

Elmer Allyn Heads Holt SCS Supervisors

The Holt soil conservation district supervisors met in regular session last week. Present at the meeting were Merwyn French, Elmer Juracek, Clarence Ernst, Harvey Krugman (newly-elected member) A. Neil Dawes, county agent, and C. R. Hill, unit conservationist.

The board was reorganized with the following officers elected: Elmer Allyn of Stuart, chairman; Clarence Ernst of O'Neill, vice-chairman; and Elmer Juracek of Star, secretary-treasurer.

Final arrangements were made for a countywide meeting of clergymen to be held on Monday, April 16, at 10 a.m., in O'Neill. This meeting will be open to the public and anyone interested is urged to attend. Special invitations are being given to all the clergy and one layman from each church.

The morning will be devoted to viewing a tree-planter in operation, inspecting some terraces and waterways, see an established shelterbelt and a native pasture that was seeded several years ago. The noon meal will feature movies, short talks and general discussion.

Anyone desiring to attend should contact the local SCD office and make meal reservations. The district supervisors are endeavoring to contact every church group in the county. If a church group is not contacted, it will be because of oversight and a contact from that group will be appreciated.

The purpose of this meeting is to better acquaint church people with the work of the soil conservation district, soil conservation service and to encourage them to observe soil stewardship week, May 6-13.

Electric Wiring Talk Is Heard

The fifth regular meeting of the Grattan Flats 4-H club was held at the Roy Wayman home. The meeting was called to order by Morris Pongratz. All members were present. Roll call was answered by each member by giving an idea for future roll calls.

Richard Ernst gave a talk on electric wiring. He told us how to find a short or an overload. Douglas Fredrich gave a demonstration on applying a tourniquet. Our leader, Mrs. Homer Ernst, demonstrated what to do for a baby that is smothering or drowning.

The stocker-feeder leaders, Leonard Lorenz and Fritz Brockman discussed with us the points to keep in mind when selecting calves. Barbara Wawman and Velda Ernst played two piano duets: "Under the Double Eagle" and "Short'nin Bread".

The next meeting will be at Fritz Brockman's April 16.—By Connie Jean Brockman, news-reporter.
