1200 Top 4-H'ers To Attend Club Congress

These 4-H members, planning a group discussion with a leader, are typical of serious-minded 4-H'ers everywhere. Their capacity for leadership, well developed through local club organization, enables them to share responsibility for many of the educational events of the 4-H Congress.

THE Nation's top 4-H Club members, 1,200 strong, will be honored delegates to the 33rd National 4-H Congress in Chicago, November 28-December 2, 1954.

Most of the all-expense trips to the Congress for the state, sectional and national winners are provided through the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, a citizens group which has been helping 4-H work 33 years.

In 1954, a record year, the Committee spent $1,000,000 to help the Cooperative Extension Service further the influence and membership of the 4-H Club program.

Grants from private sources are used for merit awards such as trips, medals, scholarships, savings bonds and leader training. Among the corporations and foundations providing grants are Allis-Chalmers, American Forest Products Industries, Carnation Co., Chicago Board of Trade, Coats and Clark, Inc., Cudahy Packing, Elgin Watch Co., Ford Motor Co. and Ford Tractor and Implement Division, General Motors, Hercules Powder, International Harvester, Kellogg Co., Kelvinator, Kerr Glass, Massey Harris, Montgomery Ward, Agricultural Chemicals Division of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Sears-Roebuck Foundation, Simplicity Pattern, Standard Brands, Toni Co., United States Rubber, Westinghouse Educational Foundation, and Wm.

Wrigley Jr. Co. and Gene Autry. Railroads cooperating include Burlington, Illinois Central, North Western, Rock Island, Milwaukee, and Santa Fe.

Nine oil companies collaborate in the program, including American Oil, General Petroleum, Pan-Am Southern, Pure Oil, Standard Oil Foundation, Inc. (Chicago), Standard Oil Co. (Kentucky), The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio), Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. and Utah Oil Refining Co.

Individual donors include The President of the United States, Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Thomas E. Wilson, Edward Foss Wilson, and Conrad Hilton.

"A modern farmer, to be successful, must be an economist, engineer, mechanic, chemist, biologist, as well as a practical person with a love of the soil and growing plants and animals," points out G. L. Noble, director of the National Committee.

"Likewise, today's homemaker must be a nutritionist, interior decorator, textile specialist, horticulturist, and an operating engineer if her home is to be modern and efficient, and her family healthy, happy and well dressed. 4-H Club members, by training in agriculture and homemaking, are ready to engage in a practical and profitable farm and home life.

"Too, each 4-H Club is a tiny democracy, and club members, trained in the operation of the club, are potentially our most solid citizens of the future. For these reasons, 4-H is receiving wide-spread support from many organizations and civic leaders."
