It Happened In NEBRASKA...

Many a tenderfoot graduated to hardened "cowpoke" while making the "long drive" from Texas to Ogallala. This was the famous Chisholm Trail! Because Nebraska boasted the only railroad to the East, Texas longhorns were driven all this way for shipment to the higher-paying markets.

How surprised these rough-living cowboys would be at today's quiet, law-abiding taverns! Nebraska taverns enjoy higher standards today than ever before. It's a business respected by all!

Mother-Daughter Tea at Chambers

CHAMBERS — The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met in the parlors last Thursday afternoon for the mother-daughter tea with Mrs. C. V. Robertson and Mrs. Elwyn Robertson as hostesses. Several other ladies assisted.

The serving table and card tables were decorated with baskets of spring flowers. A program was presented during the lunch hour with Mrs. E. R. Carpenter giving the welcome and a poem, "Our Mothers." Mrs. Charles Grimes gave "My Mother."

A tribute to daughters was given by Mrs. Raymond Beed. Mrs. Bernard Hoffman favored the group with a solo with Mrs. Elwyn Robertson at the piano. "Those We Love the Best" was given by Mrs. Ned Alderson and Mrs. Clair Grimes read the poem, "God Be Kind to Mother." Several hymns were played at the close. A lunch was served by the hostesses. Mrs. C. V. Robertson and Mrs. E. R. Carpenter poured. An offering was taken.

Other Chambers News

A/2c Burl Young, accompanied by Marilyn Walter, drove to Omaha Friday. The former returned Friday night, bringing Miss Shirley Kirwin of Omaha with him for a weekend visit. Miss Walter remained to visit friends and relatives there. On Sunday, Mr. Young and Miss Kirwin left to return to Omaha. He returned home Monday. Marilyn Walter accompanied him home. He reported storm damage and road condition "terribly bad" as far as Neligh on the way to Omaha.

Sunday dinner guests in the Charles Spann home were Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Robertson and family of O'Neill, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Robertson and family of Chambers.

Sunday dinner guests in the Lloyd Wintermote home were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thorin and son, Pfc. Charles Thorin. Supper guests were the above and Mr. and Mrs. Duane K. Miller and in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Everette Wintermote and boys and Joyce Wintermote were present. Private Thorin arrived home recently from Korea where he spent a year. He will have 29 days with his parents and is awaiting orders as to where he will report for duty following his furlough.

Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Hansberry spent from Sunday evening, April 25, until last Thursday at Ong.

Leo Adams of Grand Island was a Chambers visitor Monday.

31 Demonstration Clubs in County

By MRS. HELEN KREYMBORG Holt County Home Agent

Home demonstration work (or home extension work as it is known in Nebraska) is an educational program for homemakers. It is designed to bring information about foods, nutrition, health, safety, clothing, housing, home furnishings, home equipment and management, child development, family relationship, and home and community recreation.

This program is carried on co-operatively by the United States department of agriculture. The college of agriculture of the University of Nebraska, and the county extension organization. These three groups share in the planning, financing and administration of the extension program.

Home extension clubs (there are now 31 in Holt county) are groups of women who organize themselves together to develop an educational program for themselves. They send leaders to training meetings conducted by the home extension agents or specialists. The leaders are expected to bring the lesson back to the club members. Clubs may also work as a community improvement organization.

The presidents of the clubs form a council which plans the work based on the homemakers' needs and interests.

All clubs have the same subject matter demonstration lessons. These are selected to best meet the needs of the majority of club members in the county.

All homemakers are urged to avail themselves of the educational help of the extension service. They are invited to attend county workshops, tours and meetings which are held on such topics as home freezing of foods, family finances, children's clothing, lighting in the home, landscaping and many others. The home agent is available for individual conferences and publications are available through the office of the extension service.

The current lesson is on family recreation and will be given in O'Neill today (Thursday) at 1:30 p.m., and again at 7:30 p.m., at my home. It will also be given in Atkinson Friday, May 7, at 1:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. J. B. Mellor.

Anyone who is interested is invited to attend these meetings.

The Frontier Woman... Suggests Improving 'Thank-You's'

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE

If your plans for flower gardening didn't quite pan out this year—because of the unseasonal snow and cold or for some other reason—you can still go to a florist or greenhouse and purchase plants that will make early flowers for you.

Buy some of the petunia plants—the ruffled ones—and some of the balcony petunias. A half-dozen ruffled ones will give you untold beauty, and balcony petunias spread and spread until they have dozens of blossoms on one plant.

Pansies will give you a lot of pleasure and blossoms if you keep them picked. If you have a shady spot and don't know what to put in it, buy some of the pansy plants and keep them picked. You'll always have a bowl of flowers all summer long if you keep them watered and fertilized a bit. Pansies are heavy feeders.

It is still not too late to plant gladioli. A row in your garden would give you a lot of pleasure later on when many other flowers are not in bloom. You can still plant zinnias, marigolds and most of the flowering annuals if you hurry. They won't be quite as early but they'll still have a good blooming season.

Five lilies you can plant in May are rubrum, nankeen, eslate, Formosa and goldband. The goldband lily is also known as auratum. We're trying a couple of those this year to see how they turn out.

If you have never had any day lilies, you can't go wrong on those. I don't mean the old-fashioned orange type, or the one they used to call lemon lily, but the many new kinds of day lilies in many shades of yellow and orange, pink and rose, maroons and brown.

There is plenty of time to set out chrysanthemums. For early bloom, clumps should be divided and reset as soon as active growth starts in the spring, but before much elongation of the new shoot occurs. So chrysanthemums can be a lot of work. Your county agent can probably send you a bulletin, number 1273 ("Chrysanthemum Culture in Nebraska") that will be helpful.

And now a recipe: REFRIGERATOR ICE CREAM Three-fourths cup sugar, 1/4 cup white syrup, four egg yolks, a pinch of salt, vanilla to taste. Beat well and add two cups cream and two cups milk. This makes two trays, and after it has frozen once, chop it into very small pieces and add two of the egg whites (unbeaten). Then beat the whole mixture well and return to freezer unit. This is almost like the ice cream we used to make in the hand crank freezer.

NOTICE

Individuals interested in bidding on the job of turning and screening CCC-owned corn in storage at the Page and O'Neill binsites are asked to contact the Holt County ASC Committee at O'Neill. There are approximately 75,000 bushels to be handled in the combined operation.

Without a doubt, it takes extra time and effort, not to mention money, to do something nice for people. Likewise, it takes time and effort to accept graciously.

In both instances it is well worth the time, effort and money when we can make it a joy for others to do for us or for them to receive it well. Shall we try to improve our "thank you" by making the giver glad he gave?

Little deeds of others, done with kindness true, make us glad the whole year through!
