Inman Defeated 71-63 at Stanton; 'Prague is Tall, Fast Ball Club'

Stanton—The well-developed Inman basketball five went down to defeat in their second game of the regional playoffs here at the hands of Prague.

Coach Bill Miller's Tigers were defeated 71 to 63 in a game, which appeared, could send Inman to the state tournament.

Earlier the Tigers swept by Yutan 61 to 45 in one of the best games played by Inman during the season.

In that game as well as the following tilt with Prague, Dick Appleby led the scoring with 22 points against Yutan and 28 points against Prague.

Miller said the highly touted Prague team lived up to their reputation as being one of the tallest and fastest teams in the state.

"They were bigger than we were and deserved their win," he said.

Miller pointed out that he will have three regulars returning next year and that he was now turning his interest to track.

Inman, along with most of the other schools in the Beef Empire will be represented at the Wrangler Relays in Burwell April 1.

Caterpillar Team In Columbus Sunday

The Caterpillar Women's Bowling team represented O'Neill at the Columbus Bowl Tournament in Columbus Sunday. Mrs. Donald Wecker, captain, reported total pins for the team of 2585. Team members include: Ann Timmerman, Jo Ann Wecker, Nell Harding, Harriet McKamy and Marlene McNichols.

Prepare Baseball Season

Interested members of the O'Neill town baseball team met Sunday to outline plans for the summer season.

Dick Tomlinson was unanimously chosen business manager for the coming year and Alvin Carson was chosen as coach.

Although plans are not yet complete, it appears that O'Neill will again be in the North-Central Nebraska Baseball League.

Different methods of financing the team, memberships and season tickets were discussed. Last year, the following teams were included in the O'Neill division of the league. In addition to O'Neill, there were Chambers, Oakdale Orchard, Petersburg, Clearwater and Tilden.

District Board Will Buy Drill if Need Warrants; Conservation Discussed

Proper method of seeding native grasses and the right kind of a seed bed are two of the most important factors in assuring good success of native grass seedings. This was the assumption upon which the local Holt Soil and Water Conservation district board, meeting in special session Friday, based their decision to buy another drill if the demand warrants it.

The present drill owned by the district board is booked for approximately 800 acres of native grass seeding to be done in the county this spring. Because of this, some cooperators have recently declined to schedule use of the drill.

Any one interested in native grass seeding should contact the local Soil and Water Conservation district office and if there is sufficient demand the board will purchase another drill for use this year.

The Nesbit grass drill is one of the few drills that will seed native grasses at the required rate. It is equipped with depth bands to place the seed uniformly at a 1/2 inch depth and rubber tired packing wheels to assure uniform coverage.

Grass seedings were made on approximately 800 acres with the drill in 1958. Where it was coupled with proper ground preparation it proved highly successful. The best method of ground preparation is to plant a cover crop such as sudan grass or millet the year prior to native grass seeding and then the seeding is put in the stubble.

However on fields not severely infested with weeds, grasses, a tillage operation just prior to seeding to kill weed growth is sufficient.

At the special meeting of the Soil and Water Conservation district board, Bill Butterfield was hired to take charge of district drilling operations and Vaden Kivett and Dana Lines were hired as the tree planting crew.

John Bratt Named to Cowboy Hall of Fame Platt River Rancher Was Born in England

JOHN BRATT Cowboy Hall of Fame

OKLAHOMA CITY—Nebraska again was honored at the recent trustees meeting of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame, on which construction will start here in April, when John Bratt was named an honoree of the western shrine and memorial.

Born in Britain, son of a Methodist minister, Bratt came to the states at the age of 21 and after several other ventures settled in Nebraska territory. He was a rancher and one of the leading figures who helped carve a state from the territory.

As an honoree of the Hall of Fame Bratt will join other Nebraskans in the shrine of the great westerners. Previously voted in by national trustees were William F. Cody, Edward Creighton and Frank J. North.

He was a Rancher in Nebraska territory and state; an organizer of Frontier county and leading figure in state development; author and outstanding cattleman.

British born in Staffordshire, son of a Methodist minister, Bratt was apprenticed to a merchant at age 12 and at 17 was in business. He came to America at the age of 21 after spending some time in Chicago he invested in goods to be sold in New Orleans. The ship with Bratt and the goods was wrecked in the Gulf and he lost his property. After a near starvation period in New Orleans he worked on the levee and later on a riverboat.

In 1866 he went to Nebraska City in the territory and hired out as a bull whacker freighting to Ft. Kearney. At the fort he was employed by Coe and Carter, contractors, freighters and settlers; and he operated a road ranch and stage station until 1867. In 1869 he became a partner of Coe and Carter in the cattle business under the name of John Bratt and Co. In 1870 he established a ranch with headquarters near North Platte, built to withstand Indian attacks.

His cattle ranged between the Platte river, Medicine and Willow creeks, west of Ft. McPherson and east of Fallon's Bluffs, one of the largest and best known spreads in that area. He was active in the organization of Frontier county after statehood, and was one of the first county commissioners. He was an outstanding civic worker of his time. In 1871 he organized the North Platte Guards of protection against Indian raids. Much of his life and time was put into his memoirs, "Trails of Yesterday," published after his death, a most interesting and valuable contribution to the history of the West.

53 Victories Compiled by Chambers Girls

Food Shower and Tea for St. Mary's, Sunday, March 15th, 2:30 to 4:30, St. Mary's Gym. 46p

Chambers—One of the most outstanding records made by any group of girls in the state has been compiled by the Chambers high school volleyball team.

In 1957 the girls started a winning streak that has brought 53 consecutive victories to their school.

During this three-year period, they have accumulated seven first place trophies. These were won at the Clearwater Invitational Tournament in 1957 and 1958; Tilden Invitational Tournament in 1958 and 1959; Stuart (Holt County Tournament) 1959; and Sandhills Gateway Conference Champions in 1958 and 1959.

During the past season the girls played both six and eight man teams to sweep through all opposition for 24 consecutive wins.

This year's team was a well balanced squad with fair height, speed and experience. While they will lose three seniors from the squad, they have capable and enthusiastic reserves from the second team which should give them a strong team for another year.
