

Eagles Cop Intracity Cage Title

Overflow Crowd Sees Wirephoto Finish; Schaffer Gets 21

The O'Neill Eagles continued to reign as the intracity basketball champions by defeating the St. Mary's Cardinals, 55-52, in their annual clash Friday night.

Before a packed house the two teams battled to the wire with the Eagles holding a slight edge after the first few minutes. The Blues, using a well-balanced scoring attack, held an 11-point advantage at one time during the second period but settled with a 22-22 halftime score.

Coach Elmer Murman had moaned earlier that he feared his kids wouldn't have sufficient hustle.

Murman's worries were unfounded. They showed plenty of go.

Going into the final minute of play, the Eagles still had a five-point lead only to see it cut to one point with 10 seconds remaining. Jim Johnson hit two free throws to put the Eagles on top, 55-52, when the game ended as the Cardinals failed to get another shot.

Four Eagles scored over 10 points with Larry Conarro leading the scorers with 16, as well as being top rebounder.

Cardinal Dave Schaffer was the evening's top scorer with 21. He received able assistance from Jim Becker, who scored 14 points besides playing a good floor game. Jim Foelich was third high for SMA with a score of 10.

Coach Don Templemeyer was without the services of Tom Head, who was on the shelf with a bad leg. Head is regarded as a stabilizer for his mates both on the court and on the grid.

It was the seventh straight year the Eagles have gained possession of the intracity crown.

The O'Neill reserves won the opener from the St. Mary's second string, 27-25. Merle Jones paced the Eagle seronds with 12 points, while Tom Schneider got eight for St. Mary's.

The O'Neill high team travels to Ainsworth Friday while the Cardinals entertain Stuart.

Yule Program Staged by Grade School

Ewing Band Takes Part in Event

EWING — The Ewing grade school and the school band combined in presenting a program Thursday evening before a capacity house in the school auditorium. The band under the direction of Eugene Kresl, presented a half-hour concert, featuring Christmas numbers.

Masters of ceremonies for the grade school program were Johnnie Wanser and Lynn Hahlbeck.

The first number was "The Zoo Train" by the kindergarten. The first and second grades sang the welcome song, "Cock-a-Dooodle-Do," in costume, followed by a play, "The Kittens Find Their Mittens," and a song, "The Bible Tells Me So."

The third and fourth grades presented a two-act play, "A Christmas Calamity". Clever costumes were featured.

A duet, "Bicycle Built for Two" was sung by Donnie Hahlbeck and Larry Noffke with Mary Huffman as accompanist. "Fraid Cat" was a duet sung by Betty Wright and Tommy Wanser.

The boys from the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades sang "Davy Crockett" with Patricia Hobbs at the piano.

The seventh and eighth grades presented "The Whole Year Round", which represented the new year. Virtus Lee was "old father time" and Ronnie Tuttle was the "new year", each wearing the appropriate costume.

The seventh grade presented a one-act play, "A Bunch of Keys". The final number, a dramatization of the English classics, "A Stone in the Road", was given by the eighth grade.

The grade teachers are: Mrs. Beulah Black, seventh and eighth; Miss Margaret Cairton, fifth and sixth; Mrs. Grace Thomsen, third and fourth; Mrs. Dona Carson, first and second; Mrs. Helen Grim, kindergarten.

NO CRYING OVER SPILLED COFFEE

EVEN IN THE BEST regulated homes Christmas morning is likely to be bedlam. Daddy's coffee is threatened by junior and sis bouncing like frogs on the new pogo stick. If the precious brew lands on his brand new robe, no need to cry for help. When the robe is a Royal with the magic Dow Corning silicone finish, the coffee will just roll off without wetting the soft, comforting wool. This handsome black watch tartan robe also shrugs off wrinkles and stands up to long, constant wear, thanks to the trusty, lasting silicone finish.
