Brownie Troop I met Wednesday, November 5, at the home of Barbara Jo Moore, and visited Bellin's honey factory. A very interesting report was given by Mrs. Bellin and Dale. Each member was given a sample of honey to take home. Cookies and pop were served by Mrs. Moore. Next meeting will be held at Sally Cronin's house.—by Patsy Dufek, reporter.

The new stretch of U. S. highway 20 between O'Neill and Emmet is still barricaded and is not yet open to travel. One worker said Wednesday it would be "several more days yet" before the segment is opened. The new route parallels the Chicago & North Western railroad tracks on an angle about half the distance and then veers more northward.

New Wrinkle in Hay Shipping

Mountain Moved to Mohamea

There's a new wrinkle in loading railroad box cars with one of the area's foremost products—prairie hay.

The J. B. Ryan Hay company this week began moving the mountain to Mohamea and thus has streamlined shipping.

Traditionally hay is baled in the field, loaded into wagons (in yesteryear) and trucks, hauled to town, unloaded into the cavernous box cars.

Currently Ryans are cabling hay onto under-slugs in the field, bringing the stack to town and parking it alongside a box car. A baler is brought up. Men feed the machine and the machine pushes the compact bales into the box car. One man inside the car stacks 'em up.

Neil E. Ryan says the system is noticeably more efficient than the former manner.

"Everybody cables hay nowadays and moves stacks. We decided to apply the principle to our hay shipping business."

"We stick to little traveled side roads and the idea is working out very well."

Assisting at the Chicago & North Western yards when The Frontier photographer called were Herman Osborn, Billy Lyons, Ray Dendinger and Jay Banks.

Much of the Ryan hay and straw goes to the Omaha and Sioux City stockyards.

Plans Doubled for March of Dimes

O'Neill plans for doubled effort nationwide in next January's march of dimes were outlined for the Holt county march of dime volunteers Monday night.

Mrs. Robert Martens of Atkinson, chairman of the Holt county organization, pledged "one hundred percent support for the Holt county" for the broadened efforts of the National Foundation (formerly the Polio Foundation) to combat disease.

Mrs. Martens called the foundation's new program, which includes expanded efforts against all viral diseases and disorders of the central nervous system, as well as a major assault against the number one cripple—arthritis—and the major unmet childhood health need, congenital defects, "the greatest health challenge ever presented to the American people."

Mrs. Helen Reubach, volunteer state advisor for the National Foundation outlined the new program to the volunteers. She noted that the program is centered around research, but added, "We will continue to fulfill our responsibilities to 100,000 polio patients in the country who are expected to benefit from modern rehabilitation techniques."

Holt volunteers attending were: Mrs. A. B. Hubbard and Mrs. Anna Albers of Chambers; Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Hamik, Mr. and Mrs. Art Givens of Stuart; Mrs. Wayne Shrader, Ina L. Bennett, Mr. Lyle Dierks, chapter president of Ewing; Mrs. James M. McMahon of Inman; Helen Martens of Emmet; Mrs. Vernon Lorenz, Alice L. French, Dr. W. F. Finley, Mrs. K. L. Alice Rees, 96, Dies Unexpectedly

CHAMBERS—Mrs. Alice Rees, 96, formerly of Norfolk, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at 8 a.m. Tuesday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Ninham, south of O'Neill. The Ninhams live at the junction of highways 281 and 95, and Mrs. Rees had been making her home there.

She was stricken just after finishing her breakfast with her daughter. Mrs. Rees' death is the third this year in the family. Her son, Harry, of Creighton, died in February, and a daughter, Mrs. Maude Bishop, of Wisner died in April.

Funeral rites will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Methodist church in Pilger. Burial will be at Wisner.

Alice Holmes was born January 23, 1862, at Malvern, Ia., and was married to Howell Rees, who died October 12, 1932. They resided on a Pilger farm and later at Pilger before moving to Norfolk in 1928.

Survivors include: Daughters—Mrs. Muriel Strahle of Stanton;

Mrs. Jessie Hellar of Truckee, Calif., and Mrs. Ninham; sons—William J. of Tilden; Ralph of Amelia; Walter M. and Ross of Norfolk and Roy of Ewing; 22 grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren.

William H. Woods, who died last Thursday, had been helping care for Mrs. Rees until recently.

Wilson's Visit Daughters and Relatives—Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilson and son, Jim, returned Monday from Minnesota where they visited their daughters, Miss Kathryn, who is a student nurse in Rochester and Miss Carolyn, a student at the College of St. Teresa in Winona, Minn. Miss Kathryn accompanied her parents to Winona to visit her twin sister.

While in Winona, they received word of the death of Mr. Wilson's uncle, Edward McNierney of Atlantic, Ia. The Wilsons attended his funeral Monday. They also visited relatives including Mr. Wilson's brother, Donald, of Des Moines, who was a candidate for attorney-general in Iowa in Tuesday's general election balloting.

Evans Appeals to Supreme Court

Lloyd L. Evans of Atkinson, a Holt county rancher, carried to the state supreme court last month his appeal from a Holt county district court decision.

The district court awarded $8,000.00 to Dwayne D. Anderson for damages he allegedly suffered while an employee of Evans.

In a brief filed with the high court, Evans said the district court verdict failed to grant him a fair trial. The brief said that Anderson of Omaha originally sought a total of $110,535 damages.

In an earlier trial in the Anderson-Evans controversy, Evans appealed and the supreme court found errors, remanding the suit to Holt.

THE DIAMOND

Clarity. The term "perfect" is easily abused and is impracticable to standardize. The American Gem Society recommends the word "flawless", when such is the fact. A rule approved by the F.T.C. provides that the term "perfect" or any other word or expression of similar meaning should not be used in any way in connection with, or as descriptive of, any gem which discloses flaws, cracks, carbon shots, clouds, cloudy texture or blemishes of any sort when examined by a trained eye under magnification of not less than 10 power. Remember, too, that a diamond may be free of imperfections and may still be a "poor" buy because of poor color or workmanship.
