1,100 Projects by Holt 4-H'ers

Typical Program Is Carried Out

National 4-H club work is being observed in Holt county this year by more than five hundred 4-H club members. These boys and girls during the week are giving credit to parents for cooperation and interest necessary to carry out a typical 4-H club program. The countywide program includes carrying nearly 1,100 projects in agriculture and home economics. Livestock projects included caring for and keeping records on 443 animals. Approximately 780 acres of crops were grown and 1,100 birds were raised in poultry projects. One hundred seven farm, shop and engineering projects were also carried in addition to many others. In home economics, boys and girls prepared 3,300 different dishes and 1,100 meals. In food preservation, 2500 quarts of food was canned and frozen and 1,200 pounds frozen. Four hundred dresses, skirts and blouses were sewn, and nearly 250 other items were made in clothing and home-making projects.

All this was accomplished with 33 clubs, 150 local leaders, and several hundred interested parents. Window displays and news items published in the county told of the activities of 4-H members. Parents or boys and girls who are interested in 4-H club work are invited to contact the county agent's office.

Several 4-H activities will take place during the next month that will be of interest to 4-H club leaders and members.

Monday, March 10, at the annex at 1:15 p.m., leaders of 4-H clubs in the county will meet to elect officers. The activities for the current year will be planned. Friday, March 14, the joint annual meeting of the extension service and soil conservation will be held at the American Legion hall in O'Neill. The program will start at 1:15 o'clock and will feature Dr. T. H. Goding as speaker. He will talk on his two years of experience in Turkey.

Judging training will be held for agents and leaders March 19, at the assembly room of the courthouse annex. This is a district meeting. Training will be given in all home economics projects as well as dairy and animal husbandry. The meeting begins with a general assembly at 9:30 a.m.

The annual 4-H public speaking contest will be held in O'Neill Saturday, March 22. This is open to all 4-H boys and girls. The contest is divided into two sections. The junior section includes those under 14-years-old as of January 1. The senior division includes those over 14 as of January 1. Other details may be obtained at the county agent's office.

Major Improvements for O'Neill District

An investment of $721,930 for 1958 in the 11-county O'Neill district was announced here today by K. L. Van Voorhis, O'Neill-area manager for Consumers Public Power district. Mr. Van Voorhis pointed out that the new budget outlay of $448,175. CPPD's statewide construction budget is $5,826,540.

Planned projects, Mr. Van Voorhis stated, would include: $271,400 for six major and minor transmission line jobs; $185,940 to work on sub-station improvements in at least 10 locations; $168,020 to be used for improving local electric distribution systems in about 12 communities. Also, $6,000 for power plant re-vamping and equipment; $15,340 to improve rural lines and service to farm customers, and about $76,130 for such investments as replacing several old service and line trucks, purchase necessary operating equipment, tools (power and manual), replace some two-way radio gear, improve office and storage facilities and to buy office equipment and supplies.

Three of the major transmission projects will be the re-vamping, relocation, and increasing the capacity of 24,000-volt lines to 34,500 volts as follows: about 12 miles from the Spencer hydro plant to Lynch; approximately 14 miles of line between Neligh and Clearwater, and about 10½ miles of line between O'Neill and Inman.

Mr. Van Voorhis also stated that there will be work on a 49-mile stretch of 34,500-volt line between Ainsworth and Valentine to give that section of power line between Ainsworth and Johnston also will receive added material for lightning protection along with about 43 new poles. About $30,000 in the budget will go for other minor transmission projects, including the replacing of some equipment.

Some rebuilding or general re-vamping of the electric distribution systems is scheduled for O'Neill, Crofton, Hartington, Crystal Lake, Wausa, Osmond, Ponca, Creighton, Neligh, Valentine, Concord and Elgin. Also, new street lighting installations are on tap for Ponca, Hartington, Newcastle, Jackson, O'Neill, Valentine and Allen.

Bruce Ann and Jerry McKamy were Feb. 23 guests of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Sherer of Orchard.

Mrs. Adolphus Wagers Rites at Emerson

PAGE — Funeral services for Mrs. Adolphus Wagers, 91, were held at the Emerson Presbyterian church Thursday, February 27, with graveside services at Ft. Calhoun.

Magdaline E. Rossenback was born in Seneca, Wisc., October 27, 1866 and died February 25. She was the daughter of Charles Adaman and Wilhelmina Rossenback.

At the time of her death she was a guest at the Elm nursing home at Ponca, but in recent years she had been living with her son, Merlin, and family at Emerson.

At an early age she moved with her family from Wisconsin by ox caravan to Main Bow, near Hartington, where they settled among the Indians. When she was 18-years-old she went to Holt to keep house for her brother, John. There she met and married Adolphus A. Wagers.

Four sons and three daughters were born to them. The oldest son, Earl, died in 1928.

The Wagers family moved from Page to Ft. Calhoun in 1910 where her husband died March 7, 1920.

Survivors include: Daughters—Mrs. Laura Udby of Glen Ellen, Calif.; Mrs. Ollie Mengshol of Hartington; and Mrs. Helen Braga of Eldridge, Calif.; sons—Melvin A. of Chadron, Sylvester of Vacaville, Calif., and Merlin of Emerson; 17 grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Wagers is remembered by the oldtimers of the Page and O'Neill communities.

Word Tributes Paid to Late Doctor

Honored guests were Dr. E. J. Bild of Wausa and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rodman and daughter, Miss Bette, of O'Neill. Dr. Charles Bild of Florida was not present.

Short comments were offered in Doctor Bild's memory. Cordes Walker spoke of the doctor's interest in civic affairs. "It was largely due to his efforts that the town of Page was able to maintain a motion picture and commercial club," Mr. Walker said, "and he was a most loyal lodge member."

Merwyn French, sr., paid tribute to the doctor's memory and gave a vote of thanks to the family for furnishing the mother's room as a memorial to the Methodist church as a part of the rebuilding process.

Dr. E. J. Bild spoke a few words of appreciation in behalf of the Bild family. The Bild children spent their "growing up" days at Page.

"An entertainment in his honor could never have been given as he would have had no part of it during his life time," one spokesman declared.

"He was a quiet unassuming man doing his duty as he saw necessary without hope for recognition or gratitude."

Cards furnished entertainment for those who cared to play. At pitch Mrs. Clarence Stevens and James Stewart held high scores; at pinocle, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Crumley took the honors, and at bridge, Mrs. Melvin Carson and Jerry Asher received the high score awards. N. D. Ickes, sr., won the door prize. The committee in charge of arrangements included Mesdames Evelyn Gray, Melvin Smith, Jerry Lamason, Melvin Roach and Ray Snell. Wives of the Commercial club members served lunch to 85.

A film on soil conservation practices will be shown at the April 17 meeting. Both town and rural people are invited.

Quiet Day Will Be Observed

INMAN — The WSCS of the Methodist church met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Earl Watson Mrs. Woodrow Gaughenbaugh had charge of the program.

The society will observe a quiet day Friday, March 7, at 2 o'clock at the church. All ladies are welcome at this meeting.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Rosara Kopecky.

OMonde Winners— Winners of O'Monde club held Tuesday evening at Mrs. John L. Baker's home were Mrs. John Earley and Mrs. James Baker. Other guests were Mrs. G. Owen Cole and Mrs. G. R. Cook.
