

Propose $80,000 School Building

The main building, which is 40-years-old, is regarded as still in good shape.
"The present building is overflowing and we are in danger of losing accreditation if something isn't done," Mr. Nelson said. The board has been aware of the "bulge" for a number of years, he said, and "has been studying the construction problem carefully and very thoroughly since last September."

Members of the board, besides Lohaus, are F. N. Cronin, Elgin Ray, H. L. Lindberg, Ira H. Moss and Mrs. Loretta Hynes.

An average of 25 pupils per room is recommended and desired, Mr. Nelson stated and 35 is the absolute maximum.

Walls of the new building, designed by a Norfolk architectural firm, would be brick and tile. The corridors will be glazed tile and the floors asphalt tile laid on a cement base. There would be glazed tile in each classroom.

The present heating plant is expected to be able to accommodate the new building, which will feature four 26x32 classrooms, lavatories, storage and corridors.

A bonding company representative explained how the proposal could be financed through a bond issue. The group of 25 agreed that something will have to be done to alleviate the overcrowded classrooms. Mr. Nelson said the future planning included three classrooms for each two grades throughout the elementary school. For example, a first grade room and a second grade room and a third room for a combination first and second grade.

Weekly Market Report

The Atkinson Livestock Market

Atkinson, Nebraska

Tuesday, April 13th, Auction

Cattle receipts totaled 606 head. Action on all classes was good, very few large consignments were present but buyers put smaller bunches together and this made for a very active market.

Most classes sold steady with our sale of last week although it was a rather uneven market. Good to choice light yearlings, 350 to 450 lbs., were selling from $19.00 to $21.50 with only a few sales above the latter price. Steers grading below good mainly $17.00 to $18.50 cwt. In heifer sales about the same story, the good kinds $16.50 to $17.25, plainer kinds $15.00 to $16.25 cwt.

There weren't many heavy cattle on sale, 28 head of 605 lb. steers brought $19.05, a smaller draft of 665 lb. kinds at $19.00 cwt.

There were only a few breeding cows present, not enough to establish a market; some suckling calves sold from $16.00 to $32.00 per head. The canners and cutters were about 50 cents a hundred lower, mainly $8.00 to $9.25; better beef kinds fully steady, $9.75 to $12.00 cwt. A few fleshy butcher heifers and heiferettes on up to $14.80. Good hologna bulls $12.50 to $13.75 cwt.

Special Spring Sale will be held April 20th. This is a heavily advertised sale. We're expecting around 1800 head. We could use a few more consignments, action this week was most favorable. Phone in your listing today—Phone 5141.
