STUART—St. Boniface Catholic church in Stuart was the scene of a pretty wedding Tuesday, June 14, when Miss LaVonne Seger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Seger, and Eugene Kaup, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kaup, were united in marriage.

The men's choir of St. Boniface church, accompanied by Miss Mary Coufal, sang for the nuptial mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a ballerina-length frock of ice blue. Satin medallions were fluttered to each bow knot in the embroidered nylon tulle over satin. The sculptured bodice featured a clear tulle banding at the bateau neckline and the long, fitted sleeves were wrist-tipped.

The circular cut skirt flared into extreme fullness at the hemline. Her shoulder-length veil of imported illusion was held in place by a tiny clip of chantilly lace bound with a satin band and trimmed with a rope of tiny pearls. She carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations with white net and blue streamers.

Miss Shirley LeMay of Grand Island, a friend of the bride, was maid-of-honor and Miss Sandra Jean Kaspar of Lincoln, cousin of the bride, was the bridesmaid. Their ballerina-length dresses were fashioned of blue net over blue taffeta with blue lace bodices. They carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Green Takes Rap
at 'Litterbugs'

"Litterbug" is a fairly new word in the language of the American people. By now most have heard of the term. The term is used to describe the peculiar breed of modern man that, in spite of his civilized state, cannot treat public owned property in the same clean manner that he keeps his own front yard, according to William F. Green of Lincoln, supervisor of information for the Nebraska game department.

If you ever visit one of Nebraska's recreation areas on Monday morning, you will get a graphic illustration of what a litterbug does. Beer cans, bread wrappers, broken pop bottles and all other kinds of debris are found strewn over the areas.
