Dirty Mirror Torments 'Jean'

By MRS. BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

Do you try to save yourself all the extra steps you can? For instance, do you keep a can of scouring powder in the bathroom and one in the kitchen, soap to clean the tub and lavatory in both places, sponges also? It saves all those extra steps back and forth. I also keep a bottle of glass cleaner and a sprayer in the bathroom, and an extra roll of paper towel, so that glass mirrors can be cleaned and polished in a jiffy.

Keep the vacuum cleaner in a central location if possible to save extra steps in cleaning. If you have an upstairs, keep an extra broom, dust pan, dusting cloth and cleaning material upstairs to save all the extra steps up and down. A little extra planning will save you miles of steps as the months slip through the fingers of time.

Buying the extra things is really no extra expense because brooms and dust mops can be used until worn out anyway, and the same goes for other articles. Of course one can't afford a vacuum cleaner for each floor but the cheaper things can be kept one for each floor.

Don't forget that the white sales at this time of year enable you to replenish your supply of sheets, pillow cases, towels and tea towels, much more cheaply than you can buy them at other times. So if at all possible, replenish them now.

Also many other needed articles of bedding are sold more cheaply at this time, when Christmas is over. Blankets, for instance, can be purchased on sale. Many appliance prices are cut to move articles in stores and can be had, if you need them, more cheaply. Take advantage of these things.

Dear Frontier Woman: My, but it is a lovely day today. Don't we appreciate this nice weather after having had so many cold, windy and snowy days? We complain about the Nebraska winters and summers, but when it comes right down to it, is there any place else that has it any better than we do? Just look around and the answer is "No." At least, we don't have floods as devastating as those in California and Oregon and the hurricanes that lashed the South and East last summer. Also, weren't we fortunate this year, not to have any tornadoes? Sure, we have extreme heat and cold, also winds, not to speak of the dry year we had, but with lots of faith and prayers we will manage some way.

Christmas is over, and I always hate to see it go as it is such a wonderful holiday. Now the new year is here. I hope it will be a very happy and prosperous one for you, your family, friends and all your readers. We are looking forward with great anticipation as we are expecting our first little one in the spring. I don't think there is anything more exciting than to sew the tiny garments and make big plans for Johnny or Sue.

I wonder if anyone else has the trouble with their large glass mirror that I had. Mine seemed to get foggy so soon after I cleaned it. I purchased some of the new towels made of viskon, a plastic and rayon nonwoven fabric. All I do now is take a damp cloth and clean the mirror, then crumple viskon towel and polish until dry—no lint and it really will sparkle. Wonderful for windows, too.

As I'm making sweet rolls today, I'll send along my favorite roll dough recipe.

SWEET ROLLS

Two cups scalded milk, 1/2 cup sugar, two teaspoons salt, two beaten eggs, 1/2 cup shortening, two packages yeast, seven or 7 1/2 cups sifted flour.

Scald the milk and cool to lukewarm, add sugar, salt, melted shortening and eggs. I usually use margarine for the shortening.

NO LAUGHING matter when that darn battery won't turn over. Well, why don't you clean the plates so the battery will have full power.

DUBLE-POWER BATTERY IMPROVER

... cleans the sulphation off the plates. Sulphation is the cause of 90% of all battery trouble.

Get DUBLE-Power at your service station, garage, car dealer or implement dealer.

Only $1.50 for treatment of a 6-volt battery. Treatment lasts for 1 year or more.

For information call: Rubeck's Station O'Neill — Phone 307

AL KLOPPENBORG, service station operator at Emmet, uses DUBLE-Power for new batteries to increase the life of the battery; he uses DUBLE-Power in older batteries to clean sulphation off the plates.

Use DUBLE-Power when your battery is corroded, or uses lots of water, or needs recharging, or weak or won't hold or take a charge.

As I like my rolls to have a rich yellow color. Add the yeast which has been allowed to soak in 1/2 cup lukewarm water to which has been added one teaspoon sugar. Stir until well blended and add flour. Knead until smooth. Let rise, and mix down. Let rise again and put on pans. Let rise until light and bake. This recipe makes four dozen plain or fancy rolls or one large coffee cake. Our favorites are kolaches, with different fillings and the old stand-by cinnamon rolls with raisins.

It's time for the rolls to go on the pans, so I will close.

Sylas Coy, 49, Funeral at Stuart

Heart Attack Fatal to C&NW Employee

STUART—Funeral services were held Tuesday, January 17, at 2 p.m., for Sylas Earl Coy, 49, at the Cleveland Presbyterian church, north of Stuart. Rev. D. D. Su, church pastor, was in charge of the services. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. Herbert Sweet, Mrs. Linden Mulford, Elmer McClurg and Calvin McClurg accompanied by Mrs. Elmer Allyn at the piano. Burial was in the Cleveland cemetery.

Mr. Coy, track maintenance employee of the Chicago & North Western railroad, died at Clearwater, Saturday afternoon, January 14, of a heart attack.

Sylas Earl Coy, youngest son of John and Ada Coy, was born February 17, 1906, near Alden, Ia., and came to the Cleveland community with his parents, at the age of 4.

He was married January 26, 1931, to Alice L. Driskill. They made their home in Stuart until in April 1944, when they moved to Atkinson with their family of three children where Mr. Coy was employed by the Chicago & North Western railroad. He later moved to Clearwater, having resided there the past four years.

He was preceded in death by his parents and brother, Clarence Arthur.

Survivors include: Widow; sons—Sylas Eugene of Ewing; Raymond John, of Sioux City, Ia.; daughter—Mrs. Edna Mae Clark of Atkinson.

PERFORMANCE made it the Largest Selling "8" in the World...

the FORD V-8

Just look at these official registration figures for the first 11 months—January through November, 1955

Ford Sales	Ford Sales Leadership
FORD V-8	1,241,742
Car C-V-8	634,376
Car C-V-8	262,870
Car C-Six	845,153
Car P-Six	334,540

Here's why!

People just naturally go for 8 cylinders in the FORD package! And to a world record extent! Just think, in the first 11 months of 1955 alone, 344,496 more people bought Ford V-8's than the two other low-priced competitive eights combined! Of course, the reason the Ford V-8 is the largest selling eight-cylinder car in the world is that more people like its brand of performance—the kind that comes with the car! These people aren't amateurs in judging engines. Nearly 24 years of building Ford V-8's to supply their demand is convincing proof of that. And the Ford V-8 of today is the best yet... by a country mile! Smoother and quieter—you can scarcely hear it, even with the hood up!

Sassier—just ask the highway patrol officer who drives one. He knows it takes a Ford to catch a Ford! And, for the very practical question of durability—ask a Ford cab driver. He knows how Fords take it day on end. So, if it's performance that you want—and wrapped like a gift—the '56 Ford V-8 is your baby. Come in... try it today!
