

Americans Unaware of Batista Cruelties

BASSETT—A missionary recently returned from Cuba says Fidel Castro's revolutionary government is going through "growing pains." He is Rev. N. Jerald Sansall, who with his wife and four-year-old son is visiting in Omaha and Bassett. He is on furlough and plans to return to Cuba in August.

Reverend Sansall says: "I don't think the American public is completely informed on the cruelties imposed upon the Cuban people by the Batista regime."

Homemakers Meet at Havranek Home

The January meeting of the Victory Homemakers club was held at the home of Mrs. Al Havranek. All members were present except one. Mrs. Lew Havranek and Mrs. Bill Mullen were visitors.

Roll call was answered with an extemporaneous speech. After dinner everyone played games for prizes given by the hostess. The "guess what" was won by Mrs. John Bahl.

The February meeting will be at the Ray Tunderhome. There will be a 25-cent gift exchange. Each member will bring food for a food sale.

Home Was Never Like This

Here's a shot that has been making the rounds for two years in newspaper trade journals and originally was distributed by one of the wire photo syndicates. W. Irl Todd (at linotype keyboard) demonstrated operation of a type-setting machine for these Eskimos from Pt. Barrow, Alaska, on a visit to Fairbanks where Todd was head machinist and assistant mechanical superintendent for three years for the Fairbanks Daily News-Miner. The visitors: Willie Sallak, Nita Ahnupkana, Bruce Nakapigah, Lena Ahnattok. Todd has been copublisher of The Frontier since October 1. He and his wife, Ruby, and their son, Lynn, and daughter, Nancy, reside on an acreage west of Page. Another son, Gary, is married and lives in San Diego, Calif., where he is completing a navy enlistment. Gary is in public relations and a staff writer for the base paper "The Jet Journal", and conducts a disc jockey and news show on radio station KSON, San Diego.

Church Notes

Evangelism Project Is Being Launched

Nebraska Protestants are about to put into gear what Rev. Carroll H. Leonard of Lincoln terms "the biggest project in evangelism ever conducted in Nebraska."

Reverend Lemon is executive secretary of the Nebraska council of churches, which is coordinating the plans of co-operating denominations.

The project, in preparation for two years, will be climaxed February 8-12 with a simultaneous visitation program in communities throughout the state. In some cases there will be an exchange of ministers to direct the visitation or to conduct a preaching mission.

As a preliminary, more than 10 thousand volunteers last fall conducted religious surveys in their communities.

The next step, now in progress, is to enlist volunteers who will make the home calls in February.

The third step will be the annual Nebraska ministers' convocation January 26-28 in Omaha, at which national leaders of church evangelism will speak.

This will be followed by 25 training institutes over the state for lay leaders.

The final step, after the visitation, will be to merge newly-won members into life of the churches.

The training institute schedule: January 29—At Grant, Kearney, Columbus, Lincoln, Nebraska City. January 30—At Sidney, Lexington, York, Fremont, Falls City. February 1—At Chadron, Alma, Broken Bow, Valentine, Pawnee City. February 2—O'Neill, Alliance, McCook, St. Paul, Beatrice. February 3—At Scottsbluff, North Platte, Hastings, Norfolk, Hebron.

WHERE AK-SAR-BEN'S RACING DOLLAR GOES

Nebraska is the only state in which racing dollars come back to you through agricultural, educational and charitable programs. Nebraska law does not permit racing for private profit.

The affairs of Ak-Sar-Ben are administered by a Board of 12 Governors. They do not receive one cent of compensation and they spend thousands of dollars of their own money each year to further the program. They are assisted by 12 Councillors, who likewise receive no pay for this public service.

The revenue received from thoroughbred racing supports 4-H Clubs and FFA. Under the dollar-matching plan, Ak-Sar-Ben's racing dollars help improve buildings and grounds at County Fairs in Nebraska. Racing dollars finance more than 200 scholarships and fellowships in Nebraska universities and colleges. They help stage the annual Ak-Sar-Ben Live Stock Show and the world's largest 4-H Beef Show and help pay for maintenance and improvement of the facilities used by our outstate exhibitors. They help charity patients in hospitals; they help communities struck by tornado, flood, or other disaster and help provide rescue squad and other life saving equipment; they support experimental stations in their projects to improve the state's important cattle business.

This is where Ak-Sar-Ben's racing dollar goes; it goes to benefit you and your state.
