THOMPSON, BELDEN & Co.

manner in which he destroyed the fleet, when the immediate command fell to his hands. The commander-in-chief has long predicted that if he secured an opportunity he would render good account of the fighting ability of the American navy and they are glad the opportunity was finally reached.

It is perhaps the greatest achievement in a long line, with which Commodore Schley's name has been associated with others, including the relief of the Greely Arctic expedition and the command of the Baltimore at Valparaiso as a result of a bold attack on the American fleet jacks.

Gen. Shafter, in a dispatch received last night, confirmed the report that General Pando with about 6,000 Spaniards had arrived in the city and were already distributed among the fortifications. This reinforcement makes the Spanish forces defending the city from 15,000 to 18,000. The very great advantage of being entrenched adds materially to their strength and, in the opinion of military men, makes their effective fighting force from a third to a half greater than our own.

Weather Meets the Soldiers.

General Shafter in his dispatches states that the excessive heat and rains of the last few days have been such as to make the Spanish bullets in the ineffectiveness of our army. Under these circumstances it is his opinion that it would be unwise to attempt to carry the city by assault. This view is shared by the officials here and also, it is understood, by Admiral Sampson, in command of the fleet.

Orders were given looking to the immediate dispatch of troop ships from Tampa with reinforcements for Shafter, and others now off Santiago are expected to arrive at the earliest possible moment to aid in the transportation of reinforcements. It is probable that at least 15,000 will be sent forward as rapidly as transportation can be provided. This augmented, there seems to be no doubt that the forces under General Shafter will be able to storm and take the city without delay.

The arrival at Santiago of General Pando with reinforcements for Linares occasioned some comment on the part of General Garcia and his Cuban troops in not holding Pando back, in view of the fact that General Lawton's brigade was co-operating with Garcia, but it is believed the latter left Lawton in an embarrassed position. At the same time the disposition of authorities was mainly to meet the situation now presented rather than to question how it came about.

In meeting this the most effective steps towards getting reinforcements to General Shafter were in progress. Three regiments of General Garretson's brigade go from Camp Alger, one of them—the Eighth Ohio, under Colonel Curtis W. Hart—proceeding to New York, where it will embark immediately on the St. Paul. The other regiments of this brigade—the Sixth Illinois and the Sixth Massachusetts—go to Charleston, S. C., where they take the cruisers Harvard and Yale. At the same time the brigades of General Ernest and General Haynes, now at Chickamauga, will move with all possible dispatch to Charleston, Savannah, Mobile and other coast points, there to take the transports for Santiago. In detail the commands making up this important body of reinforcements are as follows:

Troops Selected to Go.

General Ernest's brigade, First brigade, First division, First army corps, Third Wisconsin, Colonel Martin T. Moore; Fifth Illinois, Colonel J. S. Culver; First Kentucky, Colonel John B. Castleman.

General Haines' brigade, Third division of the First army corps, Ninth Pennsylvania, Colonel Charles B. Dougherty; Second Missouri, Colonel William K. Caffery; First New Hampshire, Colonel Robert H. Rolfe.

Colonel Garretson's brigade, Eighth Ohio, Colonel Curtis Ward; Sixth Illinois, Colonel D. J. Foster; Sixth Mississippi, Colonel Charles F. Woodward.

HOW CAPTAIN CAPRON DIED

Gallant Officer is Leading His Rough Riders When Killed.

HE LIES BURIED ON THE BATTLEFIELD

Comrades Gather Up a Few of His Personal Effects and Forward Them to His Mourning Widow in Oklahoma.

(Copyright, 1938, by Associated Press.)
PORT ANTONIO, Jamaica, June 29.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—A small parcel, containing a soldier's cap and a pocketbook, went out from here in the United States mail today. It was one of the first and mementos of the battlefields near Sevilla.

The package was addressed to Mrs. A. K. Capron, Fort Hill, Oklahoma, United States America, and when it reaches the first general office on the plains, a faithful messenger will tell to a broken-hearted woman the cruel story of a soldier's death.

The articles were those worn by brave Captain Allyn K. Capron, who commanded Troop L of the Rough Riders, in their heroic fighting with the Spanish outposts. No message accompanied the parcel.

The soldier's gray hat and the blood-stained epaulets will tell the story of death, and the pages of American history will tell the story of the Rough Riders, in their heroic fighting with the Spanish outposts. No message accompanied the parcel.

Orders to Move Are Again Received from Washington.

TWO BRIGADES LEAVE FOR CHARLESTON

Order Comes as a Surprise to the Officers, but the Men Are Put in Motion Without Any Delay.

(Copyright, 1938, by Associated Press.)
CHICKAMAUGA NATIONAL PARK, Ga., July 5.—There was another change of orders received today from Washington, renewing the order made yesterday and resented later in the day. General James H. Wilson and staff are ordered to proceed at once to Charleston, taking the First and Second brigades of the First corps, as reorganized by General Brooke, as follows:

First brigade, General Oswald H. Ernst commanding; Third Wisconsin, Colonel M. T. Moore commanding; Fourth Ohio, Colonel Charles A. Smith commanding; Sixth Pennsylvania, Colonel Willis J. Hultig commanding.

Second brigade, General Peter S. Hines commanding; Third Illinois, Colonel Fred T. Moore commanding; Fourth Ohio, Colonel A. B. Colt commanding; Fourth Pennsylvania, Colonel W. B. Case commanding.

General Wilson left this afternoon at 4 o'clock, accompanied by his staff. The First brigade broke camp this afternoon and marched to Ringgold, where it will embark early tomorrow morning for Charleston. The Second brigade will leave in the morning by the Southern from Rossville.

Nothing was given out as to the movement of the Second corps, but there seems to be an air of expectancy about the headquarters of those regiments that have been thoroughly equipped and there is a general belief that there is to be a forward movement at an early day of the entire First corps.

The quartermaster's department is rushing full equipment to the First corps. A carload of rifles was received today and given out to the Fourteenth New York, Fifth Massachusetts and First Georgia. Forty-eight boxes of cartridges for the surgeons of the hospital corps were handed out, putting the department in excellent condition.

The general hospital of New York arrived and reported to General Brooke's headquarters. He was assigned to the command of the First brigade, Second division, First corps.

The Fourth Pennsylvania has received three additional companies, which came organized and offered. The Ninth Pennsylvania has received one additional company, and is to receive three more to complete its new battalion.

The government is paying off at Camp Thomas the First corps has been paid through. The amount paid this corps is estimated at $1,500,000.

The recently appointed hospital train will leave for Charleston tomorrow with 100 sick from the First corps for Fort Thomas, Ky. The train arrived today in charge of Major Richards, assistant United States surgeon.

CONDEMN THE MEAT SUPPLY

Board of Industry is Appointed to Report on the Uniforms Issued to an Iowa Regiment.

(Copyright, 1938, by Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—A considerable quantity of bacon supplies to the regular regiments at Camp Merritt was today condemned by a special board of survey appointed by Major General E. S. Otis. The meat was inspected at the commissary tent by the board and immediately adjudged unfit to be eaten.

Today a board of survey will be appointed for the Third brigade by Brigadier General H. G. Otis, at the request of Colonel Loper, of the board, to report on the quality of uniforms issued to the Fifty-first Iowa.

Measles are spreading in the Tennessee and Kansas regiments, which are especially harassed by the disease, although none of the regiments at camp have escaped the disease. Surgeons say measles break out in most new levies of troops, run a more or less extended course and die out. Today there are about sixty-six patients quarantined in the measles ward.

This morning E. E. Wood, a private of Company G, Seventh California, died at the French hospital of typhoid pneumonia.

Although the government is still in possession of only the steamers Peru and City of Puebla for the next expedition, there are several other vessels in sight and it is expected they will be secured in a few days and the expedition organized.

General Anderson's issue of a call for horses at Manila is a source of hope to the cavalry, who have been threatened all along with the miserable little Manila horses or an insufficient number of their own animals. It is thought a whole regiment of cavalry will be sent to the Philippines.

The Spanish expedition will probably reach Manila Wednesday or Thursday, presuming the vessels will travel at an average speed of ten knots, which is the speed they will be likely to maintain, the Colon being somewhat slow.

The Philadelphia, which has been having an overhauling at Mare Island, will be ready in about two weeks. It is said the work done on it is of the best description and nothing has been left undone to make it perfect.

Captain L. H. Turner left for Mare Island to take charge of the troops, formerly the tug Fearless. It is hinted that it may be sent to Manila as a dispatch boat, as it is well adapted for that purpose.

SPANISH FIRE ON WOUNDED

Members of Ambulance Corps Also Target for Sharpshooters.

(Copyright, 1938, by Associated Press.)
BEFORE SANTIAGO, July 1.—(Delayed in Transmission—Via Kingston, Jamaica, July 4.)—One feature of the fight which has aroused great indignation among the American troops is the act of the Spanish in having sharpshooters in the trees along the line of march of the American troops. Of course if the sharpshooters had fired on armed men they would have done nothing more than might have been expected, but one Spanish marksman from his post fired on wounded men and on men carrying the wounded to the rear. Sixty-two members of the ambulance corps were wounded in this manner and two wounded men who were being taken to the rear were shot and killed. Some of these men were being taken to the rear half a mile from the front. The Spanish marksman was the private of the ambulance corps, Colonel Loomis of the Twenty-fourth infantry said: "I was fired upon several times by men in trees and six bullets very close to me."

Later in the day a company of cavalry troops was sent to the rear to clear out and the work was effectively done. The gallantry of the general officers was conspicuous during the fighting. Major General Wheeler, who was seriously indisposed the night before, was also suffering from an attack of fever on the morning of the fight, but as soon as he was aware that the United States troops were likely to be engaged he ordered an ambulance to convey him to the front. His surgeon attempted to dissuade him, but the old general was obstinate and to the front he went. The ambulance once there, the sound of fighting restored his breath and in a short time was restored with the news.
