Ike Hanscome Speaks to Pirates

SPENCER—Athletes of Spencer high school were guests-of-honor at the annual athletic banquet given by the Pep club on Thursday, March 15.

The theme, "Pirates Shine On," was carried out with purple and gold streamers, large scoreboards, a trophy display, various Pirate scenes, and gold balloons which were printed with guests' nicknames. A large Pirate, standing beside a treasure chest, greeted the guests as they entered the banquet hall.

Special feature of the evening was guest speaker, Ike Hanscome, who is assistant football and track coach at the University of Nebraska.

Toastmistress was Miss Nina Hinkle.

Program: "Pirate Prayer," by Judy Steier; "Isle of Hospitality," by Nina Hinkle; "Rowdy Response," by Keith Mulford; "Aho, Team!" by Sharon Johnson; "Team, Heave Ho!" by Norman Klaska; "Exciting Excursions," by Coach Phillips; "Seaman's Folly," by Pep club chorus.

"Sailors' Delight," by Frank Soukup; "Heeded Onward," by Mrs. Roberts; "Island Irony," by Phil Fisher and Dick Friedrich; "New Slants from U." by Ike Hanscome; "Extra Special," film (U's football season); "Onward Pirates," by Darlene Friedrich; "Nearing Horizons," by Cathie Soukup, Carol Ellingson, Darlene Friedrich.

Dancing was enjoyed after the banquet. The three-course turkey dinner was prepared and served by the mothers.

'Stooped Posture' Created by Burden

U.S. Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Nebr.) said Wednesday he appreciated both the humor and the truth contained in a "letter to the editor" recently written by a midwestern housewife to her local newspaper.

The housewife wrote: "Our doctors are worrying about the 'stooped posture' of Americans."

She suggested, as a remedy that Americans be relieved of the burden of 4.5 billion requested this year for long-term foreign aid.

This, the housewife believes, might take some of the burden off American backs and permit them to straighten their posture.

Curtis predicted congressional disapproval of long-term foreign aid commitments and cited, as formidable foes, the expressed opposition of Senate Minority Leader William F. Knowland and Senate Armed Services Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell of Georgia.

Technicolor and Vista Vision. This story has Crosby ending a long run as the star of a Broadway hit, going off to Europe after agreeing to have O'Connor, young TV star, as his partner in a new show. Each goes abroad, where Crosby in London sees and signs as leading lady Miss Gaynor, while O'Connor, in Paris, does likewise with Jeannette. They meet in Paris. The facts come out, and the trip home mixes, most happily, song, dance, romance and comedy until the Crosby-Jeanette-maire - O'Connor - Miss Gaynor, combinations pair off happily.
