Ham Fancy

A touch of a brock and a bit of green sets the mood for a Yuletide table setting. A handsome smoked ham attracts fascinated visitors when decked out in its fashionable, festive attire . . . pimpenito stars and sprigs of bright green parsley.

There's no need to announce a Christmas dinner. The home-maker will have all she can do to get the festive food array past the admiring glances of the family members and on the table.

Reba Staggs, meat expert, suggests how to prepare a delicious, smoked ham for the holiday feast.

Simply purchase a 12 to 14-pound ham . . . make it a point to plan on leftovers. Leftover ham dishes are numerous and watch the men ask for seconds.

Place the ham, fat side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not add water or cover the roast. Bake the ham in a 300° F. oven . . . If roasting a fresh pork cut, use a 350° F. oven. Allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound if roasting (baking) a whole ham or 22 to 25 minutes for a half ham.

A decoration or glaze gives this meat cut a "note of distinction." The glaze, either honey, brown sugar or fruit or a combination of these, is applied about 30 minutes before the ham is done. After the glaze is applied, the ham is returned to the 300° F. oven to finishing cooking and to allow the glaze to set.
