Former Ewing Girl Weds at Coleridge

EWING—Miss Leola Cary became the bride of Lloyd Heese Saturday, November 29, at the Immanuel Lutheran church at Coleridge.

Rev. Ludwig Scholl, church pastor, officiated at the 7:30 p.m. double-ring ceremony. The altar was decorated in a color theme of bronze and gold.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cary of Bloomfield, formerly of Ewing, and Mrs. Herman Heese of Coleridge.

Mrs. Smith was the organist. Vocal selections were sung by Joan Pederson and Dorothy Hertman. The bridegroom sang "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Orville Cooper of Le Mars, Ia., wore a floor-length gown of sheer nylon tulle, bolero style with long sleeves pointed at the wrist. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a white beaded headband. She carried a bouquet of white mums.

Mrs. Paul Huddleston, the former Joan Marquardt of Ewing, was matron-of-honor. Mrs. Gladys Scholte was bridesmaid. Both wore yellow ballerina length dresses, with matching headbands and carried bouquets of bronze and yellow mums.

Candlelighters were Alice Swan and Charney Nelson. Bruce Heese was the ring bearer. Dona Scholte was the flowergirl.

Don Heese was bestman for his brother, Paul Gunter of Ewing was groomsmen. Ushers were Darrell Urwiler and Herman Volleson. All wore dark business suits and white carnation boutonnieres.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors, which were decorated with streamers of bronze and gold and huge white bells.

The bride's table was centered with a five tier wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom, flanked by candelabra brought from Japan by the bridegroom.

Mrs. Emery Cary cut and served the cake. Eileen Slueckroth and Mrs. Neil Edmunds poured. Janice Robins, Dorothy Lentz and Raynee Johnson were waitresses. The guest book and gifts were taken care of by Miss Karen Paulson.

The refreshments were served by the Ladies Aid of the church. The bride chose for her traveling costume, a royal blue knit dress with white accessories.

After a short honeymoon, the young couple will make their home on a farm of the bridegroom's mother, northwest of Laurel, where Mr. Heese is now farming. Mrs. Heese will continue teaching in the Hartington school where she has taught the past year.

She is a graduate of the Ewing high school, class of 1951, and has attended the Wayne State Teachers college.

Friends and relatives attended the wedding from Sidney, Page, Orchard, Laurel and Ewing. Others came from Colorado, Minnesota and Iowa.

Mrs. Delbert Robertson was hostess to NITF Bridge club held Wednesday evening.

Sandra Ann Dierks, Paul Allen Waters Say Marriage Vows

EWING—St. Peter's Catholic church was the scene of the Saturday, November 29, wedding of Miss Sandra Ann Dierks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle P. Dierks of Ewing, and Paul Allen Waters, son of Mrs. James Waters of Winton, Ia.

Rev. Peter F. Burke officiated at the nuptial mass at 11 o'clock a.m.

The altar was decorated in floral arrangements of autumn colored mums and ferns at the communion rails.

A. E. Spittler, uncle of the bride, was the organist. Mrs. Kermit Jefferies, cousin of the bride, was soloist.

The bride, escorted down the white carpeted aisle to the altar by her father, wore a floor length gown of bouquet taffeta and Chantilly lace fashioned on princess lines. The high-rising waistline was accented with a fold of taffeta, which bordered an empire bodice and sleeves of re-embroidered Chantilly lace. The full flowing skirt of taffeta ended in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was caught by a half hat of lace, bound with satin and bordered with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white roses and a white prayer book.

Miss Mary Alys Dierks, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. Miss Gloria Zoeller of Manhattan, Kans., and Mrs. John Blummel of Omaha were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identical copper-colored faille taffeta gowns, princess style, empire waistlines, like that of the bride. They carried colonial bouquets and wore matching headbands of autumn colored mums.

Mary Higgins, of Omaha, niece of the bridegroom, was flowergirl. Jeffery Bunker, friend of the bride, was ringbearer.

Ted Irving of Omaha, classmate of the bridegroom, was the bestman. Merton Dierks, brother of the bride, and Robert Miller of Omaha, were groomsmen. They wore dark trousers and white dinner jackets.

Ushers were Patrick and Russell Waters of Atlantic, Ia., brothers of the bridegroom.

All attendants and the bride's father wore white carnation boutonnieres.

Jerry Jefferies of Ewing and Patrick Carr of Holdrege, cousins of the bride, served mass.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a jade green nylon velvet dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a light navy two-piece dress with matching accessories. Each had a corsage of autumn colored flowers.

Following the ceremony, a breakfast was served at the Town House in O'Neill to 80 guests with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle P. Dierks, as hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Waters will make their home at 1240 South 10, Omaha, Nebr.

The bride was born and reared in Ewing. She is a graduate of the Ewing high school and of the college of St. Mary's in Omaha. Since her graduation from college, she has been employed at the Catholic Charities as secretary.

Mr. Waters is a graduate of the high school at Winton, Ia., and at present is a junior at the Creighton university, school of medicine at Omaha.

The wedding was attended by two hundred friends and relatives, who came from Atlantic and Winton, Ia., North Platte, Omaha, Holdrege, Ogallala, Schuyler, Fullerton, O'Neill, Inman, Norfolk, Neligh, Lincoln, Ewing and Spalding.

Lavonne Lichty Royal Church Bride

ROYAL—The marriage of Miss Lavonne Lichty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lichty, formerly of Page, and Harvey Nelson, son of Mrs. Hazel Makemson, took place in the Methodist church in Royal Sunday afternoon, November 23. Rev. Ethel O. McAninch officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Attendants were Mrs. Loran Hergert, sister of the bride, and Gerald Holm, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride appeared in a gown fashioned entirely of imported Chantilly lace and featured a fitted bodice with a scoop neckline trimmed with sequins. The long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. The bouffant skirt fell into a soft brush train. Her veil was ballerina length with a hand-rolled edge. Crown headpiece was trimmed with sequins and pearls. A string of pearls was her only jewelry. She carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds.

The gown worn by the matron-of-honor was fashioned by herself of gold satin with matching net overskirt accented with sashes of wide gold satin fastened at the sides and crossed in front to tie in a large bow in the back at the waistline. She carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

Ushers were Loran Hergert and Keith Hughes who also were the candlelighters.

The mothers of the couple wore dresses of blue with white accessories and white carnation corsages. The bride's paternal grandmother wore a dress of black crepe and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Ervin Sawyer sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because" with Miss Glenda Fae Thomsen accompanying and also playing the wedding marches.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the basement of the church.

The bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lichty, who have been married more than 60 years, were seated at the bride's table. One of the tablecloths used had been a gift of the bride's maternal grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Green of Creighton.

The bride is a graduate of the Creighton high school and had taught several years in Antelope county.

The bridegroom attended school in Royal and served in the navy for several years. He is now farming on his mother's farm near Royal, where the couple will make their home.
