School Boards Talk on Five Subjects

A district meeting of the State School Board association was held at Bassett Thursday evening, October 30.

Areas of discussion included: Education. A figure of $75 per average daily membership was discussed. Opinions on this topic varied considerably among those present.

School district reorganization. It was generally agreed that if a comprehensive reorganization could be effected "most of the financial problems would solve themselves automatically." Statements substantiating the above conclusions were as follows: (1) reorganized school districts would provide a broader tax base; (2) more equalized taxation for education; (3) more equal and better educational opportunities for all youngsters; (4) more efficient utilization of teachers; (5) a reduction in cost per pupil. No conclusions were reached on just how this comprehensive program could be brought about.

Teacher certification. The group seemed to be of the opinion that the requirement of a bachelor of science degree by 1965 for all teachers then entering the field would be in order. It was felt by the group if requirements are raised the salaries will have to raise to meet the competition with other areas requiring the degree.

Extending permanent tenure of teachers in class III schools. With few exceptions, if any, those present felt that permanent tenure to teachers after three years in a system might be a "vicious thing"
