

Sophie Murphy,
Richard Ingraham
United at Stuart

STUART—Bouquets of white and blue mums decorated the altars of St. Boniface Catholic church at Stuart Saturday morning, May 3, 1958, when Miss Sophie Murphy of Denver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Murphy of Stuart became the bride of Richard Ingraham of Denver, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ingraham of Whitehead, S.D., at 9 a.m., with Rev. A. J. Paschang performing the double ring ceremony. Nuptial music was Mass of S. Maria Gaudite which was sung by the St. Boniface Male Choir with Sr. Vera as organist.

The bride given in marriage by her father, appeared in a lovely gown of white nylon silk, with a chapel length train. The fitted bodice of imported lace with sabbina neckline was trimmed with seguns and seed pearls with an empire waistline and long tapered sleeves which came to a point at the wrist. Her finger tip veil was held in place with a seed pearl net crown. She carried a white orchid on a white prayer book with stephanotis and streamers, which was a gift from the bridegroom. The old tradition was carried out with something old, new, borrowed and blue.

The bride's sisters were her attendants with Miss Mary Murphy of Denver, maid of honor, wearing a cocktail length gown of powder blue crystalite over taffeta, with a Grecian waistline and a flowing sash. Her headband was of nylon net entwined with pearls. The bridesmaids,

Jane and Eileen Murphy of Omaha, wore identical gowns of crystalite over taffeta and all wore matching linen shoes and carried colonial bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Irvin Ingraham of Whitehead, S.D., acted as bestman for his brother, with other attendants being brothers of the bride, Henry and James Murphy. Ushers were Patrick and Mark Murphy cousins of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a mint green lace dress with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a nylon print dress with pink and white accessories. Both wore baby orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at a dinner at noon for 150 guests at the Stuart auditorium which was prepared by the Christian Mothers. A reception was held for 150 guests from 3 to 5 p.m., with the bride's sister, Rita Murphy, in charge of the guest book.

Misses Evelyn and Helen Kaup, cousins of the bride were in charge of the gifts. The beautiful three-tier wedding cake was baked and decorated by Miss Connie Coufal and was trimmed in the bride's colors of blue and silver. The wedding cake was cut and served by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Clement Murphy and the groom's cake was cut and served by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Ed Schneider. Another aunt of the bride, Mrs. Sylvester Kramer poured.

The bride wore as her going-away suit a powder blue cotton knit dress and after a short wedding trip, will be at home after May 10, at 1109 Marion St., Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Ingraham is a graduate of St. Mary's academy in O'Neill and St. John's McMamara nursing school at Rapid City, S.D., and is now employed at the Denver General Hospital.

The groom is a graduate of Spearfish, S.D., high school and is now employed with Mountain States Mattress Co., Denver, Colo.
