Proposed new trades building scheduled to be built at Milford.

6 Current Enrolled in Milford School

Six students currently are enrolled at the Nebraska state trade school at Milford, near Lincoln. They are Richard J. Boyle and Harlan A. Kloeppel, both of O'Neill; Dwayne F. Hobbs of Ewing; Glen J. Lockman and Berthold D. Straka, both of Stuart; Richard W. Poessnecker of Atkinson.

The school will be holding open-house Tuesday and Wednesday, April 15-16. The affair will be highlighted by dedication of new shop building recently completed at the school. Dedication services will be held in the trade school gymnasium at 2 p.m. on April 15. In addition to the dedication, guided tours will be conducted through all departments from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. on these days.

Departments at the trade school are: Auto mechanics. Auto body and fender repair. Carpentry and cabinet making. Diesel and farm tractor. Electricity and industrial electronics. Machinist. Tool and die making. Radio, television and electronics. Refrigeration air - conditioning and appliance servicing. Welding and farm machinery. Watch, clock and jewelry repair.

During the last state legislative session the Trade School was included under the state building fund levy and was given funds for a 10-year building program.

The honored couple enjoy "fair" health. Mr. Sageser had major surgery about eight years ago. They attend the Methodist church at Amelia and Mrs. Sageser keeps active in garden and extension club works as well as church affairs.

Both were actually worn-out—but happy—at the end of holy week, which marked the arrival of relatives and was culminated with the celebration.

Mr. Sageser's only brother, E. V. ("Dode"), is in a Sioux City hospital and was unable to be present for the celebration.

Mrs. Sageser's brother, Thomas, died about one year ago. Among those coming from a distance, besides the Bower Sagesers and their daughter, Sarah, were: Mrs. Merle Ericson, Mrs. Micky Johns and Nancy, and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Nelson, all of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. Charles Blyth of Omaha; Mrs. Charles Blyth and Miss Raedee Wickham, both of Omaha.

The Vern Sagesers have one son, Floyd, a Kansas State graduate. He edits a magazine for an association of soft drink manufacturers and travels the country extensively. Floyd was not present Sunday but has scheduled a visit with his grandparents later this month.

In recalling the three score years on the same place, Mrs. Sageser avers the winter of 1948-'49 were by far the most difficult. "We had snow piled to the top of the house and for three months we never got off the place.

"But we had wonderful neighborly neighbors—always.

"In that memorable winter the Lad Sladeks lived nearby and they came to see us everyday. We always keep a good larder but before that winter was over we were trading food with the Sladeks.

"Vern always managed to check on us at least once a week. Telephone service was never so good," she remembers jokingly. "We kept the line busy and, thank goodness, never went without phone service for any length of time."
