Joellyn Eacker Bride of York Man in Sunday Rites

EWING—Miss Joellyn Eacker, daughter of Mrs. Ralph Eacker, and Russell Bredenkamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bredenkamp of York, were united in marriage at 4 p.m., Sunday, May 25. Rev. E. L. Bridgen officiated at the double ring ceremony at First Methodist church in Ewing.

Mrs. Wilbur Spangler played a prelude of wedding selections. Soloists were the bride, who sang "Because", Miss Deanna Schellenberg of McCook, who sang "My Promise" and Dana Sisson, who sang "The Lord's Prayer". Kerry Fuller of Grand Island, a nephew of the bride, played the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a floor-length gown of crystallette over satin. The fitted bodice of lace featured a scalloped neckline with a V in the back, long tapered sleeves, button trimmed. The full circular skirt was applied with a matching lace bodice. The fingertip veil of French chantilly was held in place by a pearl tiara. She wore a necklace of pearls. She carried a removable red rose corsage in a bouquet of lilies of the valley on a white Bible.

Miss Joan Fleming of York was maid-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gene Ruby, a sister of the bride, and Mrs. Victor Ahrens of York, a sister of the bridegroom. They wore green streeltang crystallette gowns over taffeta with matching headpieces of net. They carried bouquets of sweet peas of assorted colors.

The flowergirls, Mary Lynn Eacker and Roxanne Ruby, nieces of the bride, wore green taffeta. Ringbearers were Terry and Debbie Ahrens, a nephew and niece of the bridegroom.

Candlelighters were Gary Eacker of Ewing and Jerry Fuller of Grand Island, nephews of the bride.

Burton Norquest was the best man. Other attendants were Victor Ahrens of York, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Gene Ruby, who also ushered. They wore dark trousers with white dinner jackets. Their suits and ties were red carnations. The fathers of the couple had white carnation boutonnières.

The bride's mother chose a navy gown with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue dress with white accessories. Their corsages were white sweet peas centered with red roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors for 160 guests. The bride's colors, green and white, was the theme of the decorations.

The three-tier wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom, flanked by lighted candles, centered the refreshment table. The bride's table was centered with a bouquet of bridal wreath flanked by green candles in crystal holders.

Mrs. Thomas Eacker and Mrs. Louis Vandernick cut and served the cake. Mrs. James Hytrek of Stuart poured. Mrs. William Spence served the punch. The Misses Mary Alys Dierks and Bernadine Rotherham served the bride's table.

Mrs. Charles Wright was in charge of the gift book. Assisting with the gifts were Mrs. Bob Bartak, Mrs. Louis Vandernick, Miss Dierks and Miss Rotherham. Taking charge of the gift book was Mrs. Jerome Fuller of Grand Island.

For her trip, the bride chose a white cotton dress with white and black accessories. After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in York.

Mrs. Bredenkamp grew up in the Ewing community and graduated from Ewing high school. She attended the University of Nebraska and the past year has been teaching in Louisville.

Mr. Bredenkamp is a graduate of York high school. He served two years in the US army, a portion overseas. He received his speargear in February, 1958. He is a welder with the General Welding service at York.

Guests were from Broken Bow, Grand Island, McCook, York, Norfolk, O'Neill, Stuart, Page, Clearwater, Lincoln, Omaha, Waco, Bartlett and Louisville.
