Mrs. Donald G. Wedge . . . before her marriage here January 24 she was Miss Brenda Evonne Cole, daughter of Charles V. Cole and the late Mrs. Cole.—O'Neill Photo Co.

Brenda Evonne Cole, Donald G. Wedge in January Rite

On Saturday, January 24, Miss Brenda Evonne Cole became the bride of Donald G. Wedge of Omaha in a double-ring ceremony.

The wedding took place at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 10 a.m. with Rev. Robert Duffy officiating. James Richter and Ronnie Holly served as altar boys.

The bride is a daughter of Charles V. Cole of O'Neill, formerly of Star, and the late Mrs. Cole.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a floor-length gown of chantilly lace, with long sleeves tapering to the traditional bridal points at the wrist. The molded bodice had a portrait neckline accented in pearls while the very full skirt fell into a finger-length illusion which was fastened to a tiara of pearls. Fastened to the tiara was a rhinestone headband which was worn by the bride's mother and an older sister in their weddings.

The bride wore a single-strand pearl necklace. She carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley centered with red roses on a white prayer book, a gift of the bridegroom.

The bride carried out the tradition of wearing something old, new, borrowed, blue and a penny in her shoe.

Mrs. Don Bouska, sister of the bridegroom, was maid-of-honor. The Misses Ruth Ann Vonasek and Lois Marie Strong, friends of the bride, were bridesmaids. They were gowned identically in red lace dresses with red and white accessories. They carried white muffs with a red rose pinned to them.

Miss Dolores Marie Tharnish, niece of the bride, was flower-girl. She wore a white gown of eyelet and dropped red rose petals.

The bridegroom appeared in a white dinner jacket with black trousers and a white carnation boutonniere. Don Bouska, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as bestman. LaVerne Krysl and Bryan Burkeman served as groomsmen. All were dressed identically to the bridegroom.

Billy Vlach, nephew of the bridegroom, served as ringbearer. He carried the ring on a white eyelet heart-shaped pillow. He was dressed in a light brown business suit.

Mrs. Ed Tharnish, sister of the bride, served as honorary mother. She wore a coral sheath dress made of wool-jersey. Mrs. Wedge wore a beige dress of lace.

Claude E. Cole, brother of the bride, was soloist. He sang "Mother Beloved", "Oh Lord I Am Not Worthy", and "On This Day". Miss Alvina Ramm was organ accompanist.

Ushers were Ronnie Bouska, Paul Segar and Mike Schaaf.

A dinner was served for the bridal party and relatives at noon at Wiseman's Supper club.

A reception was held at the American Legion auditorium at 2 o'clock.

Miss Cleone Cole, sister of the bride, presided at the gift book and Miss Judy Juracek was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Marlin Wichman cut the three-tier wedding cake which was decorated with red roses, white doves and bells. Mrs. Claude Curran served punch.

Mrs. Larry Strong, Mrs. Roy Boshart and Mrs. Wayne Barnes, and Misses Patti Allen, LaVerne Strong and Kay McCarthy served as bride's waitresses.

A free wedding dance was held at Crystal ballroom in Atkinson that evening.

The couple will make their home at 2513 South 37th street, Atkinson, where the bridegroom is employed with Western Electric.

Friends and relatives from Iowa, South Dakota, Lincoln, Omaha, Verdigr, Inman, Plainview, Norfolk, Lynch, Atkinson, Stuart and Ewing attended the rites.

Miss Elaine Clasey Bride of Lincolnite

PAGE—Miss Elaine Clasey and William Baum were united in marriage at 10 a.m. Saturday, January 31, in a nuptial mass celebrated at Sacred Heart Catholic church at Lincoln.

Baskets of red-and-white carnations graced the altar for the double ring ceremony.

Miss Clasey is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Clasey of Page while Mr. Baum is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baum of Lincoln.

Nuptial music included "Blessed Be This Day", "Panic Angellius", "On This Day" and "Oh, Beautiful Mother", sung by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Plack. Marie Hassel was accompanist at the organ.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

For the wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of nylon tulle and chantilly lace. Scallops, traced with sequins and appliqued to a maline band, formed the sweetheart neck-line and long sleeves tapering to bridal points fashioned the basque of lace smoothed over satin. Below the narrow waist the lace was interspersed in rows of sculptured insertion to contour an apron effect, ending in a back pleatum and brushing a frothy maline flounce, fell in extreme bouffancy over tiers of nylon net and taffeta. A petite cap of beautiful rose-point lace glittered with sequins and pearls and held her veil of silk illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet of red roses on a white prayer book, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Marvin Sinkule, twin sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor, and Mrs. William Plautz, also a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of red rose taffeta styled with batteau neck, cap sleeves and princess bodice with full paneled skirts. The back panel was accented with four matching bows. They carried bouquets of white carnations.

Kathy Long was flowergirl. Her dress was identical to those worn by the bride's attendants.

The ringbearer was Michael Rohmert, nephew of the bridegroom.

Bestman was Roy Rohmert and groomsmen was Clyde Moon. Both are brothers-in-law of the bridegroom and both are from Lincoln.

They also acted as ushers, and wore dark trousers with white jackets.

A reception was given by the bride's family at the Sacred Heart school parlors immediately following the ceremony. Members of the Altar Society were in charge.

Connie Burns was in charge of the gift table.

The bride is a graduate of the Page high school. The bridegroom was graduated from the Smithfield high school.

The bride has been employed at the state house at Lincoln since her graduation. Mr. Baum spent four years in the air force, three having been spent over-seas.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home after Monday, February 9, at 2525 Q street, Lincoln.

For going away, the bride chose a white knit dress with red accessories.
