LEADING UP TO SURRENDER

Circumstances Which Induce General Toral to Reconsider.

CONFERENCE BENEATH A MANGO TREE

Spanish Commander Shows that He Realizes His Hopeless Position, but Feels the Criticisms of His Countrymen.

BEFORE SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 13.—(Via Kingston, Jamaica, July 14.)—White flags still flutter over the opposing lines. The truce has been extended until tomorrow noon and negotiations looking to the surrender of Santiago are proceeding.

It appears that on Monday General Shafter did not again demand the unconditional surrender, which General Toral had refused on Sunday, but offered, as an alternative proposition, to accept the cessation of hostilities and to transport the Spanish officers and troops to Spain, they to leave all their arms behind, and he to accept their parole.

This morning it was decided to hold a personal interview with General Toral. General Miles and his staff, who got no further than General Shafter's headquarters last night, accompanied by General Shafter and his staff rode out to the front shortly before 8 o'clock under the flag of truce.

The interview that followed lasted an hour. The situation was placed frankly before General Toral and he was offered the alternative of being sent home with his garrison or leaving Santiago province.

The only condition imposed being that he should not destroy the existing fortifications and should leave his arms behind. This latter condition the Spanish general, who does not speak English, explained through his interpreter, was impossible.

Without saying so in words, General Miles said the terms of General Toral's remarks all betrayed his realization that he could not hold out long.

When General Shafter explained that his reinforcements were coming up, that he was completely surrounded and that new batteries were being put in position, General Toral simply shrugged his shoulders.

"I am but a subordinate," said he, "and I obey my government. If it is necessary we can die at our posts."

General Toral is a man of 69 years, with a strong, rugged face, fine soldierly bearing. His brave words inspired a feeling of respect and admiration in the hearts of his adversaries.

In the course of an interview General Toral said the bombardment of Sunday and Monday had done little damage. He admitted that shells from the guns of the fleet had destroyed four houses, but he asserted that only half a dozen soldiers of the garrison had been injured.

General Miles, at the interview, did not attempt to assume the direction of the negotiations, but as general of the United States army he vouches for the conditions General Shafter offered.

Upon the return of our commanders to the American line an important consultation was held at General Wheeler's headquarters.

General Wheeler's headquarters, with their staffs, had hidden around the fort. It was a notable group gathered under the protecting awning of General Wheeler's tent.

General Miles, in blue fatigue uniform, with the double star on his shoulders, and his campaign hat encircled by a single strand of gold braid, looking the ideal soldier, sat on an empty ammunition box and formed the center of the party.

On the right of General Miles sat General Shafter, and on his left was General Garcia, in a mud-spotted white uniform, with heavy boots and jingling spurs.

In a general way, not unlike a Cuban edition of General Miles, General Wheeler, with grizzled beard, small of stature, and three officers mentioned, faced them at the sides of camp of the four generals.

Assistant Naval Constructor Hobson, the hero of the Merrimack, who had come to headquarters with messages from Rear Admiral Sampson, was also present.

The situation was discussed with the aid of a profusion of maps, and at the conclusion of the conference luncheon was served. It consisted of beans, hard tack and coffee.

After this meal General Miles, General Shafter and General Garcia, with their staffs, rode out to inspect the position on the right flank. They all agreed that General Toral was securely wedged in and escape was impossible, but owing to delays, and to the possible loss of life, which was certain to result from an attempt to carry the town by assault, the danger to our troops from fever and disease, and above all the fact that the Spanish fleet was destroyed, which has been the real object of the campaign, it seemed to be the disposition to allow Toral to evacuate.

Two of General Wheeler's batteries reached the front today and were posted in front of General Lawton's division, on the right, where they command the town beyond our lines, and beyond the churches, hospitals and other buildings flying the Red Cross flags.

TRANSPORTS SAIL TODAY

City of Puebla and Peru Are Now Ready to Weigh Anchor.

Two Ships Will Carry Over Seventeen Hundred Officers and Men, Including All Branches of the Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—The transport steamer City of Puebla and Peru received their complement of troops today, and tomorrow, unless contrary orders are received from Washington, the two steamers will sail for Honolulu and will arrive there in time to participate in the ceremony of transportation.

The officers and troops which will embark on the Puebla are Major General Otis and staff, Brigadier General H. G. Otis, all the remaining companies of the Fourteenth United States infantry, recruits of the First and Second battalions of the Eighteenth and Twenty-third regiments, enlisted men of the First North Dakota, First Wyoming and First Idaho, medical officers and members of the hospital corps—a total of 843 men.

The troops to go on the Peru consist of a squadron of the Fourth United States cavalry, light battery, and the Sixth United States artillery, a detachment of the Third United States artillery, a detachment of the signal corps, a detachment of volunteers, medical officers, and members of the hospital corps. In all there will be 1,763 officers and men to embark.

It is generally understood that the City of Puebla and Peru will remain at Honolulu after coaling to await the arrival of the other vessels of the fourth fleet, the Pennsylvania, Rio de Janeiro and St. Paul, though from present indications the last three vessels of the fleet cannot get away for at least a week or ten days, in which case the City of Puebla and Peru will sail from Honolulu to Manila in command of Brigadier General Otis.

Major General Otis today issued an order designating the troops to sail for Manila on the second section of the fourth expedition, or the fifth expedition as it may be called. The order came somewhat as a surprise, as it had been said that the troops for the expedition would not be selected until after the departure of General Otis with the transports Peru and Puebla. The men have been assigned as follows:

To the Steamer Rio de Janeiro—Two battalions of the First South Dakota volunteers, recruits of the first and second battalions, Eighteenth infantry; signal corps detachment consisting of three officers and thirty enlisted men; recruits of the Utah light artillery.

To the Steamer St. Paul—One battalion South Dakota volunteers, recruits of the First Colorado volunteers, recruits of the Thirtieth Minnesota, signal corps detachment, consisting of two officers and twenty enlisted men.

The gunboat Benning left its anchorage this afternoon and proceeded down the bay amid the tooting of many whistles and the dipping of flags from the merchant vessels. It is generally supposed that it is going to Honolulu to receive the troops as to its destination can be stated at this time.

PRIZE SHIPS ARE TAKEN NORTH

KEY WEST, Fla., July 14.—The Spanish prize ships Catalina, Miguel Jover, Buena Ventura and Guido, captured during the early days of the war, were taken north by the gunboat Newport today.

The Newport carried twenty-one sailors, injured in the bombardment of Porto Rico, and sufficiently recovered to be sent home.

SAYS POWERS ARE TO INTERFERE

Will Not Permit American Sovereignty Over the Philippines.

PARIS, July 14.—The Matin has received from its London correspondent, who has unusual sources of information, a dispatch in which he says the European chancellors are now discussing the question of the eventual intervention of the powers in the Philippine islands.

The ambassadors at Berlin, the correspondent adds, have advised their governments respecting Germany's line of policy, which she would prefer to employ by European intervention and the powers interested in the islands would each be called on to protect its own interests.

The correspondent adds: "This is the doctrine of the Monroe doctrine, the principle of which will be employed by Europe in order to protect itself against American interference, and unless appearances are deceptive, Great Britain, in spite of the talk of Anglo-Saxon alliance, will do the same as the other powers."

CAPTAIN STEADMAN IS ALIVE.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Several days ago the official dispatches to the War department contained the name of Captain Clarence A. Steadman of the Ninth cavalry as among the killed. Today a message from General Shafter reached the department stating that Captain Steadman was alive and well this morning.

CELEBRATE FALL OF BASTILLE

French-Americans at St. Louis Disagree Over Location and Hold Two Demonstrations.

ST. LOUIS, July 14.—On account of some dissatisfaction arising over the selection of a park for holding the French celebration of the fall of the Bastille, two demonstrations were held in this city tonight. One was at Concordia park, and was designated as the National French fête. The other was held at the Suburban garden, and known as the Franco-American fête.

The former was opened with a salvo of twenty-one guns, followed by Sousa's march, "The Stars and Stripes Forever," by the band. Dr. A. Deriveau, president of the executive committee of the fête, delivered his annual address, followed by an address from St. Bernard, consul-general of France. Mayor Zeigler and ex-Governor Stone also made speeches. Then followed a concert, fireworks and at midnight a ball.

The Franco-American celebration opened with a bomb salute. The speakers of the evening were Emil Kraus and Justice Krum. After a short concert came Shakespeare's comedy, "The Merry Wives of Windsor," the fête ending at midnight with a pyrotechnic display.

LOGGERS SCARED BY FIRE

Early Morning Blaze Creates Some Commotion on Lower Farnam Street.

Fire was discovered at 2 o'clock this morning breaking from the second story window of the restaurant and lodging house at 1112 Farnam street. The building is in charge of Miss Hattie Lewis and was operated down stairs by the Domestic Kitchen and on the second and third floors as a lodging house. The rooms were full and sixteen people were imprisoned on the upper floors by the fire. Several women appeared at the third story windows and were prevented with difficulty from throwing themselves upon the pavement. Ladders were raised and three women, Alice Hunter, Lily Williams and Mrs. Brayton, were carried through the smoke to the ground in a half suffocated condition. The others escaped from the rear.

Among those who lodged in the house and lost part or all of their effects were Messrs. Albert Wallace, Harry Ragadic, Javis, Thomas, Dillon, and Brayton and wife and Misses Williams and Hunter, who are employed at the Mercor hotel.

Miss Lewis says that her twelve rooms were newly furnished at an expense of $1,000, and that her property is largely damaged by fire and water. It is insured for that amount in a Sioux Falls company.

The fire seems to have originated from the explosion of a lamp in a bathroom on the second floor. It reached the upper story and the building, the property of the Omaha Loan and Trust company, sustained considerable damage.
