor's canine. The neighbor, whose name is not disclosed in the petition, had Kourtzman arrested on the charge of insanity. The commissioners decided he was insane and after he had been in jail at Calhoun for some thirty days as there was no room in any of the state asylums, committed him to St. Bernard's Plaintiff Amends His Pleading and City Answers, Covering Every Point and Setting Up Reasons for Dismissal.

The injunction suit of J. J. Shea against the City is set for hearing in the district the City is set for hearing in the district court next Monday and City Attorney Wadsworth has retained Messrs. Harl and McCabe to assist him in conducting the and Shoe company, $175,000, Cincinnati, O., case for the city. Yesterday Shea filed a substituted petition which is substantially the same as the former one with the exception that it includes as exhibits a number of copies of the bonds annulled and declared void, alleging that the city has exceeded its constitutional limit of indebtedness. The substituted petition places the city's present indebtedness at $597,209.81, and alleges that ever since March 1, 1894, the city has been indebted in round numbers $400,000 in excess of the constitutional limit.

City Attorney Wadsworth filed the answer of the city to the substituted petition of Shea yesterday afternoon. In it specific denial is made that any bonds or warwill be run by Messrs. COUNTRY POYS EASY VICTIMS.

Two Visitors from Pigeon Coolly Robbed by Affable Strangers. Hans J. and James Olsen, cousins and farm hands from Pigeon, came to Council Bluffs yesterday with the intention of visiting the exposition across the river. They, however, met with an experience which changed their minds and decided them to did not discover that the coin was a spurious return home at once to the farm, where crooks and sharks abideth not. The Olsens had been in town but a few minutes when the same gang that is flooding Omaha with they were approached by a stranger, who thought he knew them. He was very affable and soon won the confidence of the two country cousins. He piloted the youths from the country down North Eighth street, where they were joined by a friend of the stranger. This friend suggested a game of cards, but the Olsens demurred, as given up taking Chicago at present. neither of them ever touched a card. Well, if they could not play cards perhaps they would turn over what money they had with them, and suiting the action to the words, the two strangers went through the pockets of the Olsens, securing from one $8 and the other $5, all the wealth they possessed. Having relieved them of their money, the strangers told them to get and they got. When asked at the police station, where they reported the hold-up, why they had not made any resistance, they said "they lacked
