Broncos Post Best Record in 25 Years
Only Loss to Class A Valentine

STUART—Coach Ray Shearer's Stuart high Broncos have closed the books on the most successful grid season at the school in a quarter of a century.
The class C Broncos battled uphill most of the way, playing larger C schools, two class B clubs and one class A. They won eight and lost one this past season and were undefeated in 1933. The Orange-men lost only one game (a 0-27 decision to Bassett) after 39 consecutive wins.
Only loss this year was 7-27 to class A Valentine. The Shearers whipped Ainsworth and Bassett, both class B clubs.
This year's record:

Stuart	Opp.
Valentine	7 27
Springview	6 0
Randolph	28 7
Atkinson	32 0
Ainsworth	20 19
Ewing	12 0
Taylor	6 2
Bassett	14 12

Breaking the existing scoring and yardage records, Jerry Taylor and Rich Schmaderer shared the ball-toting load, with Taylor gaining 1,172 yards, and scoring 75 points, while Schmaderer gained 997 yards from scrimmage and scored 79 points. Tom Bigelow contributed the other three to Stuart's total of 157 to opponent's 63.
Schmaderer and Taylor the touchdown twins, both topped Den Schmaderer's record of 70 points and 869 yards of 1937. Taylor had an average of 8.1 yards per carry. Schmaderer 6.5. Tom Bigelow 4.2. Leo King 4.9. Tom Brewster, 3.5. Jim Schmaderer 4.6 and Jerry Heyne 4.5.
Wallinger was on the receiving end of 18 passes for 172 yards; Heyne caught six for 41; Brewster three for 46; and Givens two for 39 yards.
Brewster had the most pass interceptions with four; Schmaderer and Bigelow each stole two while Wallinger, Clements and Taylor each got one.
Lennie Wewel curled around the most fumbles—five. M. Scholz and Givens each got two and Wallinger, M. Kaup, Bigelow, Brewster, Bob Givens and Clements had one each.
Stuart massed a total of 2,742 yards for a 305 per game average while holding the opponents to 1,996-222 average.
Jerry Taylor was a unanimous choice at halfback on The Frontier's mythical all-Holt county team. Jerry Wallinger was awarded an end berth on the all-star club. Rich Schmaderer barely missed a berth, being nudged by St. Mary's Gene Schneider who broke scoring records at the academy and also landed berths on at least one all-state eight-man honor club.
Also pressing for all-Holt honors was Tom Bigelow, quarterback. Incidentally, he was erroneously pictured as Schmaderer in last week's issue of The Frontier.

Opener Tuesday at Belden

PAGE—Coach Ron Park says 22 boys are reporting for the 1938-39 basketball season at Page high school. Among these are seven veteran lettermen and a host of others showing promise.
Coach Park is anticipating a "respectable season", but notes there is a definite lack of height. He believes that speed and aggressiveness will make up part of the slack. Veteran Jim Nissen, at 5-10, represents the tallest of the lot.
Returning lettermen are: Seniors—Co-captains Jim Nissen and Clair Parks, juniors—Dennis Kemper, Dennis Cork and Ronald Parks; sophomores—Dennis Ickes and Fred Cronk.
Promising material includes: Ralph Simmons, Jon Cork, Gene Harvey, Rodney Kennedy, Norman Wetlaufer, Lyle Friedrichs, Jim Melcher and Arnold Hall.
The Eagles have been hard at work, prepping for the season's opener against the Belden Braves at Belden where Mr. Call, formerly of Page, heads the school.
Schedule:

November 25—at Belden.
Dec. 2—St. Joe of Atkinson, here; 5—Ewing, here; 9—at Orchard, here; 12—at Inman; 16—Oakdale, here; 19—Clearwater, here.
January 1-2—Spencer Invitational tourney; 5-8—Sandhills Gateway conference tourney at Brunswick; 13—Meadow Grove, here; 16—at Chambers; 19-23—Holt county tourney at O'Neill; 29—Brunswick, there.
February 3—Lynch, here; 6—at Elgin; 13—Stuart, here; 17—at St. Ludwig's of Creighton.

Jim Boies Bags Big Canadian Lynx

The tracks finally led under some fallen cottonwood trees where beavers had been busy.
Boies went up a tree—rifle in hand—to break off dead limbs in an effort to flush Mrs. Lynx, who by this time had a good mad on.
Finally Mrs. Lynx came out. The angry yellowish-green eyes were fiery. She was hissing madly. She was crouched and poised—"hunkered down", Jim described it.
By now the range was about 30 feet. The time was right. A shotgun would have been a sure thing. This 22 shot had to be good.
Boies raised his sight and let fire hitting Mrs. Lynx about midway between the erect, high-tufted ears. The old girl dropped in her snow tracks. Thus might have come to the end the stories of a mountain lion that had been sighted in these parts in recent years.
The grayish-white gal weighed 23 pounds. She measured 25 inches in height and 31 inches in length.
Mr. Boies brought his trophy to town and the old girl, with a mouthful of fierce choppers, was the object of considerable interest.
No Takers
Nobody here could determine how old the animal was, and Carl Hubel, taxidermist, took over. He invited friends to a lynx barbecue but there weren't any takers.
It was Jim's 50th birthday, but he couldn't be less interested in the innards of the roaming raider who had been on a chow hunt.
Gail Boies, who harbored the trophy overnight while Jim went back to his traps, said the lynx was larger than any bobcat that had been seen in these parts.
Jim, Gail and Carl speculated Mrs. Lynx lived well in the George Wright-H. A. and R. E. VanHorn area because there are concentrations of deer there and plenty of rabbits. Deer are easy prey for a lynx or a bobcat and one deer makes several servings.

Where Jim bagged the big feline is only a half-mile or so off U. S. highway 275. This could explain why motorists in recent years have reported seeing "a mountain lion." The kill was made immediately northwest of Golden Valley ranch buildings.
Or, it was theorized, Mrs. Lynx or members of her family occasionally wandered down from a Missouri river hideaway.
Teets on Mrs. Lynx indicated she had mothered a few young'ns. Question is: Are there offspring and is their a hubby around ready to sink equally capable choppers into any red-blooded animal—or human?

Jim took his prize to the home of his aged mother, Mrs. Mabel Boies. He also exhibited it to members of his family.
Jim, who pulled up in New Guinea early in 1942 during World War II, has been a hunter all of his life. His grandfather, the late Jim Boies, used to set traps for him when he was a tot. His grandfather years ago worked for the O'Neill-Butte stage line.
Grage Got Crack
Fred O'Neill, hearing of Jim's feat, came forth to say he had a shotgun crack at a big cat earlier in the week. Examination of Mrs. Lynx revealed some pellets.
"No wonder she was irritated by Boies!"
Bagging big cats is nothing new to Jim. He has felled four or five in Idaho and Montana. Once while coon-hunting on the Niobrara near Spencer with Estel Angel and Jim Scribner one of the coon dogs ran a bobcat up a tree. The trio easily bagged that cat.
