St. Mary's, Atkinson Vie Tonite

Spencer, Stuart Other Semifinalists in C Tourney at Atkinson

ATKINSON—Semifinalists in the district class C tournament in progress here will be the Spencer Pirates and Stuart Broncos, who will clash in the first game tonight (Thursday), and the St. Mary's academy Cardinals (O'Neill) and Atkinson high Balers, meeting in the nightcap.

Atkinson high gained the semifinals by defeating Butte, Spencer eliminated Springview, Stuart bopped Orchard, and St. Mary's turned back St. Joseph's hall (Atkinson).

Neligh 64; Bloomfield 54. Coach Jack Bryant's Warriors, showing surprising strength largely in the sharpshooting of Jerry Taylor, scooted to a 17-7 first quarter lead over Bloomfield in the tourney opener. Jim Hadley helped the Bees narrow the margin to 34-27 at intermission.

Neligh posted 16 points in the third period compared to Bloomfield's five and then coasted to win, 64-54.

Taylor meshed 28 points for individual honors Best for Bloomfield was Jim Hadley with 20.

Ainsworth 53; Plainview 48. Plainview gave an early impression of surprising the Ainsworth Bulldogs, leading 14-10 at the first quarter and clipping to a 23-26 advantage at the half. But the Bulldogs applied the pressure in the third, rolling up 17 points compared to the Pirates' eight.

Plainview knotted the count at 45-all midway in the fourth in a spirited rally but Ainsworth's superior team play turned the tide in the final two minutes, four crucial points coming via free-throws.

Roger Brede piled in 18 points for Ainsworth; George Haun, 13; Bob Patras, a nifty guard, got 18 to eight points, 35-27, at the half-way mark.

Dave Schaffer's deadeye shooting was the Cards' threat. He collected 17 points until this point.

The third quarter found the Cards in high gear. They stepped up the tempo to mesh 22 points while holding St. Joe to 12, thus leading 57-39 entering the final frame.

Schaffer gathered two more buckets to bring his point production to 21 before leaving the game late in the third period because of eye glass trouble. He did not return to action as the Cardinal reserves entered the game and continued to keep the attack rolling.

Schaffer's 21 points was high for the Cards, followed by Jim Becker with 19 and Tom Head with 14. Becker connected on 11 straight charity tosses before missing.

Rebounding of Jim Froelich and Tom Schneider contributed to the easy victory.

O'Neill May Be Site of Class B Playoff

O'Neill may be the site next week of the inter-district class B playoff, according to City School Supt. M. J. Baack. He said a formal application for the one-night stand has been made to the state high school activities office. Location for the playoffs is not chosen until after district winners have been determined.

It is speculation the winners of the O'Neill and Wayne tournaments might vie here for the state tournament ticket.

O'Neill would be a logical site, Baack points out, if the O'Neill tourney winner happens to be Valentine or Ainsworth, both favorites.

Miss Brennan Entertains—Miss Bernadette Brennan was hostess at a dinner Monday evening at the M&M in honor of Mrs. Marguerite Johnson, a field representative of the Nebraska public library commission. Guests were members of the library board.

Inman, Page Gain Class D Semifinals

Tigers Score Freely Over Long Pine

CENTER — Semifinals in the district class C tournament will be played here tonight (Thursday) with the Verdigris Hawks taking on the highly-potent Inman Tigers in the first game, 7 o'clock, and Page meets the strong Center Pirates at 8:30.

Inman has not encountered Verdigris thus far and Page and Center have not previously met. Finals will be Friday night.

Monday Night . . .

CENTER—The high-riding Inman Tigers rocked Long Pine, 108-30, Monday night in opening play of the class D cage tourney here, and Center, second-ranking team in the Niobrara Valley conference, pasted the Chambers Coyotes, 58-30.

Inman 108; Long Pine 30. The Tigers had unmercifully lapped Long Pine, 107-56, last week and there wasn't much question about the outcome of Monday's tournament clash. The Tigers scored almost at will, leading 28-9 at the first quarter; 54-14 at the half, and finished on top, 108-30. Bob Reimers got 28 for Inman; Charles Butterfield, 28.

Center 58; Chambers 30. The Center Panthers, featuring a long boy named Jim McGill, conveniently disposed of the hard-working Chambers Coyotes, 58-30. McGill's height and the home-court advantage overwhelmed Chambers. He dominated both boards and accumulated 21 points. Center led 15-5 at the first quarter mark; 29-12 at the half; 48-24 at the end of the third. Rod Elkims scored eight for the losers.

Tuesday Night . . .

Verdigris 49; Oakdale 47. It was a thriller-diller Tuesday night in class D play as the Verdigris Hawks turned back Oakdale, 49-47. The score was close all the way.

Page built an 8-2 margin in the early moments and moved into a comfortable position before the second quarter was well underway.

Lyle Heiss fired 22 points for Page.
