MARKET DISPLAYS A STRONG UPTONETONE

Many Profitable Opportunities Lie Concealed in the Lower-Priced Issues—General Effect of the War on the Situation.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(Special.)—Henry Cleva, head of the banking house of Henry Cleva & Co., writes:

The stock market has lately displayed a strong uptone, confirming the view that the market will be active during the last two or three weeks.

At present the most important factor in the bull side is the general condition of the market, which is strong and active, and the fact that the market is open for a new bull campaign as soon as conditions favor it.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Features of the Trading and Closing Quotations for Saturdays.

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—The market was very active on Saturday, but some buying for foreigners, a somewhat better cash demand, apprehension over crop conditions and sympathy with corn counteracted this.

The market closed up on light country offerings and damage reports from Argentina. May closing 4 1/2c higher. Oats were unchanged and provisions were lower.

Better Market Expected.

Our reasons for belief in a better market have been so often stated that it is needless to repeat them again. It is not to be expected that values will rise without intervention of some special cause.

As just said, the market is at present the most important factor in the bull side is the general condition of the market, which is strong and active, and the fact that the market is open for a new bull campaign as soon as conditions favor it.

When the South African war broke out there was very active and scarce here, caused by the drain for crop-moving purposes and to the fact that the market was not open for a new bull campaign as soon as conditions favor it.

MARKET DISPLAYS A STRONG UPTONETONE

At present the most important factor in the bull side is the general condition of the market, which is strong and active, and the fact that the market is open for a new bull campaign as soon as conditions favor it.

When the South African war broke out there was very active and scarce here, caused by the drain for crop-moving purposes and to the fact that the market was not open for a new bull campaign as soon as conditions favor it.

The market was very active on Saturday, but some buying for foreigners, a somewhat better cash demand, apprehension over crop conditions and sympathy with corn counteracted this.

The market closed up on light country offerings and damage reports from Argentina. May closing 4 1/2c higher. Oats were unchanged and provisions were lower.

Our reasons for belief in a better market have been so often stated that it is needless to repeat them again. It is not to be expected that values will rise without intervention of some special cause.
