CHEESE AND TUNA
For Lenten Dish

Cheese and tuna make a satisfying protein two-some to feature frequently during the Lenten season. If you are looking for a main dish starring this combination, here's one given us by Owen Parkinson, local salesman for the Meadow Gold Dairy. It calls for the dairy company's easy melting Process American Cheese.

Beatrice Cooke, Director of the Meadow Gold test kitchens in Chicago developed the recipe. She suggests that you remember it for meatless buffet suppers, pot-luck dinners, in addition to family meals, for it may be prepared ahead of time.

TUNA LIMA CASSEROLE
(Four Servings)
½ pound (2 cups) grated Process American Cheese
1 10½-ounce can cream of celery soup
½ cup homogenized milk
1 10-ounce package frozen lima beans, partially cooked
1 7-ounce can tuna, drained and flaked
¼ cup chopped pimiento
1 teaspoon grated onion
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1/3 cup buttered bread crumbs

Combine cheese, soup and milk in top of double boiler. Heat until cheese is melted. Add lima, tuna, Pimiento and seasonings. Pour mixture into a buttered one-quart casserole. Top with bread crumbs. Bake at 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes.

clubs. One dollar was contributed to the Heart Fund, now in the process of collection.
