C. H. Fisher Grabs Open-Class Honors

SPENCER — Folks in Boyd county are still talking about the Parade of Stars, a show troupe that wowed fairgoers Friday and Saturday night. Instead of the 10 acts originally booked, two last-minute additions supplemented the colorful stage show which played before large crowds both nights at the ball park.

Fair officials said the 4-H entries in both livestock and home economics were the greatest in number in history. Two Holt countyans were fair judges. Mrs. Ollie Indra of O'Neill judged the home ec entries and Stanley Lambert of Ewing was livestock judge.

Cattle entries in both 4-H and open-class represented a 30 percent increase over last year. Grand champion steer honors in open-class went to C. H. Fisher of Spencer with a Hereford entry and Mr. Fisher also won grand champion open-class honors in the female division with a heifer.

Grand champion 4-H steer, a Hereford, was shown by Helen Sire of Butte. Curtis Nelson of Bristow exhibited the reserve champion steer and grand champion 4-H heifer.

The stocker-feeder calf given by the Niobrara Valley Herald association was awarded to Tony Wewel of Newport. Four Hens in nine counties were eligible.

In showmanship, Curtis Nelson was awarded a purple ribbon and Helen Sire placed second with a blue ribbon. Douglas Dix of Butte placed third and Lowell Fisher of Spencer placed fourth.
